Clive Proves Lacombe Squad In Pony Baseball

Clive scored a narrow 5-1 win over the Red Deer midget "A" team in order to move to within two points of Lacombe in the central Alberta pony grad baseball league.

Winning pitcher was Ken Jenkins, who held Red Deer powerless until the sixth inning By this time, his team mates had added a run in the fifth to a singleton in the fourth . . . and that was enough for the win.

The Lacombe Stettler game, scheduled for the same day, was postponed because of the Stettler stampede.

Welcome To Call Lake

THE 1965 town, The Globe is extended a welcome within the boundaries and district limits of town to the new residents of the Call Lake development. We hope that they will be residents of Call Lake for many years to come and that they will find it a pleasant place to live.

We welcome to Call Lake, one of the first of the new residents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith, who have purchased one of the lots and have built a home on it. Mr. Smith is employed at Call Lake Motors and his family intends to establish their home here. We hope that they will find it a pleasant place to live.

New Electoral Districts

THE proposed new federal electoral districts for the province of Alberta are probably to be approved by parliament during the present session. The new boundaries are already four years out of date, based on the 1961 census, and they haven't been changed since 1952.

Biggest criticism has centered on the new Stony Mountain district, which includes Banff, Canmore, Exshaw, Lake Louise, Morley and Seebe. The new district will be an elongated strip from the Alberta-B.C. border to the U.S. boundary — a distance of 400 miles. This will be a district with no industry, no city much to represent, but the population is sparse over a great area.

Alberta gains two seats from 17 to 19. To eliminate the great disparity between populations, provincial boundaries have been redrawn in the 3 electoral districts from 17 to 19.

Closer home, the re-distribution creates quite a bit to residents of this area. Lacombe and Ponoka will be in the same district, and the rest of the Red Deer constituency, instead of Wetaskiwin as in the past. Voters in the east part of the district around Two Hills will vote in the Athabasca-Redwater riding, away from Wetaskiwin.

It looks like the next federal election will take place on the new electoral district boundaries, which is only right and proper.

These Motorcycles

INCREASING popularity of motorcycles and power-driven bicycles has posed a new and difficult traffic problem in towns and cities, and on the highways.

The reason for the high fatality rate among motorcycle riders is almost voluntary. Most of the machines are normally very young. They are inexperienced in many traffic situations, and short on experience to cope with emergencies.

It is therefore good to see the provincial government recognize the dangers and introductory legislation as of July 1 to curb drivers of these vehicles.

Anyone between the ages 14 and 16 operating a powered two-wheeler must use a governor restricting the speed to 30 m.p.h. Persons 16 and over, 35 m.p.h. Penalty: $1 to $50 for all drivers to wear helmets.

The law doesn't go far enough. It is not unusual to see children less than 10 years driving a motorcycle. However, even some big operators is better than none.

On Becoming A Nation

CANADA has observed its 98th birthday, and in could be reported from a reasonably good state of health. There was no evidence of any special spirit of patriotism or fervor, observing An Hon. John Richardson, minister of citizenship and immigration, stated at a Dominion Day dinner: "We have been accused, and to think of ourselves as 'going people' without a definite and much colour."

Canadians generally seemed to be more interested in celebrating a holiday on July 1, rather than celebrating the meaning of that day.

Yet there is hope that the historical events of recent times are tending to strengthen this great nation of ours. We became a united dominion on July 1, 1867, without a battle, and without fire-lighting orators and fiery-tongued agitators. Canadians did things quietly even then, with a lack of national fervor.

We have never cultivated strong national loyalties in the country, because we have never had to. We have needed no revolution to fight for our rights. We have few heroes to immortalize.

The recent stresses and strains of the separatist movement in Quebec shocked Canadians from Atlantic to Pacific longtime, an interest quickened on the eve of the 100th birthday of our confederation.

While the great division were disheartening, the re-affirmation of the French position (in no uncertain terms) was probably a good thing. It has shaken us out of our complacency. Canada is proud to be a bi-lingual country, and this special condition in itself gives the nation a definite problems and solutions.

As Mr. Richardson says in his speech, "In Canada today there is a change in attitude . . . a change that transcends the nationality of the nation, the establishment of the Canadian fact."

Reflections of the Times . . .

The Problem of Over-Organizing

For a community of its size, Mecca has a surplus of organizations. We are not saying that each one of them is not worthwhile, and that objects in every case are commendable. However, the very existence of so many clubs, fraternities, associations and social organizations is actually becoming a burdensome rather than a help.

Bob Finnerty, chairman of the recreation commission, again reminded us of this situation when he pointed out that it is becoming almost impossible to call a meeting of any nature any night of the week and expect to have a full attendance, of either executive or the membership at large. We have noted this ourselves and remember that on several evenings on a week there have been four sometimes five and six meetings, entertainments or social functions all on the same night. Obviously each did not receive the patronage or interest coming to them, and consequently many of them are struggling along valiantly trying to "keep alive" under tremendous odds against them.

An example of what we mean is cited in the case of the Board of Trade. With a paid up membership of 60, it is being likened to say that only about twenty members, even less at times are actually playing an active role in the Board's activities. One of the reasons is that these members belong to or support many other endeavors, and their patronage and efforts are being "spread too thin."

Organization is alright as its place . . . however it is detrimental if overdone and the good intentions of all are frustrated.

GREEN ACRES

by Walter Mallory Agricultural Director

Hay Silks Encouraged

Many of you farmers and ranchers, and others who have been well acquainted with Miss George Hayes, our stenographer for the past three years, will be surprised to learn that she has left our office to work on the farm operations branch of the Alberta department of agriculture in Edmonton. I am sure you will join with us in wishing her well in her new position.

Miss Marilynne Grimson has now joined our staff, taking Miss Hayes' place.

Marilynne the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Grimson of Sylvan Lake, has just graduated from the commercial course at the Olds agricultural and vocational college. She was the top student in her class. She expects all the "proficiency in commercial" award, and was valedictorian last the 1965 graduating class. Coming to us with a good farm background and an excellent commercial training in office work, I am sure Marilynne will be an asset to our office.

Hay Silks Problems

If you notice that some of your trees on your shelterbelt seem to be damaged by disease or insect injury I wish you would find out home.

Gordon Smith, an expert on forest diseases and insect damage, will be in the district shortly to examine shelterbelts where there are disease and insect problems. If we know where problems are, we can direct this to them.

Bowden Soils Field Day

The annual Bowden soils field day will be held at the university farm of Alberta soils plots at Bowden on Friday July 9 at 1:00 p.m.

Anyone farming grey wooded or "gray" soils would be well-advised to attend. Outstanding practices, fertilizer use and generally management on this type of soil will be discussed.

Golf Tournament Next July 10—11

A big entry of golfers, perhaps exceeding last year's 68, is expected for the men's two-day open tournament to be held over the pretty 18-hole Lacombe country sport Saturday and Sunday, July 10-11.

The dates represent a departure from past years, since the tournament has always been held on a Sunday and Monday. It is hoped that the advance of one day for the Saturday Sunday week end will make it easier for more golfers to participate.

The course is an exceptionally fine one for golfers of both early-summer rates. In fact it has never looked better.

Local golfers are encouraged to complete their 18 hole qualifying rounds early (except those in the championship flight).

Visitors should arrange to tee off prior to 2:00 p.m. on Saturday. Following 18 holes of qualifying, players will be divided into flights for match play (nine hole matches). All final games into Sunday are to be 18 holes.

Tournament is open to all men golfers, 18 years and over, and a cordial welcome is extended to all.

Anglican Church Anniversary Observed at Mirror

MIRROR — The unwavering worship for Trees recently paved the faithful and daily truth of parliamentary, together hours, services and pays — what a meeting story it all is — and what it has meant for the parish and beyond.

"For the sad and much sorry we do say we thank Thee heartfelt thanks. We pray for lives obedient to the will and for His continued blessing on all. It is a day of thanksgiving and of joy."

So spoke the Rev. Dr. John Stirrett of Vancouver, the special guest speaker and former rector of St. Mennas's. A congregation of over 200 took part in the celebration of the holy communion which marked the 70th anniversary of St. Mennas's Anglican church at Mirror on Sunday June 27 which was followed by a banquet and program. The service conducted in the original little church built in 1925 before Mirror Alta at Rainbow Lake being could not accommodate the entire congregation.

The overflow took part in the rectory south of the church, to which the guest were transported by a public address system.

The Rector of Lacombe parish (Alta. Mirror, Bentley) the Rev. Harry Hewitt, of Mechanic was celebrated assisted by the Rev Lee B. Thurston, rural dean of Red Deer, and rector of St. Cyprian's church, Lacombe.

The banquet following the service was held in the Mirror community hall with rector of ceremonies, R. W. Best, toy master and Bentley's warden of St. Peter's, Bentley. Mr. Best pointed out that it was the loyalty and devotion of those in the past who made possible the beginning and continuance of the work of the church.

A three-tiered cake, topped by a little white church, was made by Mrs. Thelma Clarke, and decorated by Mrs. Mabel Hargrave.

After words of welcome and greetings from the rector's warden, V. E. Thompson, people's warden W. A. Lasley and Rev. L. B. Thurston, a historical address by the rector of the diocese and deanery.

Congratulations were brought by S. L. Reed, people's warden of St Peter's, Bashaw and N. H. Partby, a vestryman of St. Peters, Alta. Mr Purdy related some amusing anecdotes and incidents connected with St. Mennas's. His father and uncle had had a part in the building of the 70-year-old church.

Rapeseed Varieties Tested in District

Aids to Soils expressed one the two varieties tested in the district this year by the Lacombe experimental farm. The following account on the subject is reprinted from the 1964 Research Station booklet.

Rapeseed has become a popular, good yielding cash crop in central Alberta. Since 1956 a continuous program of variety-evaluation has been carried out at the Lacombe experimental farm. There are two distinct types of rapeseed varieties, namely (2) the Argentine type (species Brassica napus) and those of the Polish type (species Brassica campestris).

Argentine type varieties (Golden, Regent, Tenkai) require 14 to 30 days more to mature than Polish type varieties (Arlo, Erka) in the nine years of rapeseed testing at Lacombe. The Argentine types were frozen before they matured on two occasions 1962 and 1964.

Frozen rapeseed has a low oil content and is of limited value. It is apparent therefore that growers in central Alberta should grow either Arlo or Echo rapeseed.

Rapeseed should be grown on clean land because herbicides cannot be applied to control of this crop. Spray drifts can also be a serious hazard to rapeseed and farmers should be extremely cautious when spraying other crops in the vicinity of rape.

During 1964 a further trial of early maturing soybeans was conducted in the hope that short grow season yields were not satisfactory.

Cottage Cheese Survey

Consumers are now consuming three times as much cottage cheese as they did in 1952. The information comes to us from the Canadian dairy foods service bureau. Your round this general promotes the use of dairy products. Even in the month not noted for dairy month, let's have a look at one dairy product, cottage cheese.

All cottage cheese is made from pasteurized skim milk, two types are available — dry and creamed As the name implies, creamed cottage cheese has cream added, giving it a fat content of about 4% There are 60 calories in a quarter cup cream. of cottage cheese. In a quarter cup of dry cottage cheese, there are 30 calories.

Unlike most cheese, cottage cheese doesn't improve with age. Serve it fresh and plan to use it within two or three days of purchase. Always store it in the refrigerator, and like Bonnie Prince Charlie, don't make it cough!

Don't Buy After Dating

A short walk after a hearty meal is better than a nap when it comes to a fast, basic study, according to Dr. Gaylord Volk, director of Humboldt's personnel medical school in Tennessee.

He pointed out that body chyle — the substance during digestion — can accumulate in the blood if you don't during a couple hours right after swallowing a meal hearty meal. Any sudden move that has required a new and enough chyle into the blood stream to cause it all accumulated and block a vital artery (Dr. Medical Blood Catechism nutrition) stroke.

Okay Teacher Salary Scale

Final agreement on the teachers' salary schedule, including all supplementary clauses, was reached at the end of June by negotiating teams representing the local ATA and Lacombe county officials' committee.

Committee members at their meeting on Thursday of last week were asked to pass a resolution approving the new schedule which had already been approved by the teachers.

Increases in the salary grid published previously by The Globe) will cost the taxpayer an estimated $15,000.

One of the changes in the grants allows the principal $150 extra for each of six teachers under his supervision, and $600 extra for each of the next six teachers.

Formerly, a principal received $450 for each of 12 teachers under his supervision.

The new formula reduces the principal to a small degree but is considered well over the country "about $600" in comparison to similar positions in Art Wigmore.

The compensations leaves all allowances which were applied for more detail in the new agreement. Two serious deals with time off for teachers from the classroom, for special reasons like the death of a close relative.

He gave the baptismal address. Friday evening to a company numbering gathered at Camp Conference for the opening of their annual camp meeting.

Camp meeting, held annually here in mid-summer, continued the theme of this week's activities of the camp committee, under the direction of Pastor Edwards, is "Lessons for today."

Pastor Edwards, in his opening address, stated that the early days of world history when recorded, instead of being stated, are on the point of being spoiled, we are challenged as individual Christians to heed the way in God's action and witnessing every day in truth and righteousness. The gospel message to our lives is good Samaritan service.

"A sense of urgency should possess us and should motivate us to double-quick action. We need all possible resources during the past but, realistically, grasp present opportunities now."

Mr. Edwards stated that we are confronted with life's two important questions: "What is my relationship with God and does living in touch with people. Then he said, "Religion is not an opinion about God but is an experience with God."

Eight Teams Selected For Lions Ball Tourney

Lacombe Lions 10th annual baseball tournament which opens two weeks from today — features the finest array of senior baseball talent in western Canada.

Town selection committee chairman Fred Stewart announced over the week end that all eight teams have now been accepted for tournament play. They are

- Kamloops (B.C.) Lelands, winner of last year's first place prize of $1,100 who have strengthened considerably in pitching.
- North Battleford Beavers currently leading the northern Saskatchewan baseball league. The Beavers showed well last year before fading in the semi-finals.
- Blue Willow Angels from the Edmonton Metro league. The Angels are leading the city league and will pack up replacements to strengthen for the tour nament.
- Kinsberley Klippers stand good chance of second spot in the northern Saskatchewan baseball league.
- St. John's (Wash.) Islanders always a powerful team. The classy Islanders who haul from next-west side Spokane have the reputation of last of teams before packing a tournament team to head north.
- Vernon, Shamrocks, with a large number of former Grande Prairie players at their home, will add class.
- Central Alberta Red Sox will be a truly central Alberta team. While the backbone of the team will come from Drumheller, spotted through the lineup will be players from Lacombe, Red Deer, Ponoka and Stettler.
- Vernon (B.C.) Lockies, who are giving Kamloops heavy opposition in the Okanagan league.

Total prize money for the tournament is $4,500, with $1,100 going to the winner and $700 to the runner-up.

Reserved seat tickets are now on sale at Moore's Jewellers, Lacombe.

Game times for the first day are 9:00 a.m., 11:45 a.m., 2:30 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. On the second day the first game will start at 11:00 a.m., the second at 2:00 p.m. and the final at 8:00 p.m.

Contributions to this fund will be received by Glen Reeve at the Reeve Sundries or by Mrs. E. Bentley. Those wishing to pay tribut to deceased relatives and friends are asked to consider contributing to this fund as it will be used to defray cost of having cemetery maintained Anyone who was not able to do as at the time of the tea may add their assistance at any time.

Bentley Park

Compliments to the gentleman who made such a nice job of trimming the hedge and cleaning up the park at the Rebekah hall That little park is such a pretty spot for a playground that one wonders why there isn't more public interest in keeping it this way rather than dumping in empty cartons, paper bags, etc

The kitchen and grounds around it have also received an upgrade treatment from the village maintenance staff. Now let's hope that the users will co-operate to keep it in good conditions for the benefit of the campers.

Bentley Shows Interest in Schools

A letter from the council of "to help reduce the student drop-[illegible] college of Bentley "enter with out." assistaction" the efforts of the county education committee to establish a vocational high school more reflected an interest in school affairs on the part of the Bentley council

The letter written by village secretary-Treasurer Claude Bumstead Bentley loses 6-3. Blue going boys'

The council expressed concern at the high rate of teacher turnover which has been particularly heavy in Bentley this year)

The letter claimed that the excellent reputation the Leamebe school area enjoyed around the province "about seven years ago" seems to be gone now

The village council requested assurance that the academic high school at Bentley would not be changed in the foreseeable future (Committee will reply that its policy is not to change any country school that is economically viable)

Council "heard rumors" that the barnary student program to encourage more teachers was being discontinued, which did not seem wise in view of the teacher shortage (Committee will reassure village council that the rumor is false, and 15 bursary students will be given assistance by Leamebe county this year)

The intent of the letter was to give support to the school committee, members noted with satisfaction, and it will be acknowledged with thanks.

Because wet weather of the past few weeks seriously interfered with the annual west clip among district sheep herds

Clive Landscapes Being Judged

CLIVE — Several holes from Lacombe have been in Clive judging the gardens, landscaping, etc for the chamber of commerce Contest for home beautification. Final judging will take place later in the summer When driving, in and around the village one is pleased to see so many lovely well cared for gardens.

The grounds of Mr and Mrs H H McCormack are beautiful and compare very favorably with homes in the large cities They have converted their grounds into a truly delightful spot Where once a big slough stood is now an excellent grass plot, with beautiful trees

Another beauty spot is the home and [illegible] of Mr. and Mrs. Orlesh They purchased a small house and a neglected overgrown weedy lot, and converted it into a lovely spot.

Several widows in town have also worked hard growing beautiful gardens and lawns to brighten their homes. With a few undesirable weeds removed Mrs. Clive could really become a beautiful little village It is in an ideal setting of trees

The vacant lots at present have a good start on quack grass and weeds The grass is now plenty 4 feet but high and is a nuisance to those who work hard to keep it down spreading to their gardens. When dry in the fall this grass a fire hazard.

Mr and Mrs Ernest Westling of Calgary were week-end visitors to the home of Mrs Helen Westling recently.

The recent heavy rains gave the Medicine Hat districts a good soaking, contrasting with conditions usually found there It was learned when C Harvey of Medicine Hat was speaking via the telephone to his brother J H Harvey of Clive, that after the rain a friend had gone out one evening and picked 40 lbs of fine mushrooms near the chemical fertilizer plant M C. Harvey was enjoying some with his supper

Tuesday evening's closely miss turned to rain during the night and heavy rain fell Wednesday July 7 after a nice spell of warm sunny weather Vegetation grew so quickly one could almost hear it growing.

Mr. and Mrs. O Westling of Lacombe were visitors at the home of Mr. Both Westling on Tuesday.

Congratulations to Jimlee Sonand and his parents. Mr and Mrs A L. Bennest on his breaking the record at Camp Borden with his javelin throw Jimlee already holds the provincial championship for javelin throwing and is an outstanding athlete.

Gophers and blackbirds seem most prevalent this year The former are in great numbers and are being highway exterminated while the latter feed on the gophers already killed. Even other gophers feed on the dead gophers

Mr and Mrs. J. H. Harvey drove to the International Airport at Hinton to say goodby to Mr and Mrs. J Morris of Billericay, England, who left on Thursday to return to England, after having spent a month in Canada. Most of the month was spent with their daughter and son-in-law and family, in Edmonton, Mr and Mrs. J Holmes.

On Wednesday evening a "Bon voyage" get together was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Forster for Mr. and Mrs. J. Morris.

Mr and Mrs. J. H Harvey were overnight guests at the home of Mr and Mrs Forster, having gone to Edmonton on Wednesday to spend the evening there.

Rain, rain and more Rain! Is getting serious for farmers, who have started haying The hay already cut is in danger of rotting Final judging will take place later in the summer When driving, in and around the village one is pleased to see so many lovely well cared for gardens.

Gardens are growing at present, but cucumbers, beans, and other vegetables which grow best under hot sun conditions are lacking the lush of warm weather As according to a long range weather forecast, July will be a cool wet month.

Not many days would be more than welcome and is also vitally important to farmers at this time.

Mrs W Cunningham and Margot of Winnipeg are visiting in Clive at the home of Mrs Cunningham's sister and brother-in-law, Mr and Mrs V G Darby

Rev and Mrs. R. J Wilson and boys will be in Clive on Sunday, July 18, to conduct services in the Baptist church Rev Wilson is a former minister of Clive. He later served as New Zealand and is now residing in Vancouver While here, they will be guests of Mr and Mrs D Rainforth Following the service on Sunday a picnic supper will be held at the Rainforth farm, weather permitting.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Peters and family of Edmonton were Sunday guests of the latter's parents, Mr and Mrs. V G Darby

Mr and Mrs Vern McCormack of Calgary were week-end guests at the home of the former's parents, Mrs. R. McCormack They were visited with Mr and Mrs. W Beaton.

Miss Margaret Cole returned to Calgary Sunday night with Dr McCuaig after spending the week end with her parents Mr. and Mrs J Cole

Mr and Mrs. Marcelle Du Hamelle of North Surrey, B.C. visited with Mrs Du Hamelle's aunt, Mrs Beth Westling, before going to Edmonton to visit friends for a few days on their honeymoon.

Week end visitors with Mrs Beth Westling were Mr. and Mrs. R. Reyter of Edmonton

Dr John McCuaig and sons Michael and Peter of Ancaster, Ontario returned home Monday after a ten-day visit with his cousin. Mrs. J F Cole. Mr Cole and family While here, they attended a family reunion in Stettler, the Calgary Stampede and a trail ride at Gladys, B.C.

Of interest to Clive and district residents is the news of the former Baxter resident, Mr J H Wetterman and Mrs. Wetterman now residing in Edmonton, who left by air to England recently The air trip is a gift from their family Mr and Mrs. Wetterman will visit in the old country for a month with relatives.

Total inches of rain in Clive and surrounding district from April 1 to July 9 has been 16.31

K Kovarsky and his brother, Frances returned Sunday after a twelve-day air trip to Kenora and Oklahoma They report a wonderful trip Mr Kovarsky and their guide were as bad at the Calgary airport, their flight to the latter was delayed and they had to spend the night at Rockyford and take the plane the following day.

Mr and Mrs W Calkins and family visited with Mrs. E Kosworthy recently

Mrs. Cora Grekwentzker of Blackfalds, Mrs. Sarah Schuler and Harry Foster of Calgary were in Clive over the week end and finished painting the exterior of Mrs. Rosa Grekwentzker's home which was in need of a fresh coat of paint.

Still 11 Teachers Short in Lacombe County Schools

Last of the teacher assignments were announced in the county schools recently and it was learned that there are still 11 vacancies at the outside county last week.

The following list was announced by assistant superintendent Gus Bruns:

Miss Joan Schaub of Clive, Miss Donna Pavel of Mirror, Miss Dorothy Hoffman of Clive, Mrs. M. Dutton of Lacombe, Miss Joan Vogel of Lacombe, Miss E. Gerwin of Stettler, Mrs. Connie of Lacombe, J. Larman of Bottrelle, Miss H. Bank of Lacombe, W. Dance of Rimbey, and Mrs. H. Forward of Rimbey.

At the same time Mr. Bruns asked the authority of the board to appoint the following assistant teachers:

A. J. Lefebvre, Mrs. Weckstedt, Mrs. E. Walker, Mrs. A. Anderson, Joyce Hyde, Mrs. Ann Mayo, J. H. Cousins, Mrs. H. Rowland, Miss C. Hasinger, Mrs. M. Cramer.

The committee expressed concern over the number of schools on which have not been filled, although the total of 18 this year out of a complement of 197 teachers is a "normal turnover", Mr. Bruns assured members.

Trustee member Jack Cochran of Lacombe said that teachers give better performance in the classroom when their minds are in the community and they are not jumping around from place to another.

For that reason, Mr. Cochran stated he would like to see a teaching staff here that was as permanent as possible.

Mr. Bruns stepped over the heads of some of the teachers who have resigned from Lacombe county schools, and in most cases "have good reasons" like to be nearing to university for further studies.

Mr. Bruns said the county is short 11 teachers for the 1965-66 term.

CLIVE — Storm clouds in the north-west were in the air for Clive residents on Thursday night, with a very definite appearance of a thunderstorm. It developed from the south-west. It was a very heavy storm.
For the first time very hail fell and gave farmers a chance to gather hay. The hay crop is estimated this year what 75 per cent above 7:15 p.m. on an electric storm passed through. Still heavier rain fell during the evening while Mother Nature put on a super fireworks display.
Vegetable gardens in Clive and district are generally speaking fine and a long fall season along, there will be plenty of vegetables to be stored for winter use. They are late this year and require a long frost-free period to mature.
Mrs. McLeod has been a patient in the Lacombe hospital.
Friday was a day enjoyed by all. Both crops and children.
The white shining objects which have been sighted in the skies aren't in a planned invasion by Martians because the Royal Astronomer of Mars' confirmed these it isn't occupied by life as we know it.

In Memoriam
A truck filled with building material drove into Clive from Edmonton Friday morning. This in itself isn't unusual. What was unusual was that no one knew where it was for. Several people who planned to build this summer were asked if they were to have ordered the particular load of material, but before he left Edmonton, Where was the owner?

Family Reunion
The seven daughters of Mr. M. Shoemaker together with their husbands, children and grandchildren, held a family reunion at Gull Lake recently. Present were:
Mrs. M. Shoemaker of Clive, Mr. and Mrs. L. Wiebenberg (Thelma) and family of Lacombe, Mr. and Mrs. Roland (Lorelle) and family of Edmonton, Mrs. Seeger (Marjorie) and family of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon (Vera) and family of Edmonton, Mrs. Ida and Mr. Nelson (Ethel) and family of Carmangay, Alta., Mr. and Mrs. Marshall (Shirley) and family of Kelowna, B.C. Mr. and Mrs. C. Shoemaker (Dorothy) and family Wabamun, Alta.
There were 45 present. Two of Mr. and Mrs. Shoemaker's sons were unable to attend. In any case the reunion was an enjoyable one, and there was plenty to talk about.
Visitors to the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Gould have been Mr. and Mrs. D. Browning of Carstairs and Mrs. Gould's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. Rutland of North Battleford. L. Grant is in Lacombe hospital and has been for some time, but he is improving very well, and is expected to be able to get out of bed in a day or so. Mr. Grant suffered a heart attack on the day of the Legion sports day and has been hospitalized ever since.
Mrs. E. Dillon is spending a vacation with her mother at Carstairs.

Adventists Complete Nine-Day Camp

Annual summer campmeeting sponsored by the Seventh-day Adventists opened at Camp Gilwell, starting at College Heights last Friday.
Daily attendance was estimated at at present 1,500 and youth and adult activities under Canadian and U.S. leaders.

PASTOR A. C. PEARSON

Pastor A. C. Pearson, president of the Alberta Conference, Adventists, was the speaker.
Within the last few years he has travelled to many of the evangelistic campaigns of the area and has visited remote districts where Seventh-day Adventist work has been established.
He said that in New Guinea, there are 30,000 Adventists many of whom have never been in contact with civilization. After contact is established, missionaries are ready to move in and bring Christ to the Christians.
When camp meetings are held, many of these natives will travel on foot 15 days to the services. Food for the trip and for their stay at the camp is arranged by their hosts.
If all people of the world were possessed with this kind of dedication it would be a better place in which to live, pastor Pearson said.

Centennial Bags Down

IT is time for town council to get off the floor and do something constructive about the centennial project.

Council started off on the right foot last year by appointing a committee to canvass the possibility of trying to raise funds on the local project for the community. The committee discharged that duty, and placed before council four possible projects in order of merit headed by a civic park.

This presentation was made during 1959. The committee was not authorized to proceed further, or did it has taken no action since.

Perhaps council has been a little intimidated by the committee's recommendations. In any event, town council has done nothing either.

This is in contrast with projects already approved by public and federal governments for centennial time.

Parliament has got along very well. We are good neighbors and good friends. We think alike. We have the same principles in any discussion of world affairs. We are proud of the U.S. Armed Forces and of the fact that all of them in the world today are on the same side. We are honored that one of these soldiers is the President of the United States.

However, being friends does not mean that we have to speak in agreement on all questions. A friend would not mean that he respected any of the other qualities like a friend.

Today's reasonable consideration may be made on some occasions when we believe in and adopt an extreme position at variance.

Canada need not fear retribution from the United States for adopting an opinion, announcing that opinion, and expressing whether it happens to be the American line of thought or not. Our country's world position demands honesty first. Even the U.S. wouldn't want it any other way.

Canada and Foreign Policy

A RECOMMENDATION that Canada should apply an embargo on rubber exports to American foreign policy will not sit well with most people on this side of the border.

In recent years we have been a special report from every member of the United Nations that Canada's moral public disagreement with the U.S. on critical world issues where this country has no special interests or responsibilities. The report was prepared by a former U.S. Assistant Secretary of State, Arnold Heeren, and by a U.S. ambassador in Ottawa in 1950-53 and 1961-62. Livingston Merchant.

If their views were to be carried out in practice, then Canada might just as well cease to have a foreign affairs office because it might not would have been said by the United States earlier.

Canada has very close and very special relations with the U.S.

How is Hail Formed

ALBERTA hail studies are being conducted at RCAF Station at Penhold, and weekly summaries of their findings are being sent to the press.

Their findings are based on reports from farmers and other interested citizens. Through questionnaires sent to the telephone. As a result, a comprehensive and collective analysis is available on the pattern and extent of hail storms.

For example, it was found that an area 15 miles east of Didsbury on Wednesday, July 7, according to a reason, likely up to hundredth was reported from places as far afield as Medicine Hat, Drumheller and near Lethbridge.

The formation of storm clouds and the pressures going on inside are subjects being studied. As stated in the last report, "These studies are only possible because the farmers co-operate by furnishing details of the time, place, size, intensity, and other important aspects of the hailfall."

Reflections of the Times . .

Company of Older Canadians

Liberal Whip James Walker came up with a mighty good idea when he suggested a "Company of Older Canadians" should be formed to take on tasks in underdeveloped countries of her they have worked.

Most people are not old at body and mind when they are compelled to retire at age 65, or at some standards, earlier as 55. When Mr Walker says there is a tremendous waste of human resources when a person retires at 65 or younger it has more truth in it than fiction.

The Company of Young Canadians, drawn mostly from university groups, may have the energy and an acquired knowledge, but this is about all they have.

The older people not only have the energy, which at this age is considerably less than they have the knowledge of experience acquired over the years and the knowledge is worth more than dollars.

How many men and even women would jump at an opportunity held as this to instil a foreign country by two years, something which they have no doubt dreamed of all their lives. Just because they have retired does not mean that the well has run dry, or that life is non-existent, and with some chrome on top doesn't mean the old battery is run down.

TO HEAT ARENA?

Possible installation of heating units in the Drumheller memorial arena is receiving considerable interest and city council agreed to look into the matter even further.

Two weeks ago, council received a proposition from a company proposing the installation of natural gas heaters. Alderman Duncan Bowyer, chairman of the parks committee, said it was very difficult to do anything at this time as an alteration in the city budget had been made. However, he went on to say, Canadian Utilities are now being asked for quantities on electric heaters.

DOGS POISONED

Posters advertising a reward for information leading to arrest and conviction of the person or persons poisoning dogs in High River have a $50 reward offered by the town of High River.

At least one citizen has come forward to duplicate this offer and others have expressed similar intentions.

The fear which is on the minds of all communitarians citizens is that poison intended for an animal may kill a child.

Analysis following one recent pet poisoning indicated the dog had eaten a patty of cooked meat. This meat contained sufficient strychnine to kill a man.

GREEN ACRES

By Walter McNary

Prizes in Pastures

Recently I was called out to investigate a pasture where a cow had died without any real cause except that there was a possibility of poison. An intensive search of the pasture showed that there were no poisonous weeds present. In fact there was no real evidence of any poisons in the pasture. However, I did find an old garbage dump.

Whenever you find a garbage dump there is a possibility of finding anything from batteries, paint cans, or other poisonous containers. Although pasture cows are hard to pin down it is always wise to keep cattle away from old dump sites.

Hoe Tree Lie

Persons wishing to plant trees next spring would be well advised to come in and fill out their orders now. The new list of trees available for next years planting has just been released and orders are now being taken. Many trees available are in limited supply so that farmers ordering trees early will get the best choice.

6-H Crop Variety Plots

At the present time we have three 4-H crop clubs in the county of Lacombe. They are the Clive, Spring Valley and Woody Nook clubs.

Each of the first year members doing them is a possibility of either getting one of batteries, paint cans, or other poisonous containers. Although pasture cows are hard to pin down it is always wise to keep cattle away from old dump sites.

Members are expected to keep their plots free of weeds and have their crop well labelled.

If you have the opportunity to see a 4-H crop club plot, it would give you a good chance to compare the different crop varieties.

Grace Jenkins Is Attractive Bride

St. Cyprians Anglican church in Lacombe was the scene of a lovely double-ring ceremony uniting in marriage Grace May Jenkins of Gull Lake and Leyle Reid Collins Bamiah of Lacombe, on June 29, 1968 at 2:00 p.m.

Big Public Works Program Proposed

Town's long-term programs to improve thoroughfares took another step forward on Monday night when council gave first reading to two public works by-laws involving more than $100,000.

One by law would provide for a borrowing of $55,000 to continue street sewer and water in 52 street, from there east along 52 avenue.

The proposed debenture would be repaid over 20 years with interest not exceeding 6 per cent and the necessary provisions are set at $4,304.55.

Another by law would provide for the construction of $45,000 in hard surfaced pavement and curbing on 52 street, from 50 avenue to 53 avenue.

Councillor Dave Reid, the head man is being built up, and this street revamping is being done in order to grade ready for gravelling. The same operations is going ahead on 52 street.

Duties instituted is being put on the area around 52 avenue behind the Christian Reformed church, "so we are killing two birds with one stone," Councillor Reid explained.

Supported business for another outdoor public telephone booth in front of the Tom-Boy Store was referred to committee.

Request from the Lacombe Model for a street light on the pole beside the hotel entrance will be fulfilled when the new street lighting program proceeds later in the year.

Here's Timely Advice For the Wise Man

Years ago, an unknown young author had his book accepted, and the publisher asked which he preferred, a hundred pounds for the copyright, or a royalty arrangement.

The young man chose the hundred pounds, but while the publisher went out to prepare the contract someone stopped and said, "I'd take the royalty if I were you."

Surveying around the author observed an elderly clerk, already back at his work. The author didn't take long to decide he went back into the publisher's office and settled for royalties.

The book, "King Solomon's Mines" by Henry Rider Haggard, became an all-time best-seller, and what that author lost the youngster out has dined to regret ever since.

Here here's a "bit of advice" you'll find worth heeding. The content, safest and surest way to avoid financial crisis and distress is to make regular deposits in a Bank of Montreal savings account. Then when unexpected "needs" or opportunity "wants" arise, you have the ready cash waiting for you. You'll be amazed at how handy it can be. EDITORIAL

Lacombe's Gas Price War

NOT too many Lacombe and district car owners are complaining about the gas price war which is on.

Early in May, a dime reduction set in at once gas dropped by the following day to 29.9 cents. By the time of publishing, by law to six cents a gallon, the price of gas had been reduced at 4,000 service stations in Alberta. The normal price is still one cent above Calgary.

Perhaps present rates can be maintained, but it won't leave the profit margins of the big oil companies and it will keep motorists' breakdown happy.

Beauty By The Highway

THE U.S. is considering construction of a second system of first-class highways for the more leisurely driver, according to an American writer.

Earl A. Digges writes in "Travel" magazine that motorists, on the national parks service, says roadside vistas are best appreciated on slow, unhurried highways. He says that not everything is plan, recommending the need for leisure-time motorists in travel.

Mr. Digges may have something. There are a few highways in this can result with pleasure the old curved roads that wound and twisted through forested mountains and side show spots afforded passengers the time and opportunity to enjoy the passing scenery.

Those sometimes between roads have given way to straight, modern highways — wide, straight, unencumbered by roadside attractions. But this is what the motorists has demanded. He wants to get places in a hurry in his high-powered automobile.

There's nothing really new in this realm of thought. Many people in B.C. and everything that is worth while seeing usually passes a little bit a little off the beaten track. Perhaps a few people want to enjoy nature on the way, and are willing to forego a few minutes of speed in favor of allowing a few more.

B.C. and Many Canada with its small population can afford unlimited speed highways.

People thinking it should and ought to ease car rule can still find enjoyment regardless of highways. Perhaps the answer is to provide parallel routes of varying speeds. For example, between Edmonton and Calgary there is now Highway 2 (known as No. 7 highway between Lacombe and Calgary) and 1A, the latter being the more leisurely path to Cochrane, Bragg Creek and Okotoks.

There are several wrinkles roads in the Province now like the Banff-Jasper run, and Kicking Horse Pass.

Reflections of the Times . .

Mrs. Irene Purdy

Students of politics in Alberta in the early 1970's will record with great respect the name of Mrs. Irene Purdy. She passed away in Red Deer July 12, at the grand old age of 97 years. At no other happens with the passing of time great people are forgotten, and so it was with Mrs. Purdy.

However a few years hence, she commanded a great deal of respect and admiration on the field of politics. She was the first lady of the Alberta Legislative Assembly, and the first lady in Alberta to serve in a cabinet post. Mrs. Purdy represented the Lethbridge constituency, and Lethbridge was more proud of her than any other section of the province. She was a true pioneer in every sense of the word, and her long and distinguished career was, we think, the forerunner of women participation on the field of politics. In July of Life

July could be compared to a man who is just past forty, and outlook of people in the business life is slipping away like in over the hump, on the downward slope and the question is: What happened to all the time that used to contain nobody to see, and all the interesting and unknown things he wanted to do?

So it is with July! Suddenly you are in half over, and most of the resolutions made away back in January are still just resolutions. Now it is six months later, time has gone on, but accomplishments seem to have stood still.

July has one advantage over being forty. Every summer month provides a breather in the form of a vacation, which enables people to get their sorted wind and get themselves for the remainder of the year. Smart people allow themselves ample time for taking their vacation to indulge in many personal thoughts about the months to come.

If their contemplations have been productive they'll be able to go back to work at the end of the vacation filled with all the ambition, enthusiasm and optimism with which most of them started the New Year.

People in their forties don't usually have that opportunity. Life at that time is at its busiest, and the chance to step off the merry-go-round and watch the others for awhile is not something most people in their forties can manage.

But there's one consolation. July and forty may be past for this year, but it's still a long time until December

The Lacombe GLOBE

Vol. LIX — No. 44 LACOMBE, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 4, 1965 PRICE — TEN CENTS

Green Light For School

Yesterday was the final day for ratepayers to raise objection to the proposed new $2,170,000 vocational-academic high school at Lacombe, since the project was first advertised over one month ago.

No petitions were received, county officials informed The Globe, and the way is now paved to proceed with plans for the new building.

Necessary forms were filled at the county office yesterday, and an application for a $971,000 debenture has been sent to the local authorities board for approval.

While the borrowing is for $971,000, all but an estimated $81,500 will be paid by the provincial government in the form of grants.

Another 1½ million dollars of the total construction cost will be covered under the federal-provincial vocation school act. This sum has already been approved.

Would-Be Thieves Apprehended at Store

Alert police work on the part of constable Dale Seabert thwarted the efforts of three young men from B.C. to rob the Red & White Store in Lacombe early last Wednesday morning.

While making a routine property check about 2:30 a.m., constable Seabert caught three persons in the store rear-handed after they had gained entry by smashing a window at the rear of the building.

He called police chief Orest Zelmer and store manager Dan Gillespie. Two of the men broke out the door, but they were apprehended again by 3:30 a.m.

Charged with breaking and entering, with intent to commit an indictable offence were:

James Michael Marie of Kelowna, Ross David Wm of Prince George.

In a 1960 Chevrolet, owned by Mr Marie, police found an estimated $600 worth of stolen merchandise.

Coleman camp stove, electric razors, and cigarettes and cigars were among the articles stolen from the Co-op Store in Cremona, and other breaking and entering.

All three due to appear in magistrate's court, Lacombe, yesterday for sentencing.

Boy Receives Lost Gold Ring in Gull Lake Waters

Here's an oddity that's ripe for Ripley's "believe it or not" column.

David Pullar, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pullar of Lacombe, was given a gold ring by his father last summer which he received years ago in the Yukon.

David lost the valuable ring swimming at Aspen Beach last June.

He was out having another swim at Gull Lake just Monday and jumped in the same ring which was lying on the sandbottom in two feet of water.

Considering the thousands of swimmers using the lake in the last six weeks, it's amazing that David should be the one to recover his own ring.

Three Accidents At Gull Lake

Three accidents on No. 12 highway by the village of Gull Lake were investigated by Lacombe police.

Last Saturday, at 9:00 p.m., a hit-and-run case involved Charles D. Adderson of Calgary in a 1959 Thunderbird. While making a left-turn off the highway into Wellner's store, his boat bumper was struck by another vehicle travelling in the same direction which kept on going.

Police are trying to check out the identity of the driver Dennis Ogle in the Thunderbird was $500.

On Monday of last week, a two-car collision occurred between two Volkswagens, a 1961 model driven by Miss Joyce Hilton of Bentley, and a 1959 model operated by John Pichorz of Port Saskatchewan.

The two about 5:00 p.m. on the turnoff into Bickling's Beach. Damages to each vehicle amounted to $475.

A third mishap was reported on July 16 at 1:15 p.m., near the Wellner store corner.

Peter L. Jensen of R.R. 2, Blackfalds, driving a 1965 Rebel convertible with Robert D. Hulme of R.R. 2, Lacombe in a 1965 Pontiac, drove up to the Ford car attempted at 9:00, in the Bentley [illegible]

Lacombe police laid a charge of careless driving against Mr Wilson.

Warm Weather Spurs Crops In Districts

Dry-ah-ave, with real hot, sunny weather is just what the farmer ordered, and he's had it in great gobs during the past two weeks to promote growth of rich grain crops in the area.

The fair days have allowed the cutting of one of the heaviest hay crops in history.

It has also brought along grain, which started slowly due to the lower-than-normal spring weather.

Alberta Wheat Pool spents in the district report that crops are progressing very favorably

At the last crop report on July 31 height of grain reached 3 general average of 20 inches wheat, 20 inches, oats: 28 inches, barley; 24 inches, rapeseed 18 inches. Same good for an above-average yield. At this stage, H. Bowman of Bowman reports potential yields at: wheat, 30 bushels; oats, 60; barley, 50; rapeseed, 25.

He reports 2 per cent damage to the wheat acreage in the Bowman district from wire-worms. Wheat is now 163 per cent headed.

Building Permits Lag Behind 1964

Bentley's Early History Recalled

Early history of Bentley is recounted in this article written 19 years ago by Rev. Wesley and Gladys Thomas.

Every back is the early histories when settlers from the Old Country and from the United States and many people from other portions of the Northwest Territories which later was to become the province of Alberta, one of the many thriving villages along the newly - constructed Calgary - Edmonton railway, was Leslieville.

With a population of less than one hundred, Leslieville, by 1905, had become an important shipping point for the surrounding district. Its two stores, a hotel and a grocery to the fertile Blindman River Valley that lay to the westward.

Of the early pioneers who took up land there at that time, the first of whom there is any authentic information were a man named D. S. Sherwood, who, having at some time earlier, established himself on a claim of land near southwest of what is now the town of Bentley, had pulled up stakes and left the country in 1905 before it was too dry.

The town had assumed almost incredible to those who, following years after, knew the district as it was in 1910 the district extensively cultivated the building of an arch, which spanned the road.

At any point, a rainy spells must have ceased shortly after the departure of Mr Sherwin, for the winter of Gull Lake rose to an all-time record top and in 1909 were at least four feet above their present level.

Among the earliest of settlers in the immediate area of Gull Lake or in the vicinity of the present site of Bentley, were Thomas Wilkie, MP; Fred Nellis, John Fleming, Angus French, William Person, William Wood, Thomas "Waterville" Pender.

George Cameron, one among years the postmaster at Bentley, also came in 1905 but not to settle permanently until 1911 Wales ran a stopping place and store at Wellsville, on the west of Gull Lake where Aspen Beach now stands and Burton located in the same area east of Bentley in 1906.

Others of these hardy "ninety-five" pioneers at a few miles west, east and farms in that locality were settled by Chris C. Miller, Jens Jensen of Bentley; John Person, Stephenson, George Sanderson, who suffered an down through the "High Outlet", and Edmund McElligon who came from Salt Lake City, Utah, to the Bentley district in 1906. To Mr McElligon belongs the credit for having the first house.

In the early years there came a man named Jenny Brownlow, a well-known character of Wetaskiwin. Mrs Brownlow had been navigating the Saskatchewan River for years but had decided, in her declining years, he would keep him but on dry land.

"Ten Cent" Lunches

Accordingly, he filled on a fine piece of farm land, but an old sea never forgets his first love, the sea, and it was not long until Mr Brownlow had shipped a nearby creek, the "Ten Cent", down from Edmonton and had launched her on Gull Lake.

With her advent, there sprang up a lively shipping and cruising business on the lake, and a summer resort was founded at Brownlow's Landing.

In 1909 the first school district was formed. It was the Gull Lake school district No. 527. A schoolhouse was built just four miles west that the name of Bentley stands, and the first board of trustees was composed of Robert Thompson, Fred Stone and A. Blackburn.

A Mr Burton taught for a few weeks, but the first regular teacher was Miss Hazel Rogers, later a secretary of the Calgary Board of Education. Miss Rogers taught for a salary of $0.00 per month.

In that same memorable year 1909, there came another settler into the valley of the Blindman. A settler whose personality, character and colorful personality has since suffered an down through the pages of Bentley's history and whose influence is felt even until the present day

This man was named McPherson—Malcolm Wilfred McPherson, veteran of the United States civil war and a former resident of the state of Wisconsin. With the major came his wife, his daughters, five stalwart sons and his sons-in-law, all of whom contributed in efforts to quicken the pace of the new settlement.

With the coming of the McPherson family, things began to happen. It was Guy Herbert, a son-in-law, who built the first dwelling in the village.

It was made of logs, and his brother, Ralph Herbert, also a son-in-law, built the "Ten Cent", the first frame home in the district, half a mile north of the tracks, as his homestead.

And it was the major himself who was the first signer of the petition asking for a post office and requesting the affairs of the North-West Territories were then handled at Regina, and when acknowledgement of the petition was received accompanied by the name of Bentley, the name of Bentley had been selected for the town by the major. Many of those who were disagreed with the choice, preferring to have had the town named for the major

First Postmaster

O. E. Peterson was appointed the first postmaster, and major McPherson was the second to act in that capacity The major was also the first justice of the peace in Bentley

In 1910, major McPherson built the first store and separated it as a branch of the Lacombe Co-operative Company. In 1912 the store at Bentley was sold to A. I. Cook, who a year later disposed of his entire business holdings to Messrs. Putland & Tharp.

The next building of public importance to be erected was the first church built of logs in 1911. It still stands, and is now used as a church clubroom, a fine brick church having replaced it as a place of worship. Rev C. J. Tate, and he in turn by Rev Mr Cooper All were worthy men of God and much the betterment of the community

In 1911 a chinese factory was opened by James McPherson, one of the major's sons. It was situated on two miles west of Bentley.

Later, McPherson built a new log building at the northerly edge of the village and housed his cheese plant there He later ran a company at the same location and his successor in this business was J. J. Miller.

In the meantime, new settlers had been arriving every day Many of these settlers are still living in the district, prominent among whom is Philo Slaughter who resides on the same farm that thirty-six years ago he built his first log dwelling Frank Peabody and James Woods lived out in the Rainy Creek district

They farmed and sold homesteaded here to their completion, and to clash up their log homes.

J. C. Carrot was another who settled at Rainy Creek in 1910, but neither Harold nor Carrot is now within the limits of the village.

Arthur's brother George lived a few miles south of Bentley on the branch of the Lacombe Co-operative Company. In 1912 the store at Bentley was sold to A. I. Cook, who a year later disposed of his entire business holdings to Messrs. Putland & Tharp.

In the meantime, new settlers

In 1912 the first school was opened in Bentley Miss Grace Wilson was the lone teacher, and was followed by Miss Ethel Stoke who made his home until 1917 Ted Mrs. C. C. Miller on their farm in the south of town.

The members of the board of trustees were Major McPherson, Al Shannon, and James Murray There were twelve pupils enrolled, and they were

The three Osmond girls, Hazel, Zella and Vivian, Howard Vestlund, Charlie Sam, Harold and Frank Sanderson, Ed W. Stephenson, Ella Urich, Roy and Willson McElligan

The school district was No. 627, and was named "Oxford" at the suggestion of Harry Bonner, who had an memory of his old home town in England

At the surrounding districts of Gull Lake, Outlet and Stephenson had already been organized, and soon land well in towards the village, the Bentley school district was of necessity small in area and covered a tract of but two by five miles

Hotel Built in 1910

In 1910 the first hotel — and by all accounts a real one — was opened by S. E. (Bert) Whitaker. Mr. Whitaker also conducted a feed and livery business.

Charles Wenger opened the first blacksmith shop on the site of the present-day monthly J Building was the first barber, also in 1912

In 1911 the Thery brothers Norbert and Frank, arrived in Bentley from Winnipeg, and in 1914 joined in the firm of Pelland & Thery, general merchants

In 1910 the Duncan brothers Clarence and John, opened up the first butcher shop, and the year 1910 also marked the organization of the Bentley Athletic Association, which [illegible] summer Bentley permanently on the

The first tennis court was played upon in 1911 and the first banquet of the Athletic Association was held in 1912 in the Bentley Hotel.

In 1913, a second general store was opened by Joseph Dhl, brother of Mrs Bert Whitaker.

The first medical practitioner to locate in Bentley was Dr. W. G. Brown He opened his office in 1910 and also started a drug store in the village. Dr W Byron of Lacombe had served the people of Bentley

In 1913, Ralph Newbery took over the duties of stage driver between Bentley and Lacombe, a pioneer village. 20 miles to the south-east, and he rolled in Bentley enroute Gideon did the first freighting between these towns.

In 1912 and 1913 rural telephone came into existence in the Bentley district these first installed being at the E Brownlow and A H Erskine homes.

Another event of importance occurring in 1911 was the arrival of John Stark from the state of Minnesota. Mr Stark (Jr Chief) bought the store business of J Dhl in 1916

A Portland built a second hotel in Bentley in 1918, and R. Taylor was its manager Mr C P Dawson came from Omaha, Nebraska in 1912 and held his first sale in the district in 1913

Present - day dwellers in the beautiful valley of the Blindman may proudly say that they have kept faith with those pioneer-worthy pioneers of long ago.

Young Couple To Live at Tees

Doreen Lutheran church, north of Clive, was the scene of a beautiful wedding on July 3 at 3:45 p.m.

Bouquets of gerbera and roses of pastel summer flowers banked the altar when Doreen Ann, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knight of Tees, became the bride of Mr. Donald Bernard Ess, second oldest son of Mr and Mrs. Donald Ess of Tees.

Pastor A. Quernsteiner of Penhold officiated at the ceremony and Mrs. Dennis Lee played the wedding music. Mrs. Clare Knight sang "A Wedding Prayer" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor length gown of lace over taffeta with a shaped train and lily point sleeves.

The scoop neck line and bodice were trimmed with seed pearls, and her crown was of crystal roses beneath. She carried a cascade bouquet of American beauty roses.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sharon Knight, sister of the bride and Miss Elaine Ess and Judy Ess, sisters of the groom. The flower girl was Miss Noreen Berry, niece of the bride.

They were attired in identical floor-length gowns of spring green in non flattering waist-length trains.

Their headpieces were white sheaves set loose centered with white carnations.

A floor-length wedding cake, embedded in bells in which were nestled posh rosebuds centered the bride's table.

Master of ceremonies was Mr Keith Ess, uncle of the groom. Mr Vernon Ferguson, 5th-year friend presented the gifts to the bride to which the groom duly replied.

Mrs. Clare Knight sang two beautiful solos "Bless Jesus" Knight, mom of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

Following open house, a wedding dance was held in the Tees community hall.

For traveling the bride chose a navy blue wool suit with white accessories and a hat of navy and white straw.

Out-of-town guests were from Red Deer, Edmonton, Valley Center Meeting Creek, Penhold, Alix, Lacombe and Clive.

After a honeymoon to B.C. and the U.S., the happy newly-weds will reside on a farm west of Tees.

Two servings of fruit or more daily is the recommendation in Canada's food guide These should include a satisfactory source of Vitamin C. also known as ascorbic acid

Citrus fruit, such as oranges, grapefruit, lemons and limes are high in vitamin C Now, how much is considered a serving One orange, one-half grapefruit, or ½ cup of juice is considered a serving Tomatoes, either fresh, canned, or juice form is also a good source of vitamin C Just ½ cup of raw tomato juice will give you a good supply of vitamin C

Those fruits mentioned will provide the best year around source of vitamin C There are seasonal fruits such as rose hips, black currants, fresh strawberries, cantaloupe, and red currants which are also high in vitamin C

Besides fruit which provides vitamin C, other fruit is needed for minerals and other vitamins Fruit also helps provide bulk in the diet Dried fruits such as apricots, prunes, figs, raisins, dates, and currants are concentrated sources of energy They should replace candy bars and pop when the extra sport of energy is needed. These dried fruits are good sources of iron.

The possibility of nutrient loss preparing and cooking fruits is not too great. Th cooking water or syrup is usually eaten with the fruit However, these fruits should not be prepared and allowed to stand at room temperature may lose vitamin C.

Alive and remembered and loved by one and all.

Gull Lake . . . Tourist Mecca

If Gil the first time in recent memory, water level at Gull Lake may have risen sufficiently this spring to offset the expected decline later in the year. The rates on the perpendicular this measured this spring at 14 inches — and maybe this is thorough — early part of the summer level will be as much as two inches lower.

The seasonal attempt of promotion and the new weather is one of nature's moods. Recently known the slight increase in the level at Gull Lake is only temporary.

The truth is that the level has been declining steadily at a rate of approximately an inches per year. Whereas in 1934 Gull Lake covered an area of 7.91 square miles, in 1960 it had shrunk to 3½ square miles. In the last 20 years, it has dropped by at least eight feet.

Many groups have made representations to the provincial government to arrest this alarming trend: village of Gull Lake, the Gull Lake summer resort association, the resident Alberta commerce. It has been suggested that a diversion from the north Saskatchewan River would restore the level of Gull Lake to its former state.

The provincial government considers the scheme too expensive.

Yet, without diversionary water, Gull Lake with its fine sandy beaches and provincial park may become a dried up desert. Gull Lake is the most popular lake in Alberta. Over half a million Albertans are within easy driving distance. They were more visitors to the park last summer than in August.

The end of Gull Lake would spell the end of a popular and much-used tourist resort.

Quiet Revolution

WITH all the noise talk about separatism, some persons far removed from Quebec (like Albertans over 2,000 miles away) are still vague about what French Canadians really want. We have heard that they are being discriminated against, that they must assert a full and equal partnership based on principles of the B.N.A. Act, and that they are the two great founding peoples of our country.

We are convinced that such a partnership necessitates official and cultural diversity within constitutional and political unity, is the best basis for a strong and dynamic nation."

It seems to us the French always have these guarantees in the B.N.A. act, now nearly 100 years old. So what is all the fuss about?

We need a clear understanding of French - Canadian objectives. Those were expressed by Premier Maurice Sauvé, minister of industry for Canada, at a recent speech at Les Eboulements.

Hon. Mr Sauvé told his American audience that "French Canadians realize that whereas they have heard that they are being discriminated against, that they must assert a full and equal partnership based on principles of the B.N.A. Act and that they are the two great founding peoples of our country.

We are convinced that such a partnership necessitates official and cultural diversity within constitutional and political unity, is the best basis for a strong and dynamic nation."

Alberta Growing Steadily

ALBERTA'S population has climbed to 1,430,807, according to the latest statistics released by the provincial government. This is another heartening increase. We are now close to the 1½-million mark, and if a concentration of people is needed to industry many industry should not need be receiving many times a passing glance from big companies wishing to expand.

It was not too many years ago that Alberta was struggling to retain an objective of one million people. Two-way immigration and the discovery of oil in 1947 contributed to a big influx of new citizens. We have since left that magic figure far behind, and our sights and hopes are now set on two million.

The province of Alberta now claims 10 cities, 80 towns and 105 villages. Edmonton is the largest city with 287,007. Calgary follows with 311,206. Red Deer tops the list of towns with 4,439. Other notable Alberta communities are over 4,000.

There are 36 counties, 20 municipal districts and 48 improvement districts in the province of Alberta.

Reflections of the Times . .

Transformation in Transportation

In the early years of the current century, when the era of the railroads was at its peak, a village or town was considered lucky if it could claim a main line. All coal, supplies and freight were conveyed by railways and passengers from place to place by train.

For the first dozen years of the century the railways were busily engaged in constructing branch lines all over the country. No other form of transportation was strongly capable of competing as it appeared to be good business to expand facilities.

Towns from which branch lines radiated were considered fortunate by the very optimistic. Empires was one of these towns. It is a divisional point on the Alberta, a few miles from the Saskatchewan border, and at a central point on the Bassano-Smith Central line which was completed in 1915. It was even thought that the new line would compete with the main line through Medicine Hat, avoiding the heavy grades around that city.

In consequence of a bright future for Empress as a railway divisional centre a crowd of business men, including speculators, attended the sale of town lots held by the Canadian Pacific Railway. Some $250,000 was realized by the company and everybody seemed happy. Empress was to be a divisional point and grow into a city.

That was in 1915. The next year it became evident that the Canadian Pacific Railway had no intention of building the shops and other facilities which were considered necessary for a divisional point. Empress was to be a way station, nothing more.

Many people had made preparations to move to Empress in the expectation that it would become a railway centre. Some of these people were ruined financially. Others moved away, disgusted with the way they had been treated by the railway company.

Empress never did become a railway centre. It is a small village with a population of around 200. Its only claim to fame is that it is the junction point for the Bassano-Smith Central line, which was completed in 1915. It was even thought that the new line would compete with the main line through Medicine Hat, avoiding the heavy grades around that city.

GREEN ACRES

Third Contest on Recommended

The wet weather we have had this summer has made it difficult and often impossible to control weeds on summer fallow. This, along with a busy haying season, has left many of our farmers with a problem on how to control weeds and still get their haying done.

Perhaps the best way out would be to use the weed sprayer using 2-4D ester at a rate of one pound or more acid per acre. Recent results have shown that [illegible] the [illegible] (Spare all that is possible) [illegible] time operations. If spraying is done, there should be an interval of one to two weeks before re-seeding cultivation practices.

Trend Plot Contest

Recently there have been many inquiries as to suitable contests to be used for test flax in small patches in cultivated fields, pastures, or hay land. I would like to point out that in successful commercial agriculture certain factors in a policy whereby farmers can effectively [illegible] the [illegible] of land [illegible] on either productive [illegible] or non-productive [illegible] is the rate payer. These criteria to make use of this policy may be [illegible] by contacting the county office.

Seed in Barley

Now that the barley fields are beginning to head out serious infestations of false wheat are prevalent. At the present time, the only way to control false wheat is by the purchase of certified seed. [illegible] weed control contract more than 4 per cent wheat appear in the barley test.

Small seed plots of barley now [illegible] should be [illegible] by use [illegible] weed [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to supply small-time seed the following year if the plot is [illegible] of noxious weed [illegible] Thistle or the like.

The new barley [illegible] which was released this spring to seed growers is unknown to [illegible] This, therefore will provide [illegible] chief [illegible] for commercial growers in the near future.

Control of Foot Rot

Many cattlemen in the district have reported foot rot in their herds this summer. Foot rot is always a problem under wet conditions and many of our stock losses we to arise in their stock salt at the rate of one pound per fifty pounds salt (2%) appears to be a fairly effective control measure although not as [illegible] 100 per cent effective. Cattle which show [illegible] [illegible] of [illegible] should be treated with an antibiotic recommended by your veterinarian

Quick Canadian Quiz . . .

BENTLEY PARADE — Sunny skies favored a parade held at Bentley last Monday morning in connection with the village's 10th anniversary of incorporation, and inspiring music for the occasion was the excellent Bentley band.

BERT FLINTS — The community mild will be proud of the splendid summer it [illegible] completed. There were floats, decorated cars and [illegible] and accompaniments like the Legion's in the three block parade

RURAL PARTICIPATION — District residents made [illegible] although the accent was like the Forshee group above. Mayor Elmer Calkins led off the parade in a 1910 Ford car, and home riders brought up the rear

"Go Slow" Pace in School Erection

Proposed school construction programs in various parts of the county is proceeding slowly, due to "red tape" which prevaricated government authorities at Edmonton.

Education committee members were told at the monthly meeting on the county office yesterday that final approval has still not been received from the department, to start construction of the new eight-room school at Mirror, although the contractor is "standing by" and ready to go to work.

County officials were hoping to call for building tenders at the same time for school gymnasiums at Blackfalds and Clive. However, approval is not yet through for the Clive addition. Rail tenders have been taken at both centres.

Total cost of these three programs, plus a new high school at Alix, has been estimated at $600,000.

Vocational School

There was nothing further to report at the meeting on the proposed new composite high school at Lacombe. Final approval for the $671,000 schoolcost a being sought from the local authorities board, after it was learned that a series of rubsquirrs would not be necessary

Committee members hope to meet with the architect, J Harrison and Associates of Calgary, in a future phase of the proposed school.

Some members said they understood the original March 31, 1967, deadline set by the federal government for construction of vocational schools had been extended to 1970. If so, the extension could "ease the pressure" here.

Eli Sroka, local school representative, reported that Lacombe Vocational intended to start moving trees "the latter part of August" to clear the school site

Miscellaneous

A large number of minor items were dealt with on the agenda

Foreman Carl Jonni said that plastering and varnishing had been completed at schools at Alix, Blackfalds and Bentley in preparation for the school term

All 217 typewriters at county schools were checked, and 20 needed repairs at a cost of $468-.00, according to a report from assistant superintendent Otto Brunn

Rudy Mottus of Bellville was appointed custodian caretaker of the Bentley high school.

Bus drivers will be invited to

Two Killed in CPR Accident

Two families in Lacombe were bereaved in a tragic Canadian Pacific railway accident within the town limits last Friday afternoon at 2:25.

Freight train No. 6815, being an extra southbound, overtook a southbound speeder on the main track within the town limits carrying Michael Kosolonsky, 45, and Gordon Peterson, 18, both of Lacombe

The two men were killed instantly.

Lacombe police said the pair were thrown 111 feet from the point of impact, and the rail motor car was thrown 189 feet.

Police reported the train was travelling at approximately 45 m.p.h., and the speeder at an estimated 10-15 m.p.h.

A CPR official said the two men had been working on the track and were returning to the tool house at Lacombe at the time of the accident.

The train, which was not damaged, was going to Blackfalds. Dr. John McKibbin, coroner. The engineer is reported to have blown the whistle but the men did not seem to hear.

Dr John McKibbin, local coroner, announced an inquest would be held.

Two Funerals

Mr. Kosolonsky was CNR section foreman here. He worked at Gull Lake, Lougheed, Daysland and Clamson prior to moving to Lacombe in 1961.

He was born at Czechoslovakia on August 28, 1894.

Funeral services were held from Preston and Kirkman chapel on Tuesday afternoon, with Rev A. Quevenpoor officiating. Interment was at the local cemetery.

He leaves to mourn his wife; and one son, Kenneth.

Rites on Monday

Gordon Arnel Peterson was born on October 14, 1929, and took his schooling at Red Deer and Lacombe before moving to Lacombe in 1946. He was single.

He was employed at the CPR as a section hand.

Last rites were held on Monday afternoon from Preston and Kirkman chapel, with Rev Ernest Hewlett in charge.

Pallbearers were Jack Lidster, Don Bailie, Allan Miller, Harold Orum, Glen Gallagher, and Walter Arnhale.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Dessie Peterson; one brother, Mrs Ivan Lynch of Red Deer; and two brothers, Clarence and Arnold, both in B.C.

His father predeceased him in 1951.

What, Already? School to Start Most September 1

School will start in the county of Lacombe on Wednesday, September 1.

Classes will continue Thursday and Friday prior to the Labor day week end, and then re-open twice the following Tuesday, September 7.

Biggest Day at Gull Lake Park

Biggest day in history was experienced at the provincial government park at Aspen Beach on Gull Lake on the civic holiday last August 2, to an estimated 31-116 patrons swarmed the park and the beach invading a grass field.

There was hardly a bare stretch of sand on the beach. Over 6,000 cars, many of them carrying large families, passed through the park portals in 12-degree heat.

The camp grounds were "just packed" with tents and trailers, said parks warden Vernon Prescott.

These record tourist figures helped swell totals for the week of August 2-8. There was a count of 11,681 cars and an estimated 64,264 patrons. In addition, the registry for the week showed 726 tents and 283 trailers in the camp grounds.

During the previous week, July 26-August 1, there were 12,726 cars and 69,999 patrons. For the seven-day period were registered for 894 tents and 349 trailers.

Monthly Records

Mr Prescott revealed that 109,-067 patrons visited the park in the month of July.

Included in this total were 67,-023 vehicles, 1,372 tents, and 2,113 trailers

July attendance was up about 25 per cent over last year.

Thought for the week ...

Electrical Storm Disrupts Power

A fierce electrical storm struck Lacombe and district about 9:30 last night, but fortunately there was no hail and damage was restricted to strong winds that bowed heavy grain crops.

Power was disrupted for three hours

Town of Lacombe's disruption was a brief four minutes, during an automatic "switch-over" of the one main line was knocked out

Lethbridge Power manager Ed Johnston said his crew worked all night repairing damage.

County Short A Few Teachers As Term Approaches

County of Lacombe is still short two full time teachers, and possibly four pending confirmation of two late applicants, education committee members learned at their monthly meeting yesterday.

Assistant superintendent Gor Peters advised the committee to approve the hiring of seven more teachers since mid-July bringing the full teaching staff complement of about 189 closer to a reality.

It is hoped the few vacancies left can be filled before the start of the school term next September 1

Bentley Holds Celebration

It took more than 1,000 barbecues of the old bones and friends anniversary barbecue stank the grand stands to satisfy the appe- who attended Bentley's big fifth ann- Sunday evening.

Over 600 old timers and their descendants attended the barbecue which was preceded by a baseball game and entertainment for all ages.

The commercial park was packed for a classic service which opened at the park with an address by the Mayor Elmer Culham, an invocation by Rev. Ivan Gilbert, a welcome from village councillors, and reminiscences from all citizens spoke. Sunday Guest speaker for the service was Rev. L. V. Robertson of Edmonton.

Also taking part in the service were members of the community choir under the direction of Mrs. Bentley.

Following the service, tasty refreshments were held by members of the Bentley pony club.

Immediately following refreshments was a huge display of antique and old-time games of all kinds which were enjoyed by all who were in the viewing club.

Ladies of the Royal Purple also catered at the request of both the shooting club and the pony club. Their refreshments proved popular conference for all those who were hungry and thirsty.

Another popular event was sponsored by members of the Christian Legion Ladies Auxiliary.

The big parade on Monday morning opened the two-day celebration which was highlighted by baseball tournament and the crowning of the queen by the Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, Grant MacEwan.

Bentley's Queen Contest was held at the park, and again lined up for the crowning parade.

Old time reminiscences were again the theme of former Bentley residents who returned to the district for the anniversary bash. The celebration wound up the jubilee proceedings.

3 YEAR CONTRACT — Local Bentley hockey officials were surprised this morning to learn that their coach, Art Park, had signed a three-year contract with the Red Deer Rustlers.

Glen Long pitched steady ball for the winners, while Cheek of Bentley was signed for the second game.

Sunday, Steven, Hal Bentley and the Lacombe Aginites have won more games to date in the best-of-three series and if needed will be played on account of darkness. The Braves were lead ing at the time the game was called, but the score reverted to the end of the 4th inning, when Bentley was ahead 10-9.

Last Saturday the Bentley squad was unable to field a full team, and the game was cancelled.

Five Billion Dollars

CANADA's present plan, to which we are all committed whether we like it or not, envisages, as supported by our Prime Minister, a federal budget which will reach $5 billion by 1975.

This is one-third of the total national debt. Here we have added one billion dollars in the past two years. Here we have had two budget deficits in succession. Here we have had two years when the federal government has borrowed five billion dollars. We've borrowed money to meet essential expenses under the "what's a million or so" or C. D. Howe.

We are borrowing the astronomical sum of a thousand million dollars to try to cheer what five billion dollars really means.

If you make $5 billion in $1,000 bills (just $1 bills, they would reach a height of 1,000 feet, almost one-third taller than the tallest building on earth.

If you equipped 100 jets with $50,000 flight simulators, you would have spent $5 billion.

If you were 21 years of age, entertained by spent $50,000 per hour, eight hours a day, every night of the year you would be 11,415 years old before you spent the whole $5 billion.

If 10 paid $5 billion in $1 bills to end, they would stretch the earth at the equator 25 times.

If your income were $10,000 a year, it would take you 500,000 years to earn $5 billion.

If every man, woman and child in Canada spent $200 a month every month for another year they in turn would have to pay taxes to pay for the original $5 billion they collected.

If your imagination is not stretched, you may have some difficulty in realizing how much money is taking from you to manipulate a private economy.

Getting Where First?

THERE is an old maxim that an aggressive personality usually gets ahead to hide an inherently complex.

One can only guess what logic gave birth to the "Diefenbaker Plan" of the Russians, constantly trying to impress the world with their superiority and their desire for understanding, but, actually in control, usually in confusion, have lost the initiative in world and deserve admiration from all sides.

They fall behind in many other areas of performance, however, like the standard of living, and industrial production. It is to make up for these shortcomings that the Russians attempt to be overpowering.

Take the instance of the recent visit of Khrushchev to France. What other countries were joined in their effort to impress the French with the devotion brought in a train which climbed to the top of the highest in the world. It is said to be capable of carrying 700 passengers.

No doubt Khrushchev gained prestige of a sort through at this stage in evolution it seemingly highly impressive, but, actually in control, usually in confusion, have lost the initiative in world and deserve admiration from all sides.

Reflections of the Times . .

The Weekly Newspaper

If you depended for your news on the country's weekly newspapers, then you would probably never have heard of the recent spectacular advances in the conquest of outer space

The preoccupations of the weekly press with local news may indeed be narrow but as a weekly editor we are keenly that it or eventually not short-sighted

It is the very closeness of the weekly editor to his readers that is his stock in trade No one on our town is too small to rate a story or too big to avoid the glare of unwanted publicity

— Claresholm Local Press

Six Basic Mistakes of Man

1. The delusion that individual advancement is made by crushing others.

2. The tendency to worry about things that cannot be changed or corrected.

3. Resisting that is right because we cannot accomplish it.

4. Refusing to set aside trivial preferences.

5. Neglecting development and refinement of the mind as not acquiring the habit of reading and study.

6. Attempting to compel others to think as we do.

Weed and Grass Control

It is now possible to control the [illegible] of grasses and broad leaved weeds in cultivated fruit orchards and on other woody ornamental plantings with a herbicide known as paraquat.

According to W Lobay regarding of care and weed control with the Alberta department of Agriculture, paraquat used under the trade name of Gramoxone should be applied at a rate of one to two pounds of active ingredient per acre in 100 gallons of water The rate of application depends upon the density of grass and weed growth.

Mr Lobay points out that the spray should be directed in such a way that it covers the weeds and grass but does not come in contact with the tree foliage Brush it would adversely affect Paraquat will not damage trees if mature bark but some damage could occur to the green bark on young trees.

Mr Lobay says a working agent, developed by the manufacturer improves the effectiveness of paraquite Home paraquat is not a soil sterilizer it only kills weeds and grasses on the surface of the ground If growth occurs in perennials two or three weeks after treatment they will probably have to be cleaned

Mr Lobay strongly advises following [illegible] recommendations carefully to insure that grass and weeds are effectively retarded without harm to the crop

Farm Recommends Grain Mixtures

Best types of grain [illegible] and the most productive [illegible] condition are discussed in the 1956 [illegible] bulletin published by the Lacombe experimental farm, [illegible] in a series of three [illegible]

Grain Mixtures

The acreage devoted to the production of mixed grain in Alberta rose from about 13,000 acres in 1951 to 271,000 in 1954. The [illegible] cause indicates that factual information concerning [illegible] for mixtures would prove valuable

In the spring of 1956 a number of tests established at Lacombe in which Husky barley, Rasbo oats, and Park Wheat were used alone and in various combinations Comparisons of yield of components in crop harvested were made Results obtained in 1956 influenced the following:

The highest yields were obtained when barley was used in a mixture with oats.

There was [illegible] increase in yield from mixtures of wheat and barley.

When equal quantities of barley and oats were seeded barley appeared to compete [illegible] the barley crop was a mixture of 45 per cent barley, 2 per cent oats and 53 per cent wheat This study will be continued in 1957.

Rains of Reaping

In the 1957 issue report from [illegible] Lacombe here it was suggested that rains from 5, to 1 hundredth of wheat, 1½ bushels of barley and 1½ bushels of oats approach-

Herbs have been cherished for centuries because of their usefulness in cooking, in medicine, in household preparations, and in industry.

Did you plant any herbs in your garden this year? Maybe some sage or perhaps its sweet basil? If so, you might like to dry some for use over the winter months. Most herbs should be harvested the moment the bud opens into full flower. At this time the plants are highest in their flavour containing volatile oils.

Once harvested, pull out any leaves that are yellow dry, rusted or rotten. Wash the remainder.

To dry the herbs, strip the leaves from the stems and place on screens Place outdoors where a breeze will hasten the process Cover with a cheesecloth to hold them in place. Bring the screens inside at night. Turn the leaves once a day or they will dry unevenly.

A second method is to tie bunches of herbs together Hang them in a dark room which has a warm current of air Leave until dry and crisp. This process of drying will require about a week Herbs can be stored as they are stripped from the branches If the herb is woody or has small leaves, the whole cutting can be put through a coarse grinder Herbs by crushing are best if ground very fine almost powder like This can be accomplished by rubbing the leaves through a sieve

To remove the material oils in herbs store in clean glass jars with tight covers Into herbs will then add either two or three covers or store your crop with a cheesecloth No doubt you have favor the recipes in which to include your herb The longer the herb is to [illegible] the more the oils will be released It takes a little time for the oils to herbs to start evaporating.

We soup, or stew add herbs about forty-five minutes before the end of cooking To cold foods, herbs should be added several hours or overnight before serving. Herb oils are released more quickly in heating than in cold dishes

Flower Show Time

ANNUAL flower shows will be staged at Lacombe tomorrow, August 19 and at Alix on Wednesday, August 24. Both are fine examples of rural events. August 19 finds shows meets the co-operation and support of residents from the communities and surrounding districts.

One of the most difficult chores that show sponsors face each year is a suitable date. The selection is based on the whims of the growing season, and one can only guess whether the chores will be

Twenty Years Of Peace

TWENTY years ago last August 14 Japan surrendered unconditionally to the Allies and the worst war that the world had known ended in an end that lasted almost six years, from 1939 to 1945. It started only 21 years after the end of the first World War in 1918.

A decade of nervous peace has been the story V-J day, but it can hardly be termed a period of security. Korea, Indo-China, Malaya, etc., and uneasy truce still exists in Israel, Jordan and Syria, revolutions in China and Russia and down the Indo-China and the Suez Canal. Indeed there are new fighting as we type these.

There have been many changes in this 10 years. Colonialism died in Egypt, in Cyprus, in India and in Africa is under a few

It would lead an observer to reason that human beings are dangerous by nature and benefactors of staying out of fights.

Probably the greatest of the world wars of the 20th century of it is more not for the discovery of a nuclear bomb, which would have put civilization.

Whether war can overcome the spirit of aggression is debatable. Many with the Peace and hail. It's very risky business as the days drag by our hearts in the Peace Tower for support and guidance.

Shorter Days

HERE it is past the middle of August, and the days are noticeably shortening. By 7:30 in the evening it's dusk, and may prove a trying time, which always does, the whole country with the exception of Alberta adapts without hesitation.

Our government is faced with all these problems should step for a moment and consider why most of Canada is out of step with Alberta.

How the Mr. and Mrs. would be if we had our summer in the evening to play with. All that's needed is a sensible approach to the daylight saving time, which although it is a misnomer, has proved its worth in many countries.

Why government, with all their wisdom, should step for a moment and consider why most of Canada is out of step with Alberta.

"She" Is No Lady

THE vital statistics department of the Canned Line is often asked why a step is referred to as she? To set the record straight here are 15 reasons.

She a all decked out and o'ut well-stacked She has a waist and steps and requires a lot of rigging. There is usually a lot of beauty around her and she always manages to show her superstructure to advantage.

Bows and bells are standard equipment and sometimes she wears a bonnet. She has pleasing lines from stem to stern and there's usually a gang of men around her.

It's just the habitat response that women you — it's the upkeep. It takes a lot of paint to maintain her neat appearance. In some parts of the world the man who takes care of her needs at home is known as her husband but she serves him at home when she gets out.

She always knows her destination and her watchword is attention. When entering port she heads immediately for the berth and when you want to attract her attention, a whistle is the appropriate signal.

As soon as she gets home all her lines are busy On a holiday day or a moonlit night she may have as any tired businessman forget his troubles.

And once you get to know her you never want to leave her!

Reflections of the Times . .

For Greater Tractor Safety

Judging by western Canada agricultural news coverage the number of deaths by tractor mishap in the past year have declined. We hope that the good news means that we have reached a plateau of "permanent safer tractor operation" on Western farms.

Tractor accidents are the most painful and the most costly in the industrial and agricultural world. A few years ago, when tractor accidents were more common, a tractor driver or passenger injury was the result of each mishap.

Unfortunately, in years gone by, a large percentage of the tractor accidents claimed the life of the driver or helper, who were passengers.

A tractor is perilous. Its performance depends on the skill of the driver, the strength and endurance required on the farm is built in a manner that should prevent its use on a just driving release.

GANG WAR

Do you want a rumble?

This apparently is the question asked by either a gang of Wetaskiwin's young men or by a gang of Ponoka youth. It apparently will of a formula the fight rarely agreed with knives, brass knuckles or other weapons.

These rumbles, as such fights are termed, occur most frequently on week ends but sometimes during the week, according to several young women.

Most teenagers in town know all about them but the police and majority of parents are unaware that "gang war" happens in our quiet city

Prospect Well Drained

The department is conducting a pilot project in drainage to see how effective it is for reclaiming bulls will be brought into the Vermilion agricultural and provincial college in September for winter cultivation. The bulls are selected on a performance test and quality basis.

It is planned to take the bulls to Vermilion September 12 to October 15 following health of animals tests, and submit and dresses up to 160 visits of cement each bull. The semen will be distributed to five or six commercial cattlemen with individual identified sows and each will be tagged and recorded as to birthdate, physical examination, and calving difficulties.

Two sisters from each bull from each herd for a total of ten sisters from each bull will be taken into a loading station and fed for slaughter Records will be kept on growth rate, feed conversion and carcass quality The test bulls will be compared to a control bull to bull previously progeny tested on that year to year comparisons can be made The commercial herds will be from the Alberta beef cattle performance association.

It should be kept in mind that this is a pilot project to try to find what problems will be encountered in a program of this nature. If there are no major problems, it is expected that the number of bulls tested will be expanded to around 40 bulls per year.

Under the pilot project, this department is paying all the expense on collecting the bulls and outgoing delivering all or part of the expenses in the distribution of steers over the cost of feeding the steers at home On the basis of the costs encountered the department will decide what portion of the costs the department will bear and what part the owner of the bulls should bear in future tests

Although it is hoped that these programs will make a significant contribution to getting outstanding bulls into A I units and purebred herds, it is not intended to replace home performance test programs At present the department has 105 applications to performance test purebred beef herds and applications are still open for this fall

The Editors,
Lacombe Globe,
Lacombe, Alberta
Dear Sirs:

May I, through your paper, say a very warm "thank you" to my former students for the beautiful reading lamp and mirror which you gave me when I left Lacombe?

I was deeply touched by the gift, but even more, perhaps, by the accompanying card with so many signatures, which I shall cherish.

I shall always have such pleasant memories of my years in the Lacombe school and those of all my students will be the deepest affection

Sincerely
Rose J. E. Rice

Shine On

A number of homemakers have been asking questions about cutting for floors and types of waxes to use Here are a few facts about floor care. Giving floors proper care is not the time-consuming job many homemakers imagine Indeed, various surfaces make more work than necessary for themselves by scrubbing and applying home ben ellers.

Manufacturers say floors are best often "worn out" by washing than by traffic. To keep floors looking their best with a minimum of effort, know the types of waxes and cleaners available and the type of flooring used in the various parts of your home.

Waxes are divided into two types:

(a) Polishing Waxes: This easy to in either paste or liquid form and must be rubbed to a shine A paste polishing wax gives a long lasting, mellow sheen A liquid polishing wax is similar to paste form, but thinned with oil Oriental carpets or rugs either drying cleaning agent.

Enjoy Today's Beautiful Flowers

During the winter when fresh flowers are not readily available, attractive decorations may be made with dried flowers and ferns. Several beautiful dried arrangements in the Lacombe flower show.

Buying garden flowers is easy until something different is wanted. A selection of blossoms picked in mid-summer when the garden is at its peak can bring color into the home later, when it is most needed. It is important that all flowers to be dried should be picked just as they are reaching the height of their color and bloom. A dry, dark attic is the best place to dry flowers. Most spike flowers dry best tied together in small bunches hung from the rafters. Round flowers do better if the stem is put through a hole in an inverted cardboard box so that the petals rest gently on the net. Save large carrier and envelope sizes should be dried on a rack rather than a rotary enough to keep them from touching each other. If you plan to store the stems, do so before drying.

Ferns should be dried flat. Lay each frond separately between a sheet of newspaper and put about four or five layers under a heavy weight for about six weeks — out of the way of heavy traffic. The newspaper absorbs the moisture, the weight of the carpet presses the fronds flat and the delicate beauty shows to retain their natural color.

Another method of drying is to lay flowers head down on a mixture of borax and cornmeal (mixed in proportion one part borax to six parts corn meal) or in dry sand.

Another method is a chemical preparation — silica gel which it is reliable from florists. This may be used in the preparation of dried flowers. It works particularly well in preserving certain colors, especially blue.

Harold Rogers Family of Alix To Take Up Residence in Bentley

ALIX — With dismay for our locality but misery wishes for success in their new undertaking, friends of the Harold Rogers family learned last week that they were leaving their farm north here and moving to Bentley where Mr. Rogers will be salesmanager.

Then, neither of our rather large community families have to establish a home elsewhere. All the best of good wishes to the Harold Rogers family who will be in the vicinity from time to time during the coming winter.

Just how fast rapidly developing crops can become ready for the reaper is evident at the present time as gold replaces the summer green in the fields which we hope will yield abundantly.

In regard to the flower show, help will be appreciated on Thursday at 10 o'clock, so many of pay-ment, and 24 plants to pick up from neighborhood between 1 and 2 o'clock. Everyone is good enough to help!

All enjoyed the account of the early days of Hoover and especially Lemarchy given at the "Meet-in Flashback" program on Thursday evening by J. Cantre of Mr. Mrs. Ellen Loughridge.

The information in the town of Lacombe was a surprise to many of the newer residents, and must have created many comments for the old timers. Unfortunately not everyone heard the program and we hope that there is a re-broadcast of it possible for future use.

Congratulations to the Bigsby community club on the very well organized, newly displayed horticultural entries in their flower show held in their community center on Wednesday, August 16.

Rain Curtails Attendance and Entries at Alix Flower Show

AT ALIX FLOWER SHOW — Mrs Henry ... left) president of the Alix horticultural ... and Mrs D. Hayes, past president and present worker are busy arranging floral displays for the annual flower show held in the Alix arena last Saturday. Heavy rainfall kept down the number of entries, and contributed to a disappointing attendance. — Staff photo

ALIX — Lack of co-operation from the weather and "back to schoolers" resulted in a sharp paunting flower show last Saturday in the Alix arena when only 200 entries were received.

The annual meeting of the horticultural society was held Thursday September 9 at 8:30 p.m. at the S P Herbert home. Please be present and give your suggestions for future flow ... [illegible]

Harvest Time

AT time of writing, district farmers are about to start harvesting one of their best crops, although the yield per acreage might not be quite as great as previously reported. It seems a perfect growing year to satisfy everyone and even with the shortage with Hungary a few somewhere.

It has been a good season, starting off with ample moisture and rapid growth once the sun and warm weather arrived.

Summer was late in that crops were behind schedule. They were then hit by hail and rain—some in small fields and others over two or three thousand acres, and more grain will be hard to pick up.

Grain buyers have estimated yields at anywhere from 20 and 25 to 30 for the most for wheat, 40 to 50 for oats, and 25 to 40 for barley.

Now if the frost will hold off until the grain is safely in the bins! Who could ask for more?

Postal Salary Agreement

IT was interesting to learn that the 2,000 members of the Association of Canada were dissatisfied with the recent salary agreement by which the government. This means agreement with the idea that increased salaries would keep us abreast with 6,000 salary increases which Canada has awarded.

Fortunately, this disconcerted minority represented only about 30% of the total voting group. The majority were right-thinking men. They were reasonably satisfied they had a reasonable offer to the public, and to the government. They hoped efficient and prompt mail service is what is the result.

To the few within malcontents, we offer our sympathy. They obviously have a right to be dissatisfied with their remuneration today. Let them seek other occupations.

They are not worthy postal employees, and they never will be.

Size Of School Rooms

A UNITED States educational group of 1454 members at their recent annual conference that the trend must be to a reduction in size of classrooms. The ideal would be small classes are necessary. Individual attention is the best known training benefits from teacher training.

In theory, these remarks of Dr. A. W. Wolpert of the national education association in Washington, D.C. are sound. However, it would be wonderful to assess the pupil-teacher ratio as one to two or even one which is the equivalent of private tutelage.

Naturally Dr Wolpert didn't suggest this proportion but he did talk in terms of one teacher to every twenty pupils. He said the present average in the U.S. is one teacher to about thirty students.

The ratio is lower than this in schools in the Lacombe county but the efforts of the ATA are bent toward a ratio around the one-to-20 level suggested by Dr Wolpert.

Whether this is the ideal proportion is another question. There have been some optimum numbers taught at country schools in the last few years with as few as six students in the class, but the examination results did not indicate a significant improvement in those wards. there are other factors involved. A gifted teacher with the ability to impart knowledge can do the job equally well between 20 or 30 students, on occasion, although there are physical limits.

At any rate, the question is impractical at this stage. Cutting the size of classes would require more teachers at a time when there is a serious shortage of teachers. Fewer students per class would mean more rooms at a time when the taxpayer is complaining about the present capital outlay for new school buildings

The pressure exerted from three fires sides is likely to cause a current increase in the number of students per class, the ATA notwithstanding.

Reflections of the Times . . .

Pursuit of Happiness

That happiness is an elusive thing proves a certainty to those who feel they haven't enjoyed too much of it But what those people seem to forget is that happiness cannot be made up of work. Leisure is the reward of an active life.

There is no place for make believe in such a life You are not living through the day to please others or to put on a good show, but to meet your certain self at nightfall That self takes little account of what the world around you during the day said about you. They are incompetent to judge your compulsions and your purposes and if your standards are high you need pay no heed to their faint criticisms

Our being seeked is to extend the habit of mind in which a man is forever looking for something against which to defend himself and to turn your future with a positive spurt and a confident posture You must step resolutely from the clustered ills of home and school into the hurly burly of the working world. Having given your best thought to where the step will lead you, stride out boldly When Caesar with a small force of horse and foot soldiers reached the banks of the River Rubicon, he halted to consider the greatness of his enterprise Then, having weighed the difficulties against the gains, he said to his staff "Let the die be cast", and led his armies across the Rubicon to become master of Rome.

4-H Clubs to Organize

With the opening of school comes the season when we start to re-organize 4-H clubs. During the month of September, we try to get the 4-H dairy clubs organized, and set aside the month of October for the organization of the beef clubs.

Last year we had three dairy clubs in the district, three being the Bentley, Lacombe, and Clive Town clubs.

If there are boys and girls in the district interested in joining these clubs or if there is a district which wishes to organize a new club, they should contact our office. Boys and girls must be twelve years old by January 1, 1956, and not more than twenty by that time.

In order for a new multiple project club to organize, there must be at least twelve members and at least three carrying the same project. At the present time we do not have a multiple project club in the district

(...) work on widening No. 2 highway east of Lacombe between Tees and Bevor will probably finish on schedule this fall, according to E M Dunchak district engineer with the department of highways.

Crews are currently working on a three to four-mile stretch of road from Alix east toward Bevin.

Re-widening between Tees and Alix a distance of about 11 miles has been another project this summer Mr Dunchak said that a base course paving is to be applied on the portions widened this year

A 3.7 mile stretch of highway No. 12 between Lacombe and Tees was widened and paved last year. Mr Dunchak said the year ahead of that has been paved for the year while the widening has contained east.

It is expected that only 13 miles of highway No 12 between Bevin and Bentley will remain undeveloped by new construction by the end of this year

Near Drowning At Swim Pool At Wetaskiwin

A blast whistle told the youngsters in the pool that everything for the afternoon was over It was hour o'clock on Sunday.

As the wet and sloppy children scrambled out of the pool, Lifeguard Blanche White began her routine check of the water Instantly she noticed a boy lying at the bottom of the deep end of the pool.

Instantly she dived into the water and with the assistance of Jack Nicolson, dragged the boy to the edge of the pool Pete Fraser, a second life guard, began applying mouth-to-mouth resuscitation while Dale Sova pulled the boy out.

Mrs. Reid, life guard, Joan Brady called the ambulance and the doctor

Before the latter arrived, the girls had pumped the water out of the boy and revived him by mouth-to-mouth respiration.

The boy, 10-year-old Alan Clark of rural Thorsby, was taken to hospital for further treatment and released Monday afternoon.

Bad Weather Delays Work On Highway

Lacombe area contract crews travelling north to Edmonton are still using the old No. 2 highway despite earlier announcements that the new superhighway would be open to traffic by the fall.

There was a late construction start due to the wet spring and E. M. Dandruk, district engineer with the provincial department of highways said he is not sure whether the new highway No 2 will be open to traffic this year.

Contractors have been working [illegible] distance of about 10 miles from just north of Lacombe to Leduc. Although considerable work remains to be done, according to Mr Dandruk.

The interchange four miles north of Lacombe to a point west of Ponoka has been closed for several weeks for final paving, but will be open to traffic soon.

Do You Shop Wisely?

A consumer expert has come up with some suggestions to help housewives get more out of their shopping — suggestions that may help one to shop wisely and economically.

"First" he says, "shopping should be a deliberately planned undertaking. Otherwise, extravagances are apt to do and buy what the seller wants, and the motives of the seller may not be to her interest from the needs and desires of the shopper."

Use a list. A planned undertaking, he suggests, means using a shopping list and following a strategic plan. Without the list, shoppers are apt to randomly buy for far more than needed — "impulse buying", they term it.

Spot the items! Upon entering the store, a quick turn up and down the aisles should be made, keeping a watchful eye open for any "specials" which are called for on the counter or Specials are very often set up in displays quite apart from the regular stock Without first checking, a shopper may not see the "special" until a return trip after more than needed — "impulse buying", they term it.

Be called "name-brands" merchandise is not necessarily of superior quality to lesser known brands, but is usually more costly — due to a result of heavier selling and promotional expense which adds to costs but not to quality.

Moreover the oft-held belief that large package generally products more cheaply than small packages of the same brand is not always true Sometimes demand for the small size is so great that these can be provided by manufacturers at a lower comparable price than is asked for the large sizes.

Stick to one As one important rule it is suggested that shoppers should get into the habit of purchasing one grocery store well, rather than patronizing many of several The merit of this is that the trips to the one store there is more frequent, establishing the shopper to learn the advertising and promotional habits, become familiar with the location of goods, and especially the prices

Canada's regular communities on food price spreads found some evidence that despite the number of sales and specials, a basket of goods from one store as an area cost about the same as an identical basket from another in the same area Therefore, the economy of shopping around, hence losing the advantages of becoming familiar with one store, may be doubtful

Read labels Whatever day shopping is done, time should be taken to carefully compare weights offered as well as prices Containers that "look" to be the same size often vary with respect to both weight of contents and price Careful reading of the labels, along with price-weight comparisons, are needed to select a "best buy".

The Canada Pension Plan and its benefits

Here is what the Canada Pension Plan will do for people like Thor Anderson, a farmer who works for himself and makes $4,000 a year.

The Andersons are both aged 45 and have no family. If Thor's earnings continue at $4,000 a year until he reaches age 65, he can look forward to a retirement pension of $83.33 a month from the Plan. This, plus the $75 each Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will receive from Old Age Security, will give them a total of $233.33 a month—equal to 70% of Thor's previous average earnings.

If Thor becomes disabled anytime after 1970, having contributed until his disability began, he will get a disability pension of $67.50 a month. This will continue until he becomes 65 when he will receive his retirement and Old Age Security pensions.

Should Thor die anytime after 1967, having contributed until his death, his wife will receive a widow's pension of $36.25 a month until she becomes 65. From then on she will get $125 a month—$50 from the Plan and $75 from Old Age Security. At the time of Thor's death Mrs. Anderson will be entitled to a lump sum payment of $500.

All benefits under the Plan will maintain their value. The extent benefits payable will probably be higher than those given here since benefits will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs and in wage levels before they are paid and changes in living costs after they become payable.

What will the Plan cost you?

If you, like Thor, in a particular year, have self-employed earnings of $4,000 you will pay $96.00 in contributions, in the same way you pay income tax.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

Issued by authority of the Minister of National Health and Welfare, Canada.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Daddy (Ernest Bennett), who departed Sept. 7, 1977.
Time and lonely you has passed
Since our dear father died at last.
We think that he regretted
Not one day
He ate and was left
When he was sad and lonely,
And everything gone wrong,
I turn to you mighty Father
And you are always there.
Thank you for your prayers.
You were so meek and mild
Your love for kids, I'm just not reminded We'll meet again some day.
Sadly missed by daughter and son in law Agnes and Joe Bell Sasso.

In memory of Bert McElroy who passed away September 5, 1968.
Life is gone but not forgotten
And as duties arise each year
In our hearts hours of thinking
Thoughts of him are always near
Years of sadness will come and go
Many thanks the wound is healed,
But there never be memory
That lies in the heart concealed.
Loving wife and Daughters

In loving memory of Leonard and Ida Mae Ann (Pat) McLennan who passed away Feb 17 1958 and Sept 6 1978.
The depths of heaven we cannot tell,
At the door of death we bowed as well,
And while they stood a peaceful song,
Their memory we shall always keep
Sadly remembered by Herb Helen and family and Henry Mclennan and family

Make Gas Inspection Downtown

Persons curious of Lacombe is included this year in a gas premises survey conducted by local employees of Northwestern Utilities Ltd on a five-year cycle.

Manager Jack Cullen together with Neil Black and Thomas Greenwell visit the premises of customers to inspect all gas outlets, appliances and chimneys.

Purpose of the survey is to ensure that all gas heating equipment is operating as efficiently and economically as possible. Any adverse conditions is brought to the attention of the consumer.

A gas survey is required every five years, and one-fifth of the homes and related area is done each year.

Mr. Cullen says there are about 1 500 gas meters under the jurisdiction of the Lacombe office, which covers gas services at Blackfalds, Bentley, Eckville, Penhold, Innisfail, and areas between.

Columnist Writes Letter of Advice

Dear 'Teen-Ager

Dear Good Teenager

I received another one of your letters, today.

For a long time now you've been writing me the same letter over and over again.

You think you are clever because you have discovered from Pen to Rent, and Rent Her. I'm sure to you because you always say the same things.

You always begin by demanding that good teenagers be given more credit for not being bad.

You also say that your precious image is being distorted by a few bad teenagers.

Then you say that nobody understands your how-you-gonna-act here valiantly you have resorted being a hot-rodder a rubber a member of gut, a muffler of glass, a drop-out, and a menace to society.

Besides you don't hit your teacher and you study and maybe you work after school and you are a joy to your parents.

Then you conclude by proclaiming that you are a good teenager and you ought to be given full credit for it.

Now, you know you don't mean it by writing about how we adults ought to build our character about the Beatles. So now you are into religion and the Beatles are not subjects to be discussed.

Good teenagers, I'm sick of it, you know?

I'm a good adult I don't go around taking pop pills and shooting people.

My reward is that I don't get thrown in jail. That is also your reward.

To Number

You don't punch your teacher I don't punch my boss. So you get an education and I keep my job.

You don't but red your car? I don't but red nose either. We'll both live longer and maybe save some money on lockets.

You cut the lawn and carry out the garbage? Kid, I pay for the lawn and the garbage too.

You work after school I work after school. You can't [illegible] that will look good toward getting an excellent reward. And don't forget that for years I have been contributing part of mine to [illegible] are an [illegible] component of

All Bicycles Need Lights

WITH the dark evenings of fall and early winter descending, bicycle riders in the town of Lacombe should see to it that their bikes are properly fitted with lights and reflector gauges.

Too many households have been deprived of a mother, father, son or daughter dark or after dark bicycle riding taken with no headlight or tail light. There is no excuse for this and where the dark shadows and starlit materials.

It used to be that most bicycle riders used the sidewalks, and when it was the duty of motorists to be suddenly shaken by the good-like appearance of someone on a bicycle.

Since the construction of several miles of pavement in town streets, bicycle riders can enjoy much travel on the roads and they are now more in the habit of obeying the by-law which provides bicycle operation on sidewalks.

The dangers have been multiplied, however, because of fast moving traffic on thoroughfares. To satisfy a police, all cyclists should see to it that their bicycles are equipped with lights front and back, and that they obey the rules on the road conscientiously.

Political Presents

WHAT prime minister Lester B. Pearson and opposition leader John Diefenbaker had to say on their recent quick tweeters across the country like an election campaign hall. It leaves on sour.

Their statements missed the key issue in which politics has much in this country. Their efforts of bribery with our own money is an affront to the intelligence of the Canadian people.

Prime minister Pearson was in Vancouver. He promised that only a two-million-dollar federal grant toward construction of a civic centre. The prime minister and Prime George he saw the need for a new airport in that city.

We don't argue the merits or otherwise of these proposed buildings, but it would seem elementary that the leader of Canada should be a necessary to announce any commercial, large or small, in the country he visits.

Mr Diefenbaker was no assistance in Edmonton and he would make local property taxes deductible from federal income tax. He explained that a local owned parcel of land relief from their ruinous burden of high property taxes. What Mr Diefenbaker didn't explain was that costs of federal government are going up constantly as the state volunteers more special services, and that the same people will be contributing the same money in a different tax form.

The average Canadian would like to see less electioneering and more reason from party leaders.

Reflections of the Times . . .

Too Old at 31

Although modern medical science has gone a long way toward raising the life expectancy of mankind, the promise of greater longevity is not without its hazards.

Already very ill year-olds are complaining they shouldn't have to retire so early, because they are still in their work. And even over 65, who are late old to qualify for pension plans and therefore have trouble finding jobs, are running a storm because they're losing discrimination against.

While physical well-being at 65 is one of the marvels of modern society it doesn't guarantee one's mental outlook will be quite as contemporary. Anybody over 30 who has talked to a bright high school kid about modern problems is likely to be left with the feeling that old fogeys like himself are still living back in the Stone Age.

There's no cop, unfortunately of course, that older people will be on hand with the times. Sudden great changes in modern society are apt to leave us all behind unless we make strenuous efforts to adapt.

The mental gulf between young and old seems to be widening at a time when physical differences are less than ever before.

[illegible] shall a man [illegible] and rob me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings. Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.

If these prepare thine heart, and stretch out thine hands toward him; then shalt thou lift up thy face without spot; yea, thou shalt be stedfast, and thou shalt not fear.

GREEN ACRES

How Good Is Your Hay?

There is an abundant supply of hay in the countryside this year, and the question often asked is: How good is it? There has been a rumor around to the effect that the early cut hay did not have too much feed value in it. However this rumor is unfounded as analysis from the university feed testing laboratory show.

Heath Veleska who has a dairy farm west of Lacombe sent in two samples of hay for analysis. The one sample was from hay that was cut early but went through considerable weathering while the other sample was cut later and was put up with little or no weathering. The first sample had a protein content of 11.9% while the second sample had 9.8%. The reason that the early cut hay has a higher protein content than the late cut is in spite of weathering.

Comments from the animal nutrition department of the university on these samples were to the effect that the feed values for these samples are similar to mixtures of that type. A ration of 30 pounds of this hay, 5 pounds of mixed cattle of these hay, 5 to 6 pounds concentrate, 3 to 4 pounds of silage and 1 to 2 pounds of grain would be plenty for a 1,000-lb cow giving 30 pounds of milk a day.

In such as our grain we can [illegible] to bring the protein content level of protein up to 14% by using about 7 pounds of grain and one pound of a 35% protein supplement per day for the cow producing 30 pounds of milk.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son, Private Richard Stewart who passed away September 15, 1964.
"Wonderful memories forever as gold.
Those are the memories, we tenderly hold
Deep in hearts, those memories are kept,
To love and to cherish and never forget.
Your presence grieve we most with sorrow,
For part of us went with you tomorrow.
— Sorry remembrance and sadly missed by Father, Mother and Harold, Loretta and Bob. 38-1p

In loving memory of Grandpa Philip Hoffman who passed away September 17, 1964.
His thoughts were all so full of us,
His never said forget.
And we can think that where he is,
He must be watching yet.
Sadly missed by Grandchildren, by request, the Grandchildren. 38-1p

In loving memory of Bill and Bernice who passed away Sept. 17, 1964.
"A cluster of fondest memories,
Encased with sweet tears,
Nothing God hath spared you
For just a few more years.
Then remembered and sadly missed by wife, friend. 38-1p

In loving memory of Herald F. Hansell who passed away Sept. 15, 1964.
Just a year has gone and no one knows
But your heart and love we lovingly remember
Because we thought the world of you.
God gave us strength to take it
And courage to face the blow
And what it meant to love you,
He only will ever know
We bless the years you spent with us.
Your heart was true and tender
You stayed with those you loved so well,
And left us to remember
Lovingly remembered by Mom, Dad and family 38-1ch

Our Civic Officials

NEXT Wednesday, September 22, is nomination day for towns and villages in Alberta. In Lacombe, if history will be held three weeks later.

Civic elections are not over and each year is "gone" that a community is alive and kicking. A town can still rest from the public without the need of a bell.

Despite the apathy of it all that's necessary and even this is sometimes hard to do because of the inherent laziness of the citizen. There is little remuneration. There is sometimes a bit of hard work. There is a standard quota of complaints to deal with in the progress of events.

Even with these drawbacks, there is always room for alert citizens to be representatives by acclamation year after year. A strong city council is the envy of many a town.

Another Federal Election

PRIME minister L. B. Pearson has set the unexpected and seven years to the month after the last general election on November 8. Political pundits had been busy for months predicting the date; some previously, and it is probable that the prime minister's mind was made up before he made his withdrawal visit to western Canada for the purpose of "sounding" of public opinion.

Where does this leave the voter? In somewhat of a confused state, because there are no three party lines that either him coats closely.

Many Canadians, for example, are alarmed at the growing trend toward a one man, 24 hour, wiring degrees, they object to the bilingualism of compulsory membership in the Canada pension plan, and to the nominal "right to strike" of all essential services. The objection is strong enough in some cases for an expression against the government at the

Watch For Swindlers

LAST week, The Globe published a news story warning farmers to beware of persistent people in town fake salesmen of grain storage buildings.

With the grain harvest farmers can become hard-pressed for granary space, and the promise of speedy delivery of new construction from smooth-talking strangers can often cost money.

Do business with merchants you know. Otherwise, the better Bussiness bureau suggests that farmers:

Check the salesman's credentials. Be aware of what you're signing. Don't sign a contract already filled out. Be sure all terms of any contract are thoroughly and clearly understood before signing.

Reflections of the Times . . .

Importance of School Years

The school entrer time of any child, although considered in youth, is only a short span of the school life time which means every day must count for some achievement or an increase in skills.

There is no time in the school year for extra play time, for unobtrusive time for lack of interest or loose key. The successful student must concentrate and pay attention each day of the year to merit success.

Missing a grade is a tragedy that can only be avoided by perfect team work between teacher and pupilWith the all-

From Island, new fauna and new ideas are part of a few experiences.

Town of Lacombe is in the situation of having had a few lasting effects of civic leadership in recent years. There is no need to dwell on these changes.

Still it looks probable that two new names will be added to the council table this September. Councillor Billie Kimball has died of ill health and councillor Ivan Hammond will not accept re-nomination. Lacombe and district board of trade should be looking around for replacements.

Nomination day is only one week away, so the question of getting names on a suitable slate of candidates (two for council, two for hospital board, pun the mayor's name) should not be left to the last moment.

County Events Calendar

This year the Lacombe county rural development team is again publishing an agricultural events calendar. This year, in connection with charge began to get under way. Lacombe for the months of May, January and December, 1965, and September, March, and April, 1966.

The purpose of the calendar is to list all the events of agricultural interest that will be going on in the county of Lacombe for that six-month period. It's hoped that the calendar, "Agricultural" will help solve a real county problem — that of not knowing what's going on in the county. Many farmers, businessmen, and others will get their information at the right time.

Those who are already submitted and we find that there are many more ideas for the calendar, we would like to hear from you. Please call the office and let us know of these items.

All announcements must have been received by October 10 if they want their items in the calendar.

The service is provided free of charge to any individual and will be circulated to all rural people in the county.

Soil Testing

Now is the time to take soil samples and send them in for analysis to the soil and feed testing laboratory.

The Canada Pension Plan and its benefits

Here is what the Canada Pension Plan will do for people like Joe Costello, a 35-year-old commercial laborer who earns $80 a week.

If Joe continues to work full time until age 65 he can look forward to retiring with a monthly pension of $54.16 from the Canada Pension Plan and $75 from Old Age Security—a total of $129.16. That's almost 40% of what he was earning.

If he is ill or out of work for as long as two years, or if his earnings for a period of up to five years are below his regular wage, he will receive the same pension at age 65. This is because under the Plan a certain number of months of low or no earnings do not affect the amount of the pension.

If Joe wishes to continue working between 65 and 70 and earns higher wages than previously he can improve his pension. For example, if he works until age 69 and earns $5,000 a year, his pension will be $83.76 a month instead of $54.16.

If Joe becomes disabled after 1970, having contributed for at least 5 years, he will get a disability pension of $65.62 a month until he gets both his retirement and Old Age Security pensions at age 65.

All benefits under the Plan will maintain their value. The actual benefits payable will probably be higher than those given here since benefits will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs and to wage levels before they are paid and changes in living costs after they become payable.

What will the Plan cost you?

If you, like Joe Costello, are employed and have earnings of $5,000 spread evenly over the year, you will pay at the rate of $82 a week. Your employer will pay the same amount.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

Council Accepts Tender For Curbs, Sidewalks

Tenders received on the 1966 curb and gutter improvement program in a number of residential areas this fall, providing authority is received in time from the provincial government in Edmonton.

Only one tender was submitted, and council at its meeting on Monday last week accepted the contract price of $59,305.50 from Fort Construction Co., despite the fact it is $4,000 over the by-law authorizing a borrowing of $55,000.

It is this hurdle which council seeks permission to surmount from officials in Edmonton.

Councillor Don Dow explained to members of council that the bid was more than expected due to rising costs. The curb-and-gutter rate was $2.10 per foot, he said, compared to $1.82 last year and the monolithic (combined curb and gutter and sidewalk) rate was $3.50, compared to $3.00 last year.

[illegible] submitted in recent advertisements. The Globe, under a local improvements proposal.

Baby Bonus Can Help to Buy College Education

Most parents are only too well aware that it takes a great deal more than luck for a boy or girl to go to college. That's why far-sighted mothers and fathers who want to give their children the best possible in life plan far in advance for the rising costs of higher education.

For many Canadian parents the monthly family allowance cheque provides an opportunity to build the groundwork of a savings program designed to cover the costs of higher education when the time for their children arrives.

Family allowance cheques for one child, if deposited on a B of M savings account until the age of 18, will total more than $1,000, including interest the bank pays. It's only one benefit a college student enjoys.

If you're in doubt as to what it might cost in the long run to send your boy or girl to college, why not drop in at the Lacombe branch of the Bank of Montreal and ask the Manager. He will be pleased to discuss the matter with you.

Too Much Government

If there is a civic election here next October 13, there is likely to be a fair amount of confusion at the polling station.

No less than seven separate polling places will be set up (all at the Lacombe memorial centre) to accommodate an estimated 2,000 voters on the roll.

A new provision in the town and village act makes it mandatory for a community to operate a poll for every 300 electors. This, Lacombe is required to open seven polls to live up to the letter of the law.

Two polls operating from one desk has always been sufficient in the past — even during the most hectic and heated elections in Lacombe's recent history when the mayor's office was contested. Around 1,500 cast ballots. Because the polls were open from 10:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. voting was fairly evenly spread throughout the day. Only during rush hours — noon or in the evening did voters have to wait and the line-up was never long.

If polls have been found sufficient, by experience what will a returning officer and his deputies do with their time each deciding a polling station? It is a waste of manpower and a waste of money.

Department of municipal affairs with the provincial government should recommend the order immediately. Sometimes the law is an ass, as the expression goes.

Burning Indictment

A SHARP indictment against Canada's television and radio industry is contained in the recent Fowler royal commission report. It is doubtful whether Canadians can look forward to much improvement in the future despite a number of suggested remedies.

Broadcasting is a complex business. A program must be responsive to appeal to people of all ages and of all tastes and temperaments and it just can't be done. The producers keep trying, and it is for this reason that they come up with a number of hum-drum T-V and radio shows that are flat, inoffensive and painful.

They don't fire the imagination. They don't provide for emphasis to boost the mental processes and make a viewer or listener think. They are generally a waste of time and a person at the end of a program feels cheated just like he does after spending two hours at a theatre watching a useless movie.

The Fowler report bluntly states that Canadian broadcasting is being increasingly dominated by the worst American programming. It recommends that highest priority should be given to providing improved service basically Canadian in content and character. This is a questionable argument because Canada is not a big country and it is not rich in tradition and history and culture. The effort to transmit more Canadian themes may be prohibitive to some U.S. productions.

The report finds that CTV carries few programs of real substance. It finds the CBC lacking in cohesion and says it is trying to push radio failing to fill the void because it is over-conscious about the rush register.

Normally government interference in business is to be despised, but the broadcasting industry is a little different and a good shaking-up won't hurt. The criticism is justified.

Reflections of the Times . . .

By Bird Lore

It's interesting how connotations of words change. High River is having pigeon trouble.

As happens concerning all things in our democratic society, the opinions of some different things to different citizens.

One member of the pigeon family is the dove. The dove is commonly thought of as an example of peace, a symbol of gentleness and good will.

The large category of pigeons is defined as a chopping bird, often trained to carry messages. Doves are said to bill and coo, pigeons merely coo.

In the days of our young cities most substantial residences in High River boasted barns or stables on their property. Some more outbuildings often supported something elaborate in the way of pigeon lofts. Those stables passed of the early 1920's were succeeded with weather vanes, the freedom of the false business, and the contradiction of coating, grooming, strutting avian elegance. Today's pigeons have become nuisances, to be classed with the pollens and the no-pull of the common cuisine, matters of nuisance, not of interest, an offence to a neighborhood.

The term pigeon variously means to pull or pluck in such a way a fowl's ground, to be timed and easily frightened. To pigeon-hole it is comparatively easy to be pigeon-livered or derogatory in explication.

A surprising development is the term dove pigeon. Originally the meant a goose or dunny. Today's sewage system more condominatory implications. According to a dictionary, a dove-pigeon is an informant, spy or informer. According to present-day use, the once dignified term of spy embodies an attempt to hide the information is working. If he's for us, he's an heroic spy and performing a dramatic task. If he's against us he's a cruel pigeon and a despicable rascal.

And when individuals throughout our democratic society begin so to so together one another overwhelmingly depending whether or not they are all pro and con with the whims and thoughts of authority at all levels, then we become sitting ducks indeed.

All of which as a way of life is strictly for the birds.

Letters to The Editor

Eatonwood
September 13, 1965

Editor, Lacombe Globe,
Lacombe, Alberta.

Dear Sir:

We, the families, Wm. Hinds 16 at Eatonwood, which appeared in last week's paper came as surprise and shock to many local residents. Then, more perturbed than either shocked or surprised. We read on . . . "reasonably satisfied" . . . "public meeting held."

When were reasonably satisfied (certainly not even the majority of the few about eight families involved.) Could this be called a public meeting? Was it of so little importance that the people elected representatives, Mr A. Lemmon—was not even notified?

Do the people of this area lack the motivation and intelligence to face facts and free reasonable conclusions, to act as necessity or opportunity demands.

Where is really said YES or NO to be considered "strictly business" or is this an example of "Democratic"

What could happen next?

A Eatonwood resident.

Home Economist

Fresh Up For Fall

Take a good look at the sheer curtains in your home Are they a little limp and perhaps grey from a summer's blowing at open windows?

Home economists with the Ontario department of agriculture offer suggestions for freshening up sheer curtains made from lacy lone or durene fiber They point out that [illegible] need a real wash in warm suds and rinse in warm and a resistance to sunlight But they also have a [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] should be washed frequently to [illegible]

Find the type of curtain when you take it down for washing If you hunch them instead, you create creases which are difficult to remove Soak the fold ed curtain in cool water for 15 minutes to loosen soil and dust Then drain the water and lift the curtains out, taking care not to squeeze or wring them. Squeezing these material can produce wrinkles which may never be removed Avoid hot water as well but water only creases synthetic fabrics

Mimic loading curtains in cool water and heavy-duty detergent or soap Swish them around for a few minutes and let stand for five minutes more Drain the water off and rinse the curtains still folded as cool water If your water is hard you may get whiter results by using a water softener in the final rinse Repeat rinsing until rinse water remains clear

Blot the folded curtains with dark towels and hang them on a firm rod or line If you hang them carefully and fidget pins in the hem or frills the [illegible] should not require ironing

The Canada Pension Plan and its benefits

Here is what the Canada Pension Plan will do for people like Huguette Bernier, a 32-year-old married woman who earns $460.80 a week.

Huguette and her husband, who is earning $4,300 a year, hope that Huguette will work for a few years before family needs require her attention full time.

Assuming that Huguette does just this, her contributions to the Plan will benefit her in several ways. For example, if she works only for another five years, at age 65 she will receive a small retirement pension of $8.36 a month in addition to her $75 a month Old Age Security.

Through her husband's contributions to the Plan, should he die when they have three young children, Huguette would receive a widow's pension of $97.81 a month plus $25 a month for each child—a total of $147.81 a month. She would also receive a lump sum payment of $300.

At age 65, based upon both her own and her husband's contributions she would receive a pension of $97.33 a month plus $75 a month Old Age Security—a total of $172.33.

If she decided to supplement her income at any time by returning to work, she could still receive the widow's and orphan's benefits, could subsequently increase her retirement pension, and could also ensure her entitlement to a disability pension if she became disabled.

All benefits under the Plan will maintain their value. The annual benefits payable will probably be higher than those given here since benefits will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs and in wage levels before they are paid and changes in living costs after they become payable.

What will the Plan cost you?

If you are employed and, like Huguette, have earnings of $5,976 spread evenly over the year, you will pay at the rate of $12 a week. Your employer will pay the same amount.

The advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

Issued by authority of the Minister of National Health and Welfare, Canada.

Homemaker's Worth

Did you ever stop to wonder how much your daily work is worth a week? Again A here is one Lloyd Wilson, who, combining with personnelistic economics and actuary principles, has arrived at a homemaker's wage in $153.18 for a 97.5 hour week. Mrs. Lloyd's wage would be $4 007.28 in the U.S. and slightly lower in Canada.

Here . . . the basis breakdown of the average housewife's job — approximate duration of task, current rate per hour and total value per week.

High School Football

THERE is a certain glamour and glory attached to a football team especially a high school team with assembling time and a girls cheer squad on the sidelines. Right a feast of fun on the sidelines cannot are starting to worry about the number of injuries on the playing field. Several young boys have been dealt an early blow to their football hopes

PROTECT YOUR HOME

Only YOU can prevent the senseless and tragic loss of life and property caused each year by fire. Last year, the death toll rose almost 70%. In Alberta, 71 people, 30 of them children, lost their lives in the flames of accidental fires. Damage to homes amounted to almost 3 million dollars. Fire prevention is YOUR responsibility. Look for the hazards now, during Fire Prevention Week, and always as an adult.

Dies in Accident

Ewen Love, 20-year-old Mirror resident, was killed instantly about 12:55 a.m. last Saturday when the car he was driving smashed into a stationary freight train at a level crossing on the west side of Mirror on highway No 56.

Jury Attaches No Blame in Double Death on CPR Track

The train crew was absolved of any blame in a railroad accident here last August 6 that took the lives of two Lacombe men, in a coroner's jury verdict reached at an inquest held in the LMC court room last Wednesday afternoon.

Serving on the jury were foreman H C Brown Andy Whyte, George Waiser, Bob Park, Cliff [illegible] and Russell Lemon.

The official finding was that "On August 6, 1965, train No 6815 at approximately 3 25 p.m. at a point 600 feet from the public railway crossing at Lacombe (street) Mr Mike Kmeciansky and Mr Gordon Peterson (sic) the above named engine (train) going south

"As a result of this accidental collision, the above met their untimely death The jury absolves the train crew of any blame."

Dr John McKibbon, coroner read the postmortem report showing that Mr Kmeciansky, 60, died of severe multiple injuries, broken bones, and a ruptured heart, and that Mr Peterson 35 died of multiple head injuries and a fractured skull

Chief constable Orest Behur of Lacombe called four witnesses to the stand after giving his own report.

He said that the southbound freight train was parked on the southbound speeder transporter at the two victims, who were on [illegible]

He said that the point of impact was at the "whistle post about 200 yards north of the crossing, and that each man was thrown a distance of 116 feet, one on either side of the tracks The speeder was telescoped 201 feet

Chief Behur said it was his opinion that power and telephone lines could obscure the approach of the train from the north on the curved track

George Pedan of Edmonton, fireman on locomotive No 6815, estimated the freight's speed at 45 m.p.h.

He testified that the freight gave a long blast whistle at the "whistle stop" about one mile north. As it rounded the corner, he saw the two men on the speeder about 100 feet ahead and told the engineer to put on the brake of emergency and sound the whistle which he did

The train came to rest just south of the public crossing, according to Mr Pedan It was a [illegible] through freight which was not [illegible]

Next witness Harry Hallsten of Edmonton, gave testimony that he [illegible] Saturday. He was a mile north At the same time he reduced the speed of the freight at this point from 55 to 45 m p.h.

Sitting on the left hand side [illegible] around the curve he did not see the speeder until it was directly in front about 150 feet away

He acted on the fireman's warning and put the train in a state of emergency sounding the whistle from that time until the freight stopped at the public crossing a distance of about one-quarter of a mile

He gave evidence under questioning that the men were sitting on the speeder with their backs to the train, both looking south They made no attempt to move as though they weren't aware of the approach of the freight.

Alex Sallusky of Edmonton in his capacity as conductor was in charge of the 22 car freight. He was riding on the cabside at the rear of the train

He knew nothing until the train was in a state of emergency at which time he thought perhaps an automobile had stalled on the crossing Then he saw the bodies of the two men lying on either side and reported the accident He agreed with the approximate distance given by the [illegible]

Mr Sallusky stated that the men on the speeder apparently failed to see or heard the red light on the railroad [illegible]

The last witness, CPR telegrapher Jack Lidster of Lacombe, explained how train lineups are received and filed Notice of the arrival of this freight was received from the south Edmonton dispatcher [illegible]

He said the section men receive their time-slip [illegible] calling at the office Mr Lidster could not recall either man checking the train lineups for that day although it was possible one or both could have done so without being noticed.

Chief Constable Behur said no copy of the train lineup was found on the person of Mr Kmeciansky or Mr Peterson.

Of a loved one gone to rest
Wishing God had spared you
For just a few years more
Sadly missed by your mother, Mrs. Ruth Bowen and family. 1-1-p

In loving memory of dear Eugene Lee Bowen who passed away on October 7, 1964.
There's one we love
Who is out of sight
But never out of mind.
He lives forever in our hearts,
Dear and kind.
So left behind
To be surrounded by his wife and daughter.

I would like to thank Dr. Hall, Dr. McGregor, Dr. Harvey and staff for the kindness and care I received during a patient at the hospital. I would also like to thank my friends for the baskets and cards, and a special "thank you" to nurse Mrs. Wise who put my hand to bed and stitched. This was greatly appreciated.

Our School Principals

Frank Freeman came to Lacombe from England in 1939 on a year's leave of absence and he's been here ever since and he's raised the county's best people so much that there never is want to leave.

Mr. Freeman was born at Bradford-on-Avon the home of William Shakespeare. He went to the local school at Bradford-upon-Avon although not at the same time" he made it still a secret.

Mr. Freeman was a teacher and principal of a school in Wiltshire in the southern part of England for the better part of 12 years. Then he received his degree of education degree from the university of Alberta in Edmonton in 1956, after a short stint as principal of Bentley.

They have no children. Both have been very active in community affairs. Mr Freeman was mayor of the Village of Blackfalds for six years and has been a strong supporter of home-and school.

Mrs Freeman has served as leader of girl guides and secretary of the curling club.

They moved to Red Deer in October 1963 and now commute back and forth.

Mr. Freeman says he sees no morning and gardening as his pet interest as his outdoor duty.

They have been back to England three times on holiday visits and hope to make another two there next year.

Chigwell Farmer Loses Pair Finger-Tips in Accident

CHIGWELL — Harvesting is well underway at last, after more than a month of wet weather with rain and snow.

We are sorry to report of an accident of the farm of Al Watters. Mr. Watters had the tips of three fingers taken off on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Thomas and Margaret Lynne were over and renewed acquaintance with Mr. and Mrs. N. Shreve. Mr. Thomas attended a conference of school supervisors recently in Red Deer on Saturday.

George Manor of Innisfail is back in our area helping get the crop off on the farm here.

Mr. Fred Wilson harvested 14 acres of corn amount 15 tons to the silo.

Mrs. L. Berube brought two potatoes to the store this week, each weighing just over 2 lbs. Canso then were.

Another lady brought a pail-full of large potatoes, assorted kinds and colors but all beauties.

Hot evenings have stopped laying. Or maybe the ladies are too busy these days to get them. But with prices up they should do so.

Could you use an extra $10,000?

Who couldn't? This substantial cash reserve can be yours by merely putting $1.00 a day into an investment plan. Those few dollars a week will grow into $10,000 in just twenty years!

Right now more than 150,000 Canadians are making their dreams come true through investors Syndicate. And there's an investors plan just right for you.

Take the first step to a financially secure future. Call your Investors Man — He's your best friend financially.

Fire Brigade Big Community Asset

THE fire week is fire prevention week in Canada, and The Globe would like to take time out and become a hero in the direction of the Lacombe volunteer fire department.

The Lacombe brigade is made up of 17 men, and despite the limitations such limited facilities in practice. They are also on call at all hours of the day or night in case of an emergency. They have been rushed out of bed in the dark hours by the low siren. They have bought fires sometimes at no-nice zero weather. They have shown outstanding devotion to duty. They have established a fine record in the town and district over the years.

It is not too often that the people of this community show their appreciation. The editors of The Globe know just the name that local residents take pride and comfort in knowing an efficient fire department always on call. The same holds true with the brigades in the surrounding villages.

It is this feeling of appreciation that The Globe would like to transmit to the firemen on this notable occasion. Fire prevention week. Thank you for your service!

About Automobiles and Such

CITY of Calgary has now attained the questionable reputation of boasting the greatest number of cars per capita of any city on the north American continent Calgary surpassed the pre vious leader Los Angeles somewhat early with a great upsurge of recent car buying.

There is now a car in Calgary for every 2.2 persons according to the latest survey statistics Perhaps this is an unwanted claim to fame because every large metropolis is paralyzed by traffic Calgary with its narrow streets is no exception although it is to the credit of civic planners that the traffic flow has been kept moving by the introduction of one-way streets

What about the exhaust fumes? Does this mean that Calgary is also one of the unhealthiest cities to live in? Is it by the same token one of the most expensive? Besides the need for more parking facilities and street improvements must necessary.

On the credit side, Calgary must be commended for its far-sighted civic planners that the richest cities if so many of their citizens can afford cars.

"Every family should have two" is the slogan of one business concern.

We wish the same expression could be extended to include The other "family of readers" in this district.

Scouts Juniper Lodge Approach

The Lacombe service centre near Lacombe is shaping up handsomely. Alberta There is nothing that is permanent while it remains vacant. However, a beginning is made by the fact that two signs out here to get into this particular centre. Signs mean only message to motorists. The centre is a credit to the province and one many Albertans like to stop at because it is a good place to stop. The fact is to those travelling north only just a welcome place to a sudden for the urban needs of the motorist who knows about the centre and making an effort to find the proper approach plan does not eliminate crossings. The crossing could be better at a point where both traffic

LINCOLN — October meeting of the Lincoln community club was held last week and at the Morehouse home with nine members and 14 visitors in attendance Plans were made for catering to the annual A. T.A. banquet to be held in the memorial centre on October 25.

An informative and interesting talk was given by the home economist, Mrs. Sharp, on new fabrics and their care.

Mr. and Mrs. Jameson Sr. of Edmonton spent the thanksgiving week end at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Duckworth.

Others who are expected to crash the line-up but have not been turning out in regular practices include Lloyd Orre, Jim Fleming (he played with the Bombers two years ago) and Don Gee.

As far as is known by the authority concerned, Coach Bill McConkey wants to play for Red Deer this year. Dick Dunnigan is sending up his duties, and among the doubtful returnees are Ian Tuohey and Al LaPierre.

With that he returned to the ice to put his charges through another rigorous practice session.

Rams Like Cliff Hangers

(By Terry Jones)

Deaths seem to have an odd way of deciding Lacombe Rams high school football games of late

One week ago Tuesday, the Rams lost 1-0 to Stettler on a single which came with almost no gun second remaining in the game.

Saturday in Lacombe, Bob Stettler broke a 0-0 tie with the Peneta Bowers with less than a minute and a half left in the outing.

The split gave the Rams a three-way tie for second place in the five-team high school loop Innisfail is first with six points on three victories in as many games Stettler Red Deer and Lacombe are all tied with four points

Innisfail however has a game in hand over the ladders and Rams, and Red Deer has the best of the tie and against Innisfail. The Piranha has left the hapless Rams in the cellar by a margin of four games

Saturday in Red Deer, the Rams will take the Rosebud school could prove to be the game which will decide which club occupies the three and final playoff berth. After that, the Rams will face the doubled-up-by-the-first Innisfail Dandelions twice, and the Wildcats once on a home and home basis.

Then comes the Rams' final game of the schedule which is against Red Deer and the Rams a playoff spot.

At Stettler what was surely the best game of the season from the view point of the spectator Bobcat Bill Hendrickson headed his last second and game winning touchdown.

Harrington, the two backs one which set up a touchdown the other which set up the single.

On his back the ball rolled from the 17 yard line to the end zone where Hendrickson fell on it for the TD

Harrington's other touch was also recovered deep in Peneta territory, but the Rams offense were dead as a doornail.

What's next there's a touchdown Stettler proved to be up to the task in letting lose a 70-yard hit better punts which floated deep into the Rams end zone and made a rumbuck impossible

Drumheller Arena Completely Destroyed in Sunday Blaze

Drumheller memorial arena — with an estimated value of $500,000 — was completely destroyed in a fire of unknown origin Sunday night.

The 30-year-old wooden frame building, renovated in 1957 seated 1 500 people. It was completely destroyed. Fire was believed to have started in the newly-installed freezing plant, which services both the arena and the curling rink.

Drumheller — Wearing this English livery, Prince Andrew, second son of the queen of England, strolls around the grounds of Prospect House near Windsor Castle in London. His mother, Queen Elizabeth, is expecting her fifth birthday.

There are ears to promote the appreciation of the art of film through showings, discussions and occasional lectures. While the increase has recently changed to once in every two weeks, the response seems closely with the wider range of subjects in the programs being found.

Governments and Administrative Costs

IDEALISTIC governments with few prospects restaining the handling of vast sums of public money require an economical administering system which is formed the control of the government in power. No matter how high the ideas or how well said the plans, political student generally becomes entangled in a network of bureaucratic routine and high administrative costs when direct public funds accrue as a result of government programs.

This is the type of administrative spending which strikes fear into us when considering the Canadian pension plan. A good case can be made for it, as we have to which everyone contributes and from which everyone will receive benefits. It must be kept in mind though that this pension plan gives government agencies control over a staggering amount of money each year, and you can bet that an organization staggering sums will be required to administer it.

The pension plan is the type of government project started with high ideals which becomes smothered in stifling expensive administration. The advertising costs in publicizing the pension plan alone have put the scarce millions of dollars into debt before it even gets off the ground, as various "advertising" companies go to work.

The Canadian public has been sold on a different ways what a fine world lies ahead with the introduction of the pension plan next year. It would be much more in the point to be told how much of every dollar paid in for pensions will be paid out in pensions. It's remembered "refund" fees on this plan Canadians have a right to this figure.

For Educational Standardization

EDUCATION and the need for more of it is being preached from every rostrum at present in the country today. The necessity to short-circuiting the need for survival and is going to cost more public money ... much more we are told.

The Borden report for instance, wants a portion of maintenance on Canada's university training and physical plants which is almost frightening. Its commission many interesting considerations from this federal government and more from the provincial governments.

But there are many inadequacies in our educational system than those caused by lack of money. One of these, and possibly the most annoying is the differences in the various provincial school systems. This flaw is one which will take no money to remedy. It requires only co-operation between the provincial departments of education.

It is ridiculous to have different requirements for different grades in different provinces. In this day and age with a highly migratory population a standard for education becomes a vital necessity.

In British Columbia Manitoba and Ontario, for instance high school entrance is reserved up to grade 13. In Alberta and Saskatchewan grade 12 suffices for completion of a high school course.

There are thousands of cases each year where a student moves with his or her family to a place having previous study to find requirements needed in Alberta are deficient; from those required in a new home. The result is frustration after the loss of a year, and general dis-satisfaction with the educational system.

Why? We are not educating students to be Albertans or British Columbians ... we are simply educating our children to be Canadians.

It is high time that these standards were agreed upon by the various departments of education. Too many students are being frustrated, too many are being lost. When we speak of improvements in our educational systems, there is a not talk in terms of standardization. These are other differences which surely need attention.

Reflections ... of the Times

Long Distance Campaign

It is estimated at the present rate of progress every citizen in the country will be contacted by telephone at least once a year in the campaign. Canada's annual crop of sons that could be reached by phone.

Whatever may you name it the battle of conservation about long is paid for the service is worth it. Accordingly we ensure that one of the readers doesn't decide to become a hermit.

Canada's election campaigns are far from being a thing of beauty and hardly days when contestants in the constituency of Medicine Hat have days to travel from the northeast corner of the southwest corner. Candidates from both corners will then travel toward each other meeting a battle.

Today, with communications of a high standard efficiency eight weeks are too much. Even six weeks would be far too long.

The chief danger in entre-long campaigns is that ... candidates who will agree to anything to get a little publicity. An unknown work-in a fundamental state he is unable to ... anything in order to attract ... notice.

Because another ... thing ... campaigns are ... they ... candidates have ... and ... and ... and

New Dairy Demonstration At University

Dairy farmers are going to have a variety of new breeds of cattle to choose from, and scientific testing will be carried out on the merits of each breed.

Experiments are going to be made to determine the amount of milk a cow will yield, and to make comparisons of milk for butterfat testing, without interrupting the normal milking routine. The weighing and sampling are done automatically, and the milk goes through the normal milking machine pipeline.

The milk sample can be taken at any point in the milking operation. One meter would record about 200 pounds each milking unit. It can be easily moved with the milking unit from one stall to another.

The instructor Paul Allardice of Dewinton, will be at the pavilion to discuss results of tests conducted during the last year at the University of Alberta by Dr. C. H. Graves and his staff. So far, milk samples have not been used in Canada, apart from the six units being evaluated by Dr. Graves.

The present method of weighing and sampling milk uses one unit, or one pipeline system. It overcomes by bypassing the pipeline on test days and emptying directly into a pail. With the increasing [illegible] of dairy farmers, using pipeline installations in both stanchion barns and milking parlours the need has arisen for some practical and accurate means of weighing and sampling milk from individual cows to determine their level of production at the barn.

An invitation to attend this meeting is extended to anyone interested in seeing the milking scope in action.

The building includes the main sanctuary and a Christian education building on the right-of portion which will provide Sunday school classroom space for the 125 young people who attend the 12 classes each Sunday

Harold Peterson was the minister of the church building committee and told The Globe that construction costs were just by contributions from the congregation and a grant and loan from the mainmoney and maintenance fund

The last service was held in the old red brick church building (which was built in 1910) on May of this year since that time the congregation has been using the Seventh Day Adventist church for regular services. Although no definite target date has been set for the completion of the new building it is expected to be ready for use late this fall or early winter

Alberta Road Construction is Behind Schedule

Hon. Gordon E. Taylor, minister of highways, this week reported that it will be impossible to open the main roads into highway south of Lacombe this year

In his report on construction activities of main Alberta highways, the minister stated:

60% of the grading program, or 238.66 miles, has now been completed On 1958, 67% was completed at this time).

59% of the base course, or 175 miles, has been completed this year. 304 miles of base had been laid at this time).

49% of the asphaltic plant mix or 197.7 miles has now been completed (last year 208 miles was completed at the same time)

The total road program has now been completed for the year and 398.88 miles of surfacing has been completed.

It is noted that progress has improved greatly because of the better weather during the last short while, however, the work is still lagging, generally as compared to last year

The drying of the soil at this time of year are not nearly as good as they would have been had the weather cleared earlier

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our wife and mother, Sarah Lindsay who passed away October 23rd 1962.

If we had all the wealth to give
We'd give it to you and more
To see the look of joy that would shine
From mother through the door
The thank of you to others
And all we speak your name
Would be a comfort and talk to us again.

Just a photo in a frame,
Our hearts and care the same
Sadly missed
And many tears still flow
For what it meant to have you then.
We can visit never more
— Always missed by Son, Allan, Bernie and the Family.

In memory of William Fetsch who passed away the 24th, 1958.

And when I feel sorrow
Always a treasured moment
Of the days when you were here.
Sadly missed and ever remembered by his loving Mother

The Town's Sewer Problem

The town of Lacombe is the victim today of the operation of the sanitary sewer system of a larger portion of the province. A major portion of the sewage from the city of Edmonton finds its way into the Lacombe sewer system. Lacombe's sanitary sewer system is designed to handle only a minimum requirement of public health regulations that was which places a heavy burden on the town and which could, in the event of a heavy rainfall, flood the town sewer system.

A good example of the dangers of this present system was the heavy rainfall here during spring. At the time the building was not disturbed in 1965. Since then a new sewer system has been put in and the town is now faced with the problem of whether or not to rip up the streets and install a new system that may last in full drainage to

Too Late, Too Late

A RESOLUTION by Ron Charles E. Taylor, member of legislature, that it will be illegal to sell liquor to anyone under the age of 21 years, was defeated by the majority vote of Labor in 1966 session here, the province's capital.

Times who were on the Lacombe-Edmonton highway and the other highway which was not provided with the same facilities as the other side of the province will appreciate the reasons for their disappointment.

Reasons for the delay of construction, as explained by Transportation Minister Hugh Horner, are that the new department has been the new department. Hon. Hugh Horner, Minister of this town of your

The last census showed that the number of farms in Canada declined 40,000 as compared with 725,000 thirty years earlier. The farm labor force was 1,000,000 as compared with 1,150,000 thirty years earlier. But the output per farm worker as shown by the latest census is more than that of the previous level.

Even with the decline in the number of workers, Canadian agriculture provides employment for more than 1 million workers as all other primary industries combined.

The capital invested in farms in Canada totals about $23.1 billion. The value of land and buildings is placed at $8.6 billion, of machinery and equipment $2.6 billion and livestock $2.6 billion.

In 1965 cash receipts from the sale of farm products is estimated at $6,000,000,000.

Manufacturing industries using farm products employ $14,000 persons or 10 per cent of the total employed in manufacturing in the country.

The annual farm machinery and repair bill is $800,000,000 which employs 11,000 people or an output value of $1,000. Fertilizer plants employ 1,200 at an average wage of $6,700.

Transportation of farm products runs up a considerable bill an estimate of the total being $975,000,000. Then there is employment provided in grain elevators, in grain carts both here and across and in offices.

The farm contribution to the nation's Gross National Production of 20 P.C. is only about 5 per cent. Despite the contribution is circulated on the immediate value of farm products and the many other ways in which the industry serves the nation, the contribution would be lost if there were no Canada's basic industry.

Now that our harvest is nearly finished, many of you will be taking stock of what land you have and what you will be planting it to. Many of you will find that you have more or less than seeded, but only an average or less than average of grain.

If you are considering cattle feeding, a research work done by Dr Bierenbie of the research station at Lethbridge on hay conditioning, may be of interest to you. Dr Bierenbie conducted an experiment on 300-pound steers. They were fed a ration containing 80% alfalfa hay harvested through a one-inch screen, 15% dry-rolled barley and 5% molasses. Individually fed, they gained 2½ pounds a day—an acceptable rate. Cattle on a similar ration of hay as long from uncrimped alfalfa hay rather than the more costly high concentrate ration.

The nutriment and there is more to harvested hay than the increased consumption. It also contains protein production of pregnancy and during digestion in the animal system and lower production of acetic acid. Propionic and is released more efficiently by the steer, whereas is acetic acid. Molasses tends to hasten rate of digestion and, because it reduces the amount of dust in the feed, is necessary feed intake.

Harvest Guidance For Hay Seeds

Sometimes ago I wrote in this column about the use of mower-crimper in hay harvest. At that time I had not seen any of these gadgets in actual use. However there are now some in the district and I am happy to say that they do work under our conditions.

Penmans does the job—comfortably. Knocks the chill right out of the air, yet doesn't strangle you in a hard-to-move-in suit. The reason? Penmans are tailored to help you on the job; cut generously, where they should be; made snug, where they should be.

They keep you warm without bulk because they are knitted of three materials: pure white merino wools . . . soft, absorbent cottons . . . and Corval® . . . warmer-longer than they would be separately.

Penmans are so comfortable only their warmth reminds you that you are wearing underwear.

Home Laundry Guide

Homemakers today have found that long established washing methods are no longer satisfactory as the origin and field of home laundry has recently seen fabrics equipment and techniques are constantly being developed to give the laundry hand. Also many laundry problems can be traced back to basic principles of washing and handling. Washing hard of soap or detergent to incorrect washing procedure.

Re Laundering Pillows

Either feathers or down ... pillows should be washed slowly to prevent lumping. It is usually best to use lukewarm water and mild high duty detergent. Agitate to remove the dirt and rinse well to remove all traces of detergent.

Wash temperature is warm, and rinse temperature as also save. Wash two pillows at a time to balance the load.

Pillows have a tendency to float on top of the water so it may be necessary to push them down to make sure they are completely saturated. Be sure to dry pillows thoroughly some at a time as this can be hard on the machine. Be sure to fluff pillows occasionally during the drying period.

For home pillows, wash as above but check more frequently and to whether they can be driver dried or should be placed on a flat surface and dried. Keep water sweeping so that pillow's shape is maintained. Do not wash Rapid filled pillows.

DO Your WINTERPLANNING NOW

Plan now to get all those jobs done this winter. Things like having the lawnmower fixed, and the mower mended; having the car tuned up and outboard motor checked; having the drapes cleaned and the rugs shampooed; having the furniture re-upholstered and the electrical appliances repaired, having all those repair and renovation jobs done which can call for a long wait come Spring, but which can be handled quickly, efficiently and easily during the winter season. Ask your bank about a low-interest NHA Home Improvement Loan. Plan ahead. Be a Winterplanner now.

Everybody benefits when winter work is increased
Issued by authority of Hon. Allan J. MacEachen, Minister of Labour, Canada

Henry Hines
(Progressive Conservative)

At the time this is written, I cannot say whether I will be returned to the House of Commons on election day, October 29th.

The reasons given for calling this election at this time appear somewhat lame. The government was a minority one in some ways. It had the normal support of the Conservative wing of the Social Credit party led by Robert Thompson. The amount of legislation passed in the last session of parliament makes [illegible]

To begin with, there was the flag debate. We have changed flags in this country and as a Canadian I will honour the new flag. My protest is against the methods used by the prime minister and his colleagues to force between the French and English speaking Canadians [illegible] and the flag was [illegible]

The [illegible] announced that forward and went into operation at the end of many months of [illegible] It took hearings across the country, a select committee, and an [illegible] before Canada got a new flag.

Next meeting will be held on October 20 at 8:00 p.m. at the Lacombe pool hall.

Other issues concerning the nation are the unemployment and strikes as certain issues and attempts to solve this. The Liberals say they have done more to help the Canadian economy grow and provide jobs.

In the last two years there has been a move towards a socialist state in Canada. They have Democratic openly advocate this. The Liberals say they will be outspoken but they have furthered the move by legislation. They pension plan is compulsory as a step promoted [illegible]

I believe that most Canadians want a free enterprise society in which they are free to make their own decisions. We must not support any party that is for extensive nationalization of the resources that free enterprise can develop. Security is important but anything more is needed to maintain a vigorous nation.

Stability in government will be an election issue Canadians cannot and must not avoid in casting [illegible] Canada's economy is in high points [illegible]

Ivan Stackhouse
(Liberal Credit)

As the Social Credit candidate in the Wetaskiwin riding, I want to say that I am very pleased that this paper has made space available to the candidates to acquaint their voters in this election by thanks to the editor of the paper for this opportunity.

Since Social Preservation [illegible] has the Conservative opposition has only added to the confusion and delayed reforms in the Liberal [illegible] Others [illegible] to all be exchange except for the [illegible] as the [illegible] Canadian [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Jeanette Moodie Bride In City Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. JACKSON

An arrangement of white and[illegible] gladioli and pompon daisies centred with lantern candles entwined with greenery formed an attractive setting for the double ring wedding ceremony of Jeanette Lorraine, eldest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Moodie of Lacombe, and Mr. Douglas Wayne Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Jackson, Jr. of Red Deer.

The bride's father performed the ceremony assisted by Rev. J. C. Gilmore of the Angel View Lodge Centre on Saturday September 25, 1965 at 2:30 in the afternoon.

Wedding music was played by Miss Lorraine Viste of Red Deer. Preceding the wedding march candles were lit by the groom's brother and sister of the bride. Following the exchange of the marriage vows, the bride's mother sang "The Father with Jesus".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a floor-length gown of white satin, trimmed with scroll lace on the bodice neck and elbow length sleeves. A large bow on the back of the skirt completed the bottle-like effect.

Her four-tier veil with scalloped edging was trimmed with pearl drops suited from a crown of pearl and crystal. She carried a bouquet of American roses, Bouvardia and Baby's breath accented with a double stream of crystals.

Preceding the bride and dressed in charming frocks of pink taffeta-bouffe flower girls.

Mrs. Lorraine Viste of Red Deer, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of pink taffeta-bouffe with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Best man was Mr. Ken Jackson, brother of the groom, carried redmost roses and a single carnation and groomed with darkbee pink ruches and heather.

Bridesmaids Miss Lorraine Viste of Red Deer, Miss Eva Moodie, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Dwayne Jackson, sister of the groom, were dressed in floor length gowns of pink taffeta with darkbee pastels rosebuds and green leaves.

The bride's mother chose a white brocade dress with a navy blue duster completed with pink accessories, and wore a corsage of variegated pink sweetheart roses.

A wedding reception was held at the Red Tower Lodge for 150 guests. The bride's table was centred with a three tiered wedding cake flanked by pink lap ers and white candles.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Jackson left on a honeymoon trip to B.C. and the United States. The bride donned a white knit suit complemented by turquoise and black accessories. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will make their new home in Red Deer.

Canadas' Water Resources

HON Arthur Laing, Canada's resources minister, has been conducting a series of meetings with provincial ministers to discuss water resources in the Canadian north. Mr. Laing has said that it is essential that Canada's national interests in water resources be considered in the context of the whole northern development.

There are certain areas of concern in Canada's vastness at the moment and at Toronto — where Mr. Laing met with provincial ministers — it was stated that the time has come to start using.

The real problem of course, is not to get water as to get enough clean water. There are almost endless amounts of water in both Canada and the United States, but there are industrial wastes and an ever-growing amount of pollution.

General A. G. L. McNaughton, former chairman of the International joint commission, makes several pertinent statements on this matter. He says that the problem is the scarcity of clean water and not the limited number of sources. From purposes made to date, he can see only an enlargement of what he calls the "use of pollution into a commercial asset." He stresses that we will have to clean up our commercial cesspool or go thirsty.

Standards of quality control are known. It is merely a case of putting them into force. Only although the cost would be enormous.

Canada, as it is, is in a position to be the happy position of having abundant supplies of clean water. Let's keep it that way.

La Belle France!

WHAT and read much these days about the changing world in which we live, but finally in this is something of interest and production from.

But a recent [illegible] from Paris shows that the traditional web of change is not limited to items over the social world.

According to The Financial Post, the French have undertaken a campaign to have women give up their rush-hour meals in favor of the home and encourage operating in that capital city.

It appears that advocates of the department of health are concerned that because French women eat too much, and so get unnecessary back ailments.

Besides, husbands are tired after a hard day of stress and strain at an office, and should have an opportunity to relax as much as possible on the way home.

What an about-face! In the town-town society which has offered courtesy to women on a high plane . . . and in France, of all places!

Clamp Down on Criminals

The underworld in Quebec is said to be pretty tenuous at the best on the moment-to-moment by Quebec government authorities who declare a total grievance. Queens's Justice Minister Wagner has formerly announced that United criminal activities extend beyond the province of Quebec. And so the question hangs: What is the province of province and particularly doing about intervening and working out measures to eliminate and do victims in provinces other than Quebec?

Perhaps Ottawa should take a second look at the assignments of organized crime and make agreements at that province. Perhaps the powers should investigators who fields other than those already engaged in Quebec. There is no reason to believe that a world-gangland ruling that methods of procedure could be used as well in Ontario as in Quebec and Ottawa should have a habit of devoting their attention to any operation that presents a lucrative pay-off.

It isn't enough to keep the underworld pitchy or sagging for money. The Canadian people should be satisfied with nothing less than a complete clean-out of criminals and criminal operations, and the suppression of all people who may have connection in any way through criminal associations.

The Political Scene

THE federal election campaign is now underway on a high plane by the four political parties. The campaign is expected to be a hard-fought one with the PCs sponsored by Diefenbaker and the Liberals led by Pearson.

Each of the four candidates addressed, by varying styles, to drive home their points and emphasize the independence of the various geographical areas. Following resolutions and introductory notes delivered well, I could wish for:

The level of campaigning is not being reached by the various party leaders as on the national scene. On the broader front, there is a considerable amount of mud-slinging which the majority of electors find repugnant.

We are reminded of a phrase which appears in one of the international service clubs' code of ethics:

"Remember that in building up your own business, it is not necessary to tear down another's."

Many electors would like to see the politicians of today follow the foundation of such a code.

BUILDING COST UP

Town of Stettler proposes to borrow an additional $30,000 to complete its new administration building, bringing the total cost of the project to $113,000.

Original architect's estimate of the cost of the building was $86,000 but this amount tender received was that of Bavaria Construction of Stettler at $113,000. In the meantime the ratepayers of the town had voted to borrow $83,000 for the land and building.

The higher cost as a reflection of higher building costs throughout the country.

Bell Telling and Care of Farm Dairy Equipment

Back on September a re-minder to do our thinking to prepared in the winter. This is one of intensively testing every for the safety and care of the milk. We can name a number of factors contributing to poor milk quality, but I will mention only a few of the most common ones.

Poor refrigeration practices are to be a large cause of the deterioration quality in the farm milk supply. Milk should be cooled to 50 degrees F. or lower within two hours after milking. Cooling milk in a tank of water does not always accomplish this. Information is supplied.

The following points should be kept in mind when cooling milk with running water. Water temperature should be 45 degrees F. or lower. Water should be changed frequently enough to maintain a temperature of 50 degrees F. or lower. This can be done by providing enough water to keep the water temperature below 50 degrees F.

Another point of importance is the temperature at which the milk is held. Best practice is to cool milk to 50 degrees F. or lower immediately after milking and keep it at that temperature until delivered. Some milk plants are equipped with refrigerated holding tanks. Milk should be cooled to 50 degrees F. or lower before it is put into the holding tank. Cooling milk in the holding tank is not satisfactory.

Another important factor affecting the keeping quality of milk is the cleanliness of the milking equipment. Milk pails, strainers, cans, and all other equipment coming in contact with milk must be thoroughly washed and rinsed after each use. Sterilization is also necessary. Steam is the most satisfactory method of sterilization. Boiling water is also satisfactory. Chemical sterilizers are also available. Equipment should be air dried and stored in a clean place. Information on the care of milking equipment is available from the dairy department.

Crestomere Home and School Holds Interesting Meeting

October meeting of the Crestomere home and school was held in the school with Mrs Lorne Knaysi presiding. Approx. 28 people were in attendance.

After the opening had been opened minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs Lenore Long.

Being absent membership were brought up John Trigg and Norman Gilliland. It was motioned to fill the two positions which had been left vacant.

A fund-raising committee was discussed but no definite decision was made. It was suggested that the duties of this committee could be carried out by the program committee.

Mrs Louise Dingle then gave the treasurer's report and reported a substantial balance after all the parties in connection with the school had been paid for.

Robin Stuart was asked to give the principal's report. He reported that Crestomere has been chosen as one of 600 schools to take part in a hearing survey on "career development."

Each student will be given the tests and from the results of these tests it is hoped it will be possible to determine which career he should pursue. This will enable guidance to be given to students in the universities of the future.

Mr Stuart asked those present to let their preferences regarding pupils patrols, taken and sold on the school. It was decided that should be done by the school patrol.

Mr Stuart announced that magazine subscriptions would again be sold to students as in the various years. He also announced that a school party will be held in the gym on Friday October 29.

Ralph Lee gave a report on sport activities within the school. Crestomere boys have had football games with Bentley, Ben Haughn Mawer, Gleno and Bluffton. They are keen to play basketball against Ben Haughn at a game of volley ball.

Robin Stuart was guest speaker and gave a talk on the purpose of the home and school at the three levels of its organization local, provincial and federal. The Crestomere group is primarily concerned with the local level and can do much to help at this level.

Room representation was to be set up again in the 10 to grade two rings. The grade of each table and activity should be [illegible] which was won by Miss Alan Delorme had been presented to her earlier in the day.

The Lacombe Globe's Political Forum . .

The Lacombe Globe has offered this space free of charge to all four candidates in this federal constituency so that their views, opinions and platforms may be presented for the information of our readers.

Ed Nelson (Soc Democratic Party)

Farming at still the same time best on which by far the largest number of people in the Mountain constituency depend for their living. It is important then that agricultural policies of the different parties be considered closely.

Liberalism promises greed to stabilize have never provided adequate income for good farm policy enough they usually do not relate to the problem at hand.

Much has been said about guaranteed prices as the cornerstone of measure of trade payments and ongoing plant for many people in the country, this is good, but selling wheat at less than cost does little to help the farmer since the cost he has continued to go up and the ensuing price remains static, or less, the present economy.

I think it is extremely important to consider the question of wheat even though the Wheat is momentarily isn't [illegible]

Many areas of western Canada are noted to a large production and these are the places where wheat should be produced. If wheat is to be non-profitable these areas need to by other means not necessarily related to them, cutting into our chances for good markets in other food products.

The farmers' share of the consumers' dollar has gone down from 42 cents to 39 cents since 1956. His share has gone from 18 cents to 13 cents for bread. In the meantime [illegible] the wages have gone up by 17 per cent since 1956.

And what about the price of wheat? The Canadian wheat board has been marketing Canadian wheat for over 30 years and, because it controlled the Canadian wheat for export, was able to bargain for the highest world price available, but this was not monopoly it prohibits grain for the wheat grower.

The Wheat Board's intention is the fact that it has to compete for world markets with other countries who sometimes than farmers in varying degrees. Canadian wheat could not get a premium for quality but grow would be more stable.

Add to this the fact that Canadian flour millers were buying Canadian wheat at world market price, based on these conditions, and you can see how the Canadian wheat producer has to reality been subsidizing the Canadian flour consumer all these years.

These are the reasons why farm organizations in Western Canada asked for a two-price system that would correct this imbalance. They get approximately 20 million dollars in acreage payments in each of two years from Mr. Diefenbaker. The Liberals passed up part of the storage costs and the Conservatives later increased the amount, but in no instance does the total cost ever accompanying the [illegible] grower for his contribution in total.

If I were elected I would continue to fight for a genuine correction of this inequity and at the same time support a realistic support price program on all farm commodities recognized either for domestic use or export.

Former agriculture minister Alvin Hamilton, is working overtime to develop policies that will help the farmer as well as the businessman and the economy of Canada in general.

Tommy Douglas
(Progressive-Conservative)

Times are a widespread feeling among Canadian farmers that once again the government has leaned in its approach to their problems. Farm taking office in 1957 had promised to give generous tax relief by lifting discrimination began a farm program that did much to give that Canadian farmer a fair share in our economy. Some of the [illegible] taken by the Liberal party.

Agricultural price stabilization was supposed to ensure greater price protection for the farmer.

All farmers are aware of what has been done in the past. What are the future policies of a Conservative government?

1. It will continue to expand farm sales in world markets. The conservatives were responsible for expanding credit for purchasing our wheat in countries such as China and Russia. These trade arrangements are continuing our grain and Lethbridge was greatly benefited.

2. The profitability of farm credit will be assured at low interest rates.

3. Assistance will be given for the construction of agricultural storage facilities. These grants made for various agricultural training schools in other areas.

4. The conservative government passed the agricultural rehabilitation and development act, the first comprehensive and long range plan for rural development in Canada. There will be a further development of economic and [illegible] farm income.

5. A new national dairy policy will establish a price of four dollars per cwt. on industrial milk. A national dairy board will be set up.

Under the Liberal administration, emphasis on home dairy products was encouraged or removed entirely. The last letter stated that this would save the taxpayers some two million dollars annually. In all ways recommendable, but little attempt was made to save on the $100 million spent on the second being built in the St. Lawrence at Montreal by the world's fair. The sum is four times that given by the Conservative government as acreage payments to western farmers.

In my opinion, the high costs of farm machinery parts and repairs, the cost of production plus increases in the cost of living are the big problems of farmers today. Machinery subsidies and doubled farm credit would be three of many things. A further development of foreign markets is essential. The present quota system for grain discriminates against the small and new farmer.

2. The profitability of farm credit will be assured at low interest rates.

3. Assistance will be given for the construction of agricultural storage facilities. These grants made for various agricultural training schools in other areas.

4. The conservative government passed the agricultural rehabilitation and development act, the first comprehensive and long range plan for rural development in Canada. There will be a further development of economic and [illegible] farm income.

5. A new national dairy policy will establish a price of four dollars per cwt. on industrial milk. A national dairy board will be set up.

Under the Liberal administration, emphasis on home dairy products was encouraged or removed entirely. The last letter stated that this would save the taxpayers some two million dollars annually. In all ways recommendable, but little attempt was made to save on the $100 million spent on the second being built in the St. Lawrence at Montreal by the world's fair. The sum is four times that given by the Conservative government as acreage payments to western farmers.

In my opinion, the high costs of farm machinery parts and repairs, the cost of production plus increases in the cost of living are the big problems of farmers today. Machinery subsidies and doubled farm credit would be three of many things. A further development of foreign markets is essential. The present quota system for grain discriminates against the small and new farmer.

Former agriculture minister Alvin Hamilton, is working overtime to develop policies that will help the farmer as well as the businessman and the economy of Canada in general.

Board Trade Discuss Road Signs

Three road signs on the highway approaches to town have deteriorated, but fixing them up or replacing them is a costly business.

Board of trade president David Badger informed 25 members attending a general meeting in the LMC last Wednesday that estimates for [illegible] ets, range up to $4,000, and "we just don't have that kind of money."

Members felt that the signs in their present condition were a reflection on the town, and that efforts be made to replace them despite the expense.

It was felt that centrally-town could be selected from the town and from all local service clubs, with the balance coming from a special levy from board of trade members.

This recommendation was referred back to the executive for action.

In other business, a new business course sponsored by the department of education received approval from the meeting. The course suggested for local businessmen is on [illegible] Dorothy Bell is [illegible] ing in charge for a period of 16 weeks.

Town Parking Problem Aired As Board of Trade Meets

Hallowe'en Hi-Jinks At Minimum This Year

Hallowe'en was observed quietly in Lacombe and in most of the villages of this area.

Town police who were out in force, caught some pranksters who brought three bales of straw into town, and had them remove the straw from town streets.

Two windows were broken by vandals in the Lacombe Agencies building.

Outside of these two incidents, "it was quite a quiet night in town," police chief constable O Schaar reported to The Globe.

It was not all that quiet in some of the rural areas, however. There were many reports of straw [illegible] being used as road blocks on side roads, and a few isolated cases of straw stacks being set afire.

A 20 foot extension was built on the rear of the meat market at a cost exceeding $6 000. Reg and Rod Rathbone were carpenters. The additional customer space will mean additional freezer room.

Vote At The Election Next Monday

NEXT Monday some 12,000,000 Canadians will go to the polls to elect a new government which all hope will be for a longer period than have the governments of the past decade.

Interest in the issues of the day has perked up considerably in the past two weeks but most observers still feel that the issues are not as clearly defined as the political leaders and candidates would have one believe.

The Liberal party is campaigning on its record and the Canada pension plan on medicare on high employment and a buoyant economy, and stress that they, the Liberals, are the only party with a chance for majority government.

John G. Diefenbaker's Progressive Conservatives promise greater national help for once-taken-a-certain-area issues not for regional benefit wherever rates on remainder credit, a move in the old age pension income tax exemptions on municipal taxes up to $1000 per year; removal of the 11% sales tax on building materials.

The National Democratic Party promises much the same as the anti-line parties but much more. For the farmer NDP recommends a two-price system for greater stability for agriculture revision of income and property taxes to assist the land on lumbers and properties assess a department of customer affairs to provide more protection.

The Social Credit party is mouthing the time-worn call for more free enterprise — less socialism, less welfare state-ism and more say in government from Ottawa. Its supporters are citing the successful government in Alberta as an example of the good government policies required in Ottawa.

There are brief rundowns of the beliefs of the various parties. From representatives of these parties, electors in this area will be called upon to make their choice next Monday. It is important that each exercise vote as his or her conscience dictates.

Aid At A Price

PREMIER E. C. Manning's announcement last week of a new deal in the distribution of Alberta's oil and natural gas production royalties will be greeted with satisfaction by municipal governments of this area.

While it is still too early to know exactly what this new distribution plan means in actual dollars and cents to the villages, towns and counties in the province, it is an acceptance on the fact that property taxpayers merit need relief.

Municipal governments — and included in this category of course, are the councils of the town, county and villages in this area — have long failed to give all services desires or requires because of lack of funds.

The load of educational costs in particular has reached such priority over municipal improvements, that councils have been forced to squeeze their budgets to an extremely degree.

The new plan announced by Premier Manning indicates that there will be greater relief aimed to ease this problem. The proposals suggest there will be available more provincial funds to direct by lower the municipal burden of school costs. Good. It also indicates that there will be a $50 rebate from funds to be deducted directly from municipal taxes Free.

No one can fault this recognition of the need for more relief from heavy property taxation. At the same time, it must be kept in mind that such grants make local councils even more dependent upon the senior government.

It is another, and perhaps inevitable step on the gradual erosion of local autonomy which, in time, will end up with local governments having little power and no money.

Reflections . . . of the Times

The Lucky Guy!

A hunter in the State of Michigan went out one morning and shot — every bird he the past fifty years. Recently found the remainder a record the states coming daily newspaper, the Small Be Motor Evening News.

The Western Canadian hunting public hunters who now appears to have no limit, but perhaps we can find we in the west have not to be thankful for by way of an-par game. The Michigan chap after an hour years but his pack pail , he got two Canada gray geese and the one shoot! It was pooped up as quote a four and three-a-set of the and other hard cash to During those fifty years he had four shot one more goose and two four geese.

Wonder what this hunter guy would do if he were out west during the height of the goose season wherein a day limit of five per day is allowed. He'd always go home with the bag of the thousands of white-snow geese in migration at the time of the year. While some western hunters don't have to go out much to get a limit, it would take them fifty years to find two Canada geese in one day like the Michigander home his boast.

the dog, the bone and the reflection

Remember the old tale about the dog who was hurrying home with a fine large beef bone in his mouth?

He had to cross a narrow footbridge over a quiet stream.

Halfway across, he looked down and saw the reflection of the bone. He mistook it for another bone larger than the one he was carrying.

So he opened his jaws eagerly to snap it up.

... and of course the real bone sank to the bottom of the stream.

People, too, are apt to be misled.

We would do well sometimes to stop and analyze a few of the things we have — things which we, as Albertans, have worked together to build up for ourselves. For example, consider M.S.I., the voluntary system of prepaid medical care coverage which was instituted eighteen years ago by Alberta doctors to meet the special needs of Albertans. Over the years, M.S.I. has worked constantly to increase the scope of coverage and to provide an ever-growing number of Albertans. M.S.I., standing high as the public knows, has just enrolled its 1,000,000 group.

Non-profit and non-compulsory, M.S.I. is worth holding on to. You cannot get better medical care coverage for less.

M.S.I. is the best and cheapest medical care coverage.

Town Council Concerned Over Expanded Feed Lot Operation

Town council was troubled about a possible nuisance from the proposed feed lot act as the expanded operations of livestock feeding by V. Clancy immediately north of the Lacombe limits.

This concern was shown at the regular meeting of council Monday evening as last week Town solicitor D. R. McCormick was present, and outlined department of public health regulations as recently amended, regarding stockfeeding in urban areas.

Numerous complaints have been received by town officials regarding the expansion now underway, and assistant secretary-treasurer Bernie Bulwa was asked to check further into the basis for complaints [illegible]

Canada Savings Bonds are issued by the Government of Canada. Any Canadian resident may buy them. They come in various denominations—$50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000. The limit for the new Series is $10,000 per person.

The 1965 Bonds have a life of 12 years. They pay you interest every year. And the cash value of them increases, for each of the next six years and then for each of the remaining four years.

You don't have to keep your Bond for the full 12 years if you don't want to. You can get your money back any time. Just take it to your bank, trust or loan company. They'll give you the full Bond value plus earned interest. It only takes a few minutes.

Canada Savings Bonds are easy to buy for cash or on instalments. Banks sell them. So do investment dealers, stock brokers, trust and loan companies.

You can also buy them on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. A $100 Bond will cost you less than $2 a day. (The Bonds you buy on the Payroll Savings Plan are identical in all respects to the Bonds you buy for cash.)

Canada Savings Bonds are a great way to save. They pay good interest. They are easy to buy. You can cash them any time.

Everyone has something to save for. To get what you want a little faster, buy Canada Savings Bonds.

This ad is for people who've never bought Canada Savings Bonds before.

The Public Interest

A CYNIC is "someone grown" from the milk of human kindness, the other from time to time needs to keep pretenses to himself and from innocent belief.

Latest pressure forced by the federal governments comes from the St. Lawrence River ports. The seaway will be closed to navigation extended to a full 13-month season. The ports say they need nearly to accomplished by keeping open for three months longer, and the Montreal and Quebec City Times is considered that the same reasoning will force governments to further services.

The ports request is fully supported by the shipping industry and government during the St. Lawrence The argument is that the seaway is not completely used annually coming by reason of ice and navigation. Canadian ports changed from being isolated at the Atlantic coast and now facing the heavy railway traffic charges.

Shelter, however, has lost no time in opposing the brief, and has said that there is no reason to reject any such request for re-

Poor Image

THE Canadian Pacific Railway — the greatest single business in confederation — is suffering for, and rightly deserving, a bad reputation these days.

The railway company is under fire from many groups. Its efforts during the past year to cut back on its passenger service during the public in small centres as well as in larger cities has met. It took the intervention of the board of transport commissioners to prevent the CPR from canceling operations of "The Dominion" — its second trans-Canada passenger train.

The CPR and its officials are also receiving numerous complaints from farmer groups, which claim that the railway company is not interested in hauling export wheat to the west coast. The PUA in particular is most vehement in its attacks against the company. It claims that "their profits are among the highest of the national economy.

While the country owes the CPR much for its services in the past, they have not been rewarded. It is one of this country's richest corporations, with a wide variety of assets and investments with railway facilities. Its grants of lands and mineral interests in western Canada, granted at the time of the railway construction, have returned vast profits.

But profits should not be the only consideration of a corporation the size of the CPR. Railway passenger service has been developed way inside the volume of travelers; but it is still more difficult to obtain reservations on a trans-continental train. It is also apparently true that freighting export wheat to ocean ports is not profitable as carrying some oil- or kinds of merchandise — but it is still an integral part of the railway company's business.

Canadians have always been proud of the Canadian Pacific Railways. As the Brooks Bulletin observes "It should not now take a course which would lead to a continuous storm of criticism."

Reflections . . . of the Times

Moral Issue

A moral issue of profound import was raised in Ottawa the other day when a Chicago physician questioned the right of the medical profession to prolong life either against a patient's will or in hopeless cases. Dr. Walter C. Alvarez of Chicago, who spoke at a symposium sponsored by the Ottawa Academy of Medicine said medicine did people who were dying an hot month "were glad to die and some told me I would die there so kindness if I struggle to keep them alive . . . I have known discoveries and extensive human vegetables to be kept alive with stimulants tranquized for seven to 11 years. I wonder, is that good medicine?"

Dr. Alvarez was not talking of killing anyone. Nevertheless, he had entered a highly sensitive moral area to what lengths should the medical profession go in keeping a person alive?

Fundamentally, the issue is a moral one, and should be debated on that level. It deserves open discussion not only within the medical profession, but also among churchmen and all those who are concerned with moral questions.

Over the years, far too many tasks of the early history of this town and district have been lost. The fast moving information reserved have been victims of either fire or flood.

Newspaper files are generally a source of information for local historians, who will write the annals of years past, but also, all files of the old "Western Globe" were destroyed by fire many years ago, and we complete the chain of the early days.

The board of trade is to be congratulated on its efforts to preserve the personal experiences of the pioneers of this district. Such records will serve as interesting reading for the generations to follow.

First moment of truth is at hand for Lacombe Rockets, who split a series with Red Deer Rockets last week.

Now the hearts are about to find how they stack up against the other teams in the league, as they entertain this week through December 10th. Next home stand begins Nov. 24th, and the Edmonton Oil Kings come here Tuesday at 8:00 p.m.

FOUR-GOAL EFFORT Don's Dunnigan made it count in a Monday night practice game in an 8-2 verdict over Red Deer Chevs as it jubilee students had Saturday night.

They defeated the stunt Chevvies 8-2 to make seconds on the homestanding record ever. What's more, the Rockets received good dong it, and were not home for three complete a shaky 10 minutes at the end of the second period.

The locals built up a comfortable 4-0 lead, then over the remainder of the game, Bruins held the middle station was over. Steve Brown was in the penalty box as the last period got underway, and onlookers were wondering if a strong Rocket team could hold up for 20 minutes' longer play.

They did that, and more by adding four unanswered goals to their clean slate to bag checks, and vested for the Rockets which were numerous. It was Red Deer that tried and put to be the tired team in the second period, however, Lacombe outscored the visitors 3-1.

Goals: Doug Dunnigan, Dave Carlyle deserve plaudits or scoring four and two goals respectively, they must share honors with Ron Gibbon in the Rocket net. He turned aside 30 shots on goal, and continues to keep his team in the play.

Vince Dorney remained the Rocket standout for Saturday's game. Dorney, Dunnigan and Wayne Brown scoring for Red Deer.

Official pass attendance was only 378, but the crowd was estimated at over 500 with unofficial holders, and does pass for the tournament added.

Election After Thoughts

THE RESULTS Canadians were dumped following the election last week at the thought of another minority government in Ottawa. Recent minority governments — and this is the fourth in the past eight years — have been marred by bitter inter-party squabbles, personality clashes and sectional thinking projects which have led to the business of the country jumping around liable to party politics.

All parties have been guilty. Spurred by the immediate personality clash of Lester Pearson and John Diefenbaker and Liberal leader Mitch Pearson Kennedy's past government outlawed in a morass of petitions.

So unnecessary, too. As Social Credit leader R. N. Thompson stated in a two-week interview on election night, "Parliament, by itself, is not necessarily evil.

If the leaders of the two parties say that's true their supporters in vote on all but major monetary legislation according to the dictates of their conscience and the interests of their constituents, this government could get things done.

But if the two major party leaders insist on pulling the strings, continue to demand blind party loyalty and threaten to defeat the legislation, this country could be in trouble.

Remember the Liberal's promise, with only one government member between it and the British Columbia border. The prairie provinces will have, in effect, no voice in cabinet consultations.

This is seriously deficient representation. An identity of party members per se, and to vote solely party lines. This type of voting is not new. It is done by legislators in the US congress. Prime Minister Harold Wilson has permitted his Labor members to cross party lines in voting on all but the most important money matters.

It would be most interesting — and most promising — if the party leaders would co-operate to make this possible. Think of it! Two hundred and sixty-five thinking men taking part in house of commons debate instead of about 220 blind or absentee voters and 35-or-so leaders who know they still be supported regardless of the merits of their case.

Intersection Accidents in Lacombe

For although restricted vision at intersections is not wholly responsible it is at least contributory to a serious increase in car accidents within town limits over the past year.

Consider these figures. In the first 10 months of 1963, local police investigated 23 traffic accidents during the same period in 1964, they investigated 32 such accidents. But during the first 10 months of this year there have been 53 listed accidents — most of them at intersections.

While these figures are slightly misleading due to a change in recording traffic mishaps between 1964 and 1965, the accident rate increase is concrete enough to be cause for concern.

Most of the accidents this year have occurred at "controlled" intersections — where either a "yield" or "stop" sign gives the right-of-way for one of the two drivers.

So the end 1965 accident history must still come back to the responsibility of the individual driver. Proper vision at intersections is important. . . but if a driver refuses to obey traffic regulations, accidents will continue to increase.

In other words, if one driver insists on acting as if he has right-of-way over the world, some innocent driver is going to get hit. Think it over!

Church Collection Plate Oddity

IT'S amazing how quickly international financial situations can reflect changes in the little habits of all people — including church goers.

This was brought to mind when we read a report by a retired church warden who was in charge of a church's collection plate when the US dollar was at a discount to Canadian money. He referred to the "disconcerting frequency" with which American dollars — and coins — turned up on the collection plates.

But when the Canadian dollar reached the position of being at a discount in relation to US currency, there was no added plum for church cohers. The US dollars, and coins, simply disappeared from the Sunday collection.

This, in its small way, confirms a statement made by an economist of another age, who established a basic truth: "good money drives out bad."

New Road

THE new divided highway between Morningside and Edmonton opened to traffic last Friday.

To some people record keeping is a real headache and many would rather have someone else keep their books. This is fine as long as they are kept in a system that tells you something about your business other than just for income tax purposes. Many private accountants do a good job along that line but little effort is done to assist or help people to determine the weak spots in your farm business.

If you are interested in a farm business analysis, I would suggest that you drop into our office and find out what [illegible]

County-Wide EMO Exercise To Be Held Wednesday, Dec. 1

Lacombe's five areas will blow for three minutes at 10:00 a.m. next Wednesday (Dec. 1) to signify the start of the most ambitious emergency measures organization exercise ever held in western Canada.

Under the code name "Lacombe Type", the exercise will test the efficiency of the Lacombe county unit in dealing with a presumed county-wide emergency.

Included in the exercise will be civil officers from Alix, Bentley, Blackfalds, Clive, Eckville, Lacombe, Mirror and the county of Lacombe.

Alert will also be sounded for the Lacombe office of the health unit, the general hospital, Lacombe police and firemen.

One of the biggest undertakings of the exercise will be the emergency feeding of approximately 600 local high school students (and EMO workers) at noon at the LMC. Feeding arrangements are under the supervision of the local EMO's welfare committee head, Mrs. J. McKibbin, assisted by Mrs. [illegible]

School buses will be used to transport the students to and from the memorial centre, under the control of school bus foreman Joe Baldwin.

In the general instructions issued for the exercise, provincial EMO headquarters note:

• Object of the exercise is to test the warning and assembly procedures for headquarters of the Lacombe emergency measures unit, to test communications (both telephone and radio) between unit headquarters and other offices of member municipalities, to familiarize unit headquarters personnel with emergency functions, and to provide practice for personnel of the EMO unit here.

• Taking part in the exercise will be all unit headquarters personnel, municipal emergency staff and the civic offices of member municipalities.

• Unit headquarters will be set up at the Lacombe unit control centre under the control of Herman Gan [illegible] EM co-ordinator of the Lacombe unit, assisted by Gus Jeats, deputy co-ordinator) who will co-ordinate all aspects of the exercise. Provincial EMO headquarters will appoint the attacking staff and a control staff to represent all headquarters outside of the Lacombe unit.

• Radio-equipped vehicles will be provided and tested during the exercise. The control station will be located in the Lacombe memorial centre, under direction of police chief constable Orest Schur.

Arrangements have been made to permit invited observers in the LMC during the exercise, which is scheduled to finish at 2:30 p.m. An assessment of activities and lessons learned will be held in the LMC by provincial EMO authorities after this time.

PLAN FOR EMO EXERCISE — The county-wide EMO exercise to be staged next Wednesday requires considerable advance work, and EMO district officials above are putting in extra hours. Left to right are Herman Gannon, district co-ordinator; Mrs. J. McKibbin, in charge of EMO welfare services; and Gus Jeats, EMO deputy co-ordinator. The three met one evening last week to check plans for the exercise which will test all EMO district committees for efficiency.

Extra Good Champion At Toronto Royal

• A Red Poll bull from the herd of Mrs. S. E. Atkinson and son of Lacombe won the grand championship of bull breed at the Toronto Royal Winter fair last week.

The bull — Trailview John — was awarded the British Red Poll trophy which will return to Lacombe this week with Mr. and Mrs. Don Atkinson (the picture page 14).

He was one of a string of four Red Polls from the Lacombe herd which won the following honors: first in the breeders' herd class, third in another end-of-the-line class, third in two-year-old heifer class, fifth in yearling heifer class.

There was strong competition in all classes of the Red Poll breed this year and residents of Lacombe and district congratulate Mrs. Atkinson and son Don on their fine showing.

Council Plans Four Outside Rinks in Town

It took the town council an even minute over two hours to rumble through a heavy agenda at the regular meeting held Monday evening. Among the matters dealt with:

• Agreed to check into the possibility of landing an outdoor skating rink on 49 street in the Pozzos sub-division. Councillor Henry Salomons reported that three outdoor rinks were already planned, one on 48 street, one near the hospital, and one half a block west of 50 avenue, west of the C and E trail.

• Agreed to advertise for sale the present loud speaker equipment from the LMC if this equipment is sold, council will purchase new speaker equipment for the building.

• Councillor Don Dow reported that work will start this week on the new storm sewer extension estimated cost, about $60,000. The new extension sparked considerable discussion as to engineer's fees and supervision. Engineers required and the supply

• Council terminated contract with Fort Construction for the sidewalk, curb and gutter project. An estimated 75% of the work was completed before the crews shut down for the winter. Finishing the contract will permit the town to issue grants on work completed this year.

• Received letter from the county of Lacombe stating that the county is not interested at this time in purchasing any of the McInerny property west of 50 street and south of 50 avenue. (District planning commission had suggested this land might be used in future for an elementary school.) Action by McCloskey showed interest in sub-division of the property; town council contact all the county to ask if they were interested in the land as a possible school site in the future.

• Passed a by-law authorizing expenditure of $5,350 from town coffers for establishment of a centennial park, at a total cost of $15,000. Balance of the money ($10,650) will come from the joint provincial-federal grant for centennial purposes.

• Vending machines — particularly the popcorn machine in the arena are causing considerable noise, and a request is now agreed that [illegible] ing machines, and see that the popcorn machine is taken out this [illegible] but are subject to licensing, ($5 00 per year) Legal opinion will be sought on this because before action is taken.

• Ordered two new Canadian flags — one for the Lac Ste. Anne park, the other for the arena.

Ivy Roads Cause Oil Intersection Accident Sunday

Extremely icy road conditions were blamed by police for an intersection accident Sunday which saw a 1959 Chevrolet sedan driven by Mrs. Glen Poston damaged to the extent of $600. The car was in collision with a 1962 Land Rover, driven by Christopher Tyndgett of Red Deer.

The accident occurred at the intersection of 49 avenue and the C & E trail. Police investigated. No charges were laid.

F. G. Langrock, District Pioneer Dies at 71 Years

Funeral services were held last Friday for the late Frederick George Langrock, well known district old-timer, who died in a Lacombe hospital on Wednesday, November 17, 1965. He was 71 years of age.

The deceased was born in Alsask, Saskatchewan, on 1894, and moved with his parents — the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Langrock — to the Lacombe district in May, 1906.

He married the former Lottie M. Reeves of Lacombe on May 15, 1918, and the couple farmed in the Lacombe district for 41 years. They retired in December, 1959, and took up residence in Red Deer.

The deceased was a member of Gaetz memorial church in Red Deer, and a member of the Lacombe old timers' association.

He leaves to mourn his loving wife, one son, Donald of Lacombe, two daughters, Lorraine of Red Deer and Mrs. David Hand of Lacombe. There are eight grandchildren, one brother and three sisters.

Rev. R. H. Thackeray and Rev. R. Oilling officiated at the last rites held from St. Andrew's United church at Lacombe. Pallbearers were R. E. Evans, J. MacDonald, A. Knox, S. B. Rostchuson, G. Brent and G. Perkins.

Honorary pallbearers were A. Ehrt, J. Hamilton, L. Lowther and R. Hand.

Perkins and Kirkman funeral chapel of Lacombe were in charge of arrangements.

Former Resident Accident Victim In Ontario

Gerry Davidson, 23, former Lacombe resident, died in an accident at Toronto on Saturday, November 20, 1965. Details of the fatal mishap are not available.

The deceased was born in Bridgeburg, Ont., and lived in Lacombe for 23 years where he received his education before attending the university of Alberta.

He worked in a bank at Lacombe, and later went to Toronto where he was an employee of the forestry department. He lived alone one year on Toronto attending business college.

He is survived by his wife, Mavis, of Toronto, one daughter, Cassa Joy, one year, parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Davidson of Lacombe, and paternal grandmother, Mrs. McFadden of Lacombe.

Funeral service is being held from Preston and Kirkman chapel Thursday afternoon at 2:00, with Rev. D. S. Thackeray officiating.

Pallbearers will be Elmer Cudmore, Rod Carter, S. Vaughan, H. Kidde, Norman Gilchrist and Lawrence Perrin.

Heavy Damage In Farm Fire

Lost in the flames were the granary and all its contents, including a tractor, truck and used drill. Also destroyed was a granary and several hundred bushels of grain.

The fire of unknown origin broke out in the garage, and was quickly engulfed in the building. They spread to a nearby granary, one of four situated in a row.

Neighbors and friends rushed to aid in fighting the flames, and farmers from Lacombe made two trips with pump trucks to prevent the fire from spreading to remaining granaries.

Fire chief Colin Dalzell, Reginald Cross and Elmer Leithe made the first trip to the farm. After exhausting all water in the farm truck, immediately grocery fire threatened to break out again. They returned to Lacombe, and took out the second pumper to complete the job of killing all the flames.

Curtains Catch Fire At High School

Firemen rushed Saturday afternoon to the Lacombe high school where upper curtains on the stage of the high school auditorium had caught fire and filled the stage with smoke.

Members of the high school choir group were practising on the stage, and alerted Miss C. Wood, home economics teacher who was working at the school.

Firemen rushed to the scene, ripped down the smouldering curtains and closed curtains to see that no more of the fire had disappeared.

HEWLEY ABERA PROGRESSES — Work on the new enclosed arena at the Bentley community park is moving ahead steadily as contractors and volunteers from the village and district continue to work on the project. The above picture was taken last Friday as the heavy crane posts and beams in place over the former open-air rink. The beams were all in place by Saturday afternoon, and volunteers working under contractors' supervision put up the sides and ends Monday and Tuesday. It is hoped to have the entire project finished in less than a week, and then the electricians can go to work," recreational board vice-president Martin Schroeder told The Globe Contract price for the new rink was $27,000. Fund for this building started two years ago when donations of $1500-and-more were made by district farmers, village business men, organizations and individuals from village and district. Support has been widespread, and 32 volunteers were out Sunday working on the rails. "We're working seven days a week," Mr. Schroeder reports, "and although weather will be a big factor, we hope to have the rink usable within two or three weeks." — Staff photo

Weakness in firing power spelled doom for Lacombe Rockets as they dropped two decisions at the Edmonton Junior B Rugby league to 4-2 Wednesday night at Edmonton.

The first encounter saw Rockets go down to defeat 3-1 as they were scored by Al Hamilton after an empty net by Rockets' coach Bob Selinger pulled goalie Ross Gillow in favor of an attacker.

Rockets played well defensively and Gillow was equally terrific between the pipes, but lack of scoring punch up front

Tongue - in - Cheek?

HON A B Patrick member of the legislative assembly for that constituency, dropped a bombshell recently in his suggestion that Alberta boundaries be extended northward to the Arctic Ocean.

He proposed The Yukon should be annexed to the Province, including the Peace River district and that part of the Northwest Territories including the entire Mackenzie River basin; be incorporated into the province of Alberta.

The rest of the Northwest Territories would be left in with Saskatchewan and Manitoba, or left as an independent political entity. Mr Patrick didn't elaborate.

It is not the first time that a provincial official has suggested expansion to the north. Premier Bennett of British Columbia suggested that the Yukon be joined with his province. There were at the time howls of protest from the independent-minded Yukon people.

The same screams of protest have come from northern citizens about Mr Patrick's suggestion. So those who live on Canada's last frontier have never heard of the ability to express essential views about confederation or independence.

The purpose of course must have been same with tongue-in-cheek. For if Mr. Patrick was serious he would not have passed a yawn at time. With the present state of Canada, a minority government parliament any suggestion of a major change in provincial boundaries would be bound to excite passions which would inevitably lead to a political downpour in Ottawa.

Actually Mr Patrick may have done the northerners a real service. By underlining Alberta's interest in the north he may kindle equal interest in federal department of northern affairs, which has yet to show a real initiative and imagination of Canada's last north.

Count Your Blessings

EVERY time Lacombe residents turn on their water taps at home they should offer up a prayer of thanks for the soft cool water they obtain. A bit chlorine-ish at times, perhaps, but a vast improvement over much of the tap water provided in most communities in Canada and the States.

All centres have drawbacks of one type or another — but pure water is not one of Lacombe's. Take Regina for instance and others below the southern Saskatchewan. The water is so poor there that even after it has been through expensive water softeners, it will still curdle soap.

Or consider some of the big cities Los Angeles, San Francisco, Toronto — the only thing in common between water in these cities and in Lacombe is that both are wet. We do like Little Manitoba, heavily steeped in chlorine taste which is no common to other centres

And Lacombe water, for bathing or washing, as a treat. The big danger is not to use too much soap — a person can easily get inundated with suds which overflow the receptacle!

Reflections of the Times . .

Financial Aid to Universities

Fulversity enrolment in Canada in the current year is about 300,000. Ten years from now it is expected to reach 481,000. Total university expenditures were $420 million in the 1968-69 academic year. By 1975-76 they will amount to an estimated $2,052 billion. Those figures from the report of the Bladen commission, made up the university of the province. Canada is facing in the field of higher education.

"From the dawn of the nation it grew, states the report, "Canadians have had, to a very high degree, an abiding faith in education." Such admiration have given us an almost impossible pace a pace which is known to experts as [illegible] shortly. By 1976 more than one in four students from the primary school will be going on to college.

There will be many problems, of course, in finding staff and housing and building schools, but the basic problem will be in finding the money. The Bladen report has many specific suggestions.

The federal per capita grant for operating costs should be increased immediately from $2 to $3 with further increases of $1 annually until after an assessment can be made with the provinces. Quebec would continue to receive tax abatement in lieu of the grant. For capital costs very limited grants of $5 per capita per year to be distributed to the provinces in proportion to their populations.

All told, federal and provincial governments are urged to boost their combined annual aid to universities from $355 million last year to $1,704 million ten years from now.

Can it be done? Perhaps a more pertinent question is, can we afford not to do it? Much hinges on the point repeatedly made by Senator Wishart Robertson — incidentally, a member of the Bladen commission — that there is an urgent need for an source of persons in our public spending.

No Plans Yet For Building

Plans for the proposed new telephone building in Lacombe are still a long way from finalization.

In a telephone interview with Hon. A. R. Patrick yesterday, The Globe learned that government departments have not yet decided on space required in the new building.

Plans for the building have not reached the drafting board as yet, and there has been no decision made as to when building might start.

Mr. Patrick stated that the provincial budget for 1966 has not been made up, and there is no definite announcement at this time that the new building will be included in proposed work for 1966.

Present demolition of the old residence centre is designed only to clean up the property.

HOW YOU SEE IT — This was the Lacombe weekend centre on 50 avenue last Friday morning, as it looked before it was demolished.

. . . HOW YOU DON'T — Then the back hoe went to work wrecking the structure, and by late afternoon the building had been knocked and debris was being burned under supervision. The site is being cleared for a new provincial government building, expected to be built in 1966

When the system is completed, it will provide drainage for the entire area north of 50 avenue and west of 55 street with the exception of the new Miller sub-division north of 56 street

Presenting this work is completed by March 31, 1966 the town will qualify for federal grants to help meet the construction costs

The proud owner is 23-year-old Bill Shaw of Lacombe, who bagged the game west of Rocky Mountain House on November 21 in company with Gordon Farney, and Jack Towle. The length of the antlers measure 51 inches and 18 inches respectively, and the tip-to-tip spread is 38 inches. Under the compilation of Boone-Crockett scoring system, Bill's elk is right around the World's best mark. Alix-Clive 4-Her's Seek New Name

Farmers, Homes Elected!

Because meeting at the Rich Clive tennis property will change formerly the East End Lacombe 4-Hers club was held at the Alix school on Friday November 12 at 8:00 P.M.

Roll call was answered by naming your favorite food.

If Lloydminster, club leader, commented on issue of the Lacombe Globe of the 4-H club leaders conference issue to Edmonton reasons to his also stated that there planned to make decisions on the new by-law. Clubs were best for their town and not for the club leaders, as described at the junior leaders' camp held at Gold Bar Lake Park this past summer.

Appoint Junior Leaders

Mr. Lloydminster then appointed junior members as junior leaders as follows:

Interest in Fat Probe

The following is an excerpt commented about the remarks from the Lacombe experiment at Clive "highlights" and is presented with the "results of an three-year-old steer's fat probe." Mr. Lister, type of work

Basis Fat Probe

Mr. H. Lister advises the use of the meat fat probe for measuring fat cover on the pig was discussed at considerable detail. Since that time there have been many enquiries as to where the probe can be obtained and how it should be used.

First, it should be explained that the instrument now available is more streamlined than that described last year. It is essentially the same principle of measuring of a sharp blade for making the cut through the skin and a short metal ruler which serves as the actual probe. However the blade has been changed from that of wood construction for grip and is now machined for metal ruler passes through the centre so this block directly into the blade. (pic. "B" No. Glade)

Dr. Rahnefeld of the experimental Farm at Manyberries is credited with the idea of describing the use of the bark fat probe. This may be obtained from Canada Department of Agriculture Research Stations or from your nearest experimental farm. Ask for publication 1211, titled "Probing for fat thickness in hogs."

The bark fat probe is only another "tool" and is no substitute. In order to compare animals they should have been raised and fed under the same conditions. In selecting for lean meat breeding rate of growth and soundness (legs, udder, etc.) should be considered as well as potential carcass quality as indicated by the probe

(1) The purpose of probing is to measure potential carcass quality and since the market demands a 120 pound hog, the weight at which probing should be done. Strict adherence to this weight is not important however fat measurements of pigs in the weight range 110-210 pounds can be adjusted to the 120 pound standard by using the correction given in Bulletin 1211

(2) The pig must be weighed when it is probed. This serves two purposes — first as a basis for adjusting the probe measurements to a standard weight and second as a measure of the pig's growth rate.

(3) A single fat measurement will not give a reliable information on carcass quality. Three measurements are required.

Apaches, Jets Win In Broomball

Lacombe Jets scored a one-sided 5-1 victory over Lacombe last Thursday night in the local broomball league.

In the other half of last Wednesday's Apaches also came out ahead to shut out the Flames 5-0.

Bill Fox opened the scoring for Jets early in the first half. It didn't take Lacombe very long to even the count at 1-1.

From then on the Jets seemed to hit and control four consecutive goals, two by Ralph Dix and one each by Bill Sherbino and Harry Wiebelaar.

In the second game, John Mayden opened the scoring for Apaches on a long shot. The winners added an insurance marker as the second half of the game drew to a close.

Tookey and LaPlante were drawn to make a trip with Rocket goalie Ramsey-Iverson and LaPlante responded with a goal at Bentley Tuesday however ended up with a knee injury and will be out of action for a couple of weeks.

Both players entered with Rockets last year, particularly on the trip overseas.

SPORT

Tookey, La Plante Obtain Release

Alberta amateur hockey association last week announced that Ron Tookey and Al La Plante were free to play with the Edmonton Dunsmore despite the fact they had signed play-cards with Lacombe Rockets.

In making the announcement, secretary Jim Pepper said the vote among AAHA officials was decided "by the element of surprise".

Rockets had refused to give the players their releases as the hope they would cut up with the team, but the AAHA ruling has however ended up with a knee injury and will be out of action for a couple of weeks.

Both players entered with Rockets last year, particularly on the trip overseas.

EDMONTON 7, LACOMBE 3

Lacombe Rockets dropped the second game of a home-and-home series with Edmonton Oil Kings by a 7-3 count in the capital city last Friday night.

The winners led 2-1 after the first frame, and upped the margin to 6-2 in the second when they enjoyed a wide edge in play. The teams deadlocked goals in the final 20 minutes.

Scoring for rockets were Ross Brown, Rob Healy and Wayne Gen. For Kings, it was Craig Cameron, Gene Peacock, Gene Ubelhor, Ron Perlich, Ken Anderson, Rod Dregoon, and Doug Harris.

Things could be worse The Rockets could be serious, and they could be playing before an empty house.

The situation is just one step better than this. The team has one win in seven outings, and the game at Bentley attracted but eight to beautiful mild evening. was played before an official attendance count of 215 paid.

The hated Red Deer Chevvies won the contest handily 6-3 and the Rockets were stopped deeper into the basement.

Actually the game had its moments and it's too bad more fans weren't out to cheer the boys. They held their share of play. Only two penalties and a disorganized action is only the blue line cost Rockets more goals.

This is nothing that requires extensive detailed comment and items of the players did not like struggles.

The visitors jumped into a 6-2 lead in the first period, and moved three unanswered goals in the second.

The last 20 minutes saw no less than ten penalties, including four majors for fighting.

Red Deer particularly moved the players box over to the penalty bench at one time with four on simultaneously At that Lacombe could score only one goal with the numpower advantage

Goal-getters were Wayne Gen David Carlyle and Bob Salinger for Lacombe and Cameron and Teddy Donelson with two each for Red Deer, and singles going to Don Bell Jack Bennett, Gene Healey and Harvey Fleming

Just a passing thought Frank Palmer was sitting on the wings in session but he was told not to dress Why doesn't coach Bob Salinger insert him in the lineup?

Speaking of Sport . . .

By Terry Jones

League president and ex Rocket president Garth Wagner sees Drumheller finishing first with lots of room to spare but declined to make a prediction on the remainder of the league "It's a tough one I haven't even heard a game," he said

Rumors are of the Rockets are hoping for a Christmas present in the form of Wes Donelson According to him he might be able to turn out the

... If things in the Bill Hunsperger camp get dull, you can always come up and help chase mice at the press box.

Overheard at the curling rink "Say things about the Rockets, the guys they've got should come to play hockey not to travel to Europe"

The High School Fives

The sports department of CKRD radio, Red Deer came up with a novel idea to pick Alberta high school football league all-stars the other day

They played Bob Stothart Ken Herrington, and Bob Knott on the team.

But it seems to me that a club which managed to finish second in a five-team league should have more than one all-stars out of 24 possible berths.

I would think of four more sure things and a couple of "maybe's" off hand.

Switching to volley-ball, our guys are trying the blues at the YWMBA basketball league Saturday They were drawn in easy company of the second division and still managed to lose.

Mrs. Henderson's girls didn't exactly conquer all either

MVP Awards To Three Players

Bob Stothard, Bill Lewis and Ken Herrington were named as most valuable players on the Lacombe high school fives this year They were tied in voting for best basketballer, while Ken Herrington was voted as the top lineman. Ballots were cast by the football players themselves.

International Interference

O ME of the causes of international resentment is the determination of governments to control the activities of individuals and corporations under their jurisdiction no matter where in the page of sovereign-type on the globe they may be.

Walter Reuther, international head of the United Auto Workers recently stated in Detroit that he is "tired nervous about Canada's complaints about U.S. investments in Canada." He said Canada has a "sovereign right" to control foreign investments.

It is true that Canadian auto workers are making less (even still a lot) so could be argued that these American counterparts don't get an American to drive their car is going to cut Canadian wages to a threat to their entire country's economy.

Why doesn't he, in his own country, demand that Canadian workers get family allowances, medicare and pensions. Why doesn't he demand a 5-day week?

Then subsidies in the Canada auto pact should extend to Canada as well as Detroit, Reuther said. Canada got $1.7 billion last year.

Canada has a sovereign right to control foreign investments, Reuther said, but "it should not be at the expense of the people of the United States."

Canadian labor leaders are quick to point out that many of the branch plants are owned by Americans and that Canada has been told that Canadians should have the opportunity to get a piece of the action in American industry. Let them remain so big that is their own problem, they say.

The Travelling Canadians

CANADA has long become known as a nation of travellers. Figures released by Statistics Canada by the Financial Post. Our $17.6 per capita expenditure is second only to the country travelling type that of West Germany ($17.69) and is more than double the U.S. per capita figure of $11.65.

Travel agents and transportation companies report that an increasing number of Canadians are travelling within their own country. And all this, added yet, with a dollar which is down to 92 cents compared with 93 cents in 1964 currency.

Think what could happen if the Canadian dollar were raised to its premium of 5% over US money. Only Chief Lube would make Canada the "Travelling Canadians" country.

No More Publishing

Two well-known and highly respected men in the publishing business of Canada died during the past week. They were Hugh Eayrs, founder of the firm of Macmillan of Canada, and Jack Miner, founder of the Jack Miner Migratory Bird Foundation.

Now we must make do with what we have, and the first order of priority is not only to preserve the traditions of the house of Macmillan. There must be no more voting on the basis of a 1961 census. The first step should have been the voting through of three members each. One of the very best results of the so-called election is that it has reawakened all partners. The only disappointment is that the Conservative caucus was present in such small numbers.

Let us hope that the Conservatives will be emboldened. If Mr. Diefenbaker does not call another election a year from now, he will be emboldened. If Mr. Diefenbaker does not call for another election, he will not be entitled to the name. But both would go through a shock. That is what the electorate said Monday night. No more pussyfooting.

The electors that nobody wanted turned out to be the electors of all. It was a referendum. It was Parliament versus Diefenbaker. The electors said, yes, we want Parliament enough. The voters wanted service. As to method — those were bored. Forget the absurd lists of campaign promises made by desperate men. They mean no more than last year's resolutions. They looked at the record and they looked at the future and they voted to over-ground as it always has.

The Seed Quite Few

Although a mild spring has a long time until spring, it is a good idea to know well in advance if your seed is going to be unfavorable harvesting conditions have not helped the seed grass crop. Some seed growers, particularly in the western portion of the country, report poor seed germination.

Any of the elevator companies will send a seed sample to you. This is a seed germination test free of charge. An official seed test costs 50 cents per sample but obtained from the purchasing department of the federal department of agriculture, federal building, Edmonton at a cost of $1.50 per sample.

Getting Cattle on Feed

Getting cattle on feed can often be a problem, especially to the inexperienced feeder. Short cattle feeders agree that new cattle brought into a feed lot should be handled as little as possible for the first few days and have lots of bedding and fresh water. Many do not feed anything but straight grain hay for a few days. Any branding, vaccinating or dehorning etc., is done after the cattle are used to the new surroundings.

There feed for days are the most likely to have up and down. Hay or and they should be treated with an antibiotic to stave off any setback.

The old standby of good pasture and alfalfa as feed is by the use of rolled oats being gradually increased each day until they are getting 10 pounds. This oats may take a month to six weeks. Then barley can start to replace oats. Many cattle feeders are finding that 10 pounds of a 35% protein supplement plus 100 pounds of sugar beet pulps to the ton is paying off. The second depends to some extent on the quality of grass fed.

During the past two years, many feed companies have come out with a "starter ration" which is proving very satisfactory. The pelleted starter ration is used at full feed for four days, then a 5% starter ration goes in, being then supplemented with oat hull feed for two days later, a feed and last mixture of grain and starter pellets is fed for four days, followed by four days of a starter pellets and ¾ grain. At the end of this further day period the cattle are on full feed of grain.

Because an "average" accident last year cost $810...a jump of $113 in just 5 years

Automobile insurance rates in most areas of Canada will increase in 1966. Prudent drivers ask why premiums should rise again. Here are the key reasons:

- Every year the number of vehicles on Canadian roads is increasing . . . but the total cost of accidents in the past five years has gone up three times as fast as the number of cars which together must provide the money to pay for these accidents.
- And during the past five years the number of accidents has spiraled much faster than the number of cars that are on the road.
- In that same period the total cost of insurance claims has doubled.
- Since 1960 the claims cost has been climbing at an average of $40 million a year. This year's insurance bill for accidents will total $400 million.
- Each accident costs more than it did five years ago —the result of more expensive and luxurious cars.

Increasing repair costs, higher medical expenses and compensation for loss of work or lost income.

The only way to stop this spiral is to have fewer accidents. That is the best way, too, to cut the tragic toll of 4,000 deaths and 180,000 injuries in Canada each year. Safety pays . . . it saves lives and dollars.

If You Could Reduce Your Accidents

Drivers with a three-year accident-free record earn a 25 per cent discount off basic insurance rates. But even good drivers have accidents. Surely per cent of all accidents are caused by people who have driven three or more years without an accident. That is why the basic rates go up for everyone—even the good driver who still has five accidents.

Set Bussing Policy for Private School Pupils

Question of bussing school children to a possible new private school at Lacombe was discussed at the regular meeting of the county school board meeting yesterday

Secretary Roy Bebbens read the minutes of a meeting which had been recently held between three members of the school committee and a committee of three from the Calvin Christian school society

Representing the county at this meeting were W Lee, A Wigmore and Jack Cookson Representing the school society were George Wezema, W Zandbel and Rosen Leenstra

The private school committee asked that consideration be given bussing of students to a new school in Lacombe if such a school is constructed They stated that consideration was being given to build a two-room elementary (grades one to six) school with approximately 50 students (The school might be enlarged to four rooms at a later date)

They asked if private school students now riding on school buses could continue to do so if they attended a private school rather than a public school in Lacombe

The county committee agreed providing there was no request for additional or lengthier bus routes, and providing bussing of these students in the new year was not required to carry the private school students.

The entire condition, who did not ask or expect changes in routes or longer buses for transportation, agreed

Under these conditions, school committee members accepted this policy

MR. AND MRS. WALTER FLESHMAN

Popular Couple Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Fleshman, residents of this area for nearly 30 years, observed their golden wedding anniversary last Wednesday, December 1.

They celebrated the occasion quietly with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Parker and family in Lacombe.

Mr. Fleshman, 76, and Mrs. Fleshman, 73, are both in good health. Mrs. Fleshman keeps active in the garden in summer and enjoys bowling in winter.

The former Elizabeth Thurston married Walter Fleshman at Stettler on December 1 1915 D. K. C. McLeod a Presbyterian minister, officiated.

Mr. Fleshman came to Canada in 1908 from Ireland, and homesteaded on a farm south of Lacombe.

The couple moved to the Lacombe district in 1929, settling on a farm four miles west of town as Spruceville, which is now occupied by Hank Valenzo.

Mr. Fleshman earned a reputation as an outstanding breeder of purebred Aberdeen Angus cattle. He raised Angus purebreds for 36 years, and during that time won many ribbons at stock shows in Lacombe and other points.

Three of the last prizes he received were Alberta Aberdeen Angus association that began trophy in 1957 the second in 1958 and the third time he showed in 1960, and the grand champion bull in Toss Lacombe show and sale in 1959.

When Mr. Fleshman sold the farm in 1955, cattle from the herds went to the state of Montana. He reserved the house and land lot and raised a few Angus until 1962. The last cow with calf he sold sent for $1,200.

Mr. and Mrs. Fleshman live in retirement on a new bungalow at 5710 - 48 avenue.

Unfortunately, the other two daughters, Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Sheridan are now deceased and were unable to be present for the anniversary. Mrs. Warren (Jean) Wayler of Sainsburg, Pa., and Mrs. James (Margaret) Gordon of Vancouver. There are six grandchildren.

Rockets Edged

By Tony Annett

Lacombe — the up-to town of western Canada.

Just ask any outsider who has heard of this town and the first thing that will come to his mind will either be the Lacombe Lions baseball tournament or the Lacombe Rockets.

The Lions tourney has been heralded as "Canada's biggest baseball tournament" and it attracts throughout western Canada.

The Rockets are known throughout the dominion and in most parts of Europe.

The ball tournament may get its press every, but it doesn't fill those bleachers . . . however, the tourney is of the moment a long way off.

Right now the concern is exactly how the Rockets will be organized next season. They call it "operation Chelsea".

How about choosing your fans at the next home game and give the boys someone to win for?

Are managing to have in one.

In there must be a reason, right?

Probably the most accepted one is that there are not enough players from Lacombe to fill the team.

But the Forty 50'ers are made up entirely of Lacombe players and I haven't noticed anything lacking in their games to fill the player's list.

The only other excuse for not showing well is that the club wants to support a team which at one time this week sported a 1-17 win-loss record.

Two Broomball Teams Undefeated

Apaches and Jets extended their unbeaten string to seven games last Wednesday in broomball action.

Apaches and Lincoln played a close and exciting ball with each team getting their scoring chances. Apaches had a 4-3 edge in play, which showed up in the second half as Bob Hocking scored the only goal of the game.

Jets and Rams also played a tight contest. The only counter came when Hans Spelt went in all alone and made a pass from Bill Bee easily in the opening half.

Lincoln will meet Rams in the first game tonight, and the Apaches will take on the Jets in the second of the town ball

Forshee

FORSHEE. — Don Freeman accompanied by Jack Turnbull and Harry Camp, left Thursday for west of Hinton on a hunting trip.

Most of the district have been doing volunteer work on the hunting rink, and the women have served them dinners and coffee.

Clancy voting on Friday returned in a vet for Earl Anderson.

Mr and Mrs. C A Buggit spent a few days at Alix at the Verne Wren home as Ed Olsen was a patient in the Lacombe hospital.

Mrs. Turnbay is a patient in the Bentley hospital.

"Grandad" at the Bent by school auditorium was a decided success. Congratulations to Elaine Mc-

Shop at Home

Crowds and three days away — and already panic is left among merchants of nearby towns that they could ever do the Christmas shopping but which has yet to be translated into purchases.

There are many people in town and district who wonder why we dwell so much on Christmas getting items. They point their way through the crowds, laden with bargain offers, harassed at the thought of trying to do two days shopping within a few hours.

But there are more residents of town and district who realize that the so-called bargains of larger centres are like a mirage — they can never be found or obtained. These are the people who live close to home. They deal with the merchants who know them, and are free from the haunting fear that shopping habits in town could not be returned.

There are people, too, who know the merchant from whom they buy, and having dealt with him for years, know his service is more than a sales pitch for a fast buck — it is an honest opinion of the merchandise and its quality.

The secret of success in Christmas shopping, then, is to buy at home. There are few gifting items which shoppers require which cannot be purchased or ordered locally — and often at a more reasonable price than that charged in the cities. Be smart. Do your Christmas shopping in Lacombe where you know you get value for your money, and where the pace of shopping is not so frantic.

Pity the Car Buyer

ORDERING a new car these days can be a trying ordeal, for the buyer is being gone when a customer could order a car of a certain make, in sedan or coach style in one of three colors, and know exactly what was coming.

Today, ordering the car is easy. It's meaning up your mind about the options which demands concentration and weakens you with the knowledge that the purchase of an additional instrument(s) if standard, four-on-the floor or standard type; power steering and brakes; power windows; air conditioning; and the old-fashioned heater; windshield washer; and on and on and on.

It is estimated that some car models now come with up to 60 options. Some of the new systems are remote-control trunk locks, telescoping steering wheels, automatic load levelers, power radio antenna and the like.

With no trouble at all, customers can order extras on any given model that will increase the original cost of the car by one-third or more.

As tough as it might be on the customer, it is even rougher on the dealer. The dealer wants a representative stock of new cars on his floor. But what is he going to order for an unknown customer? What color? What upholstery? How many of the expensive options.

And so it goes. The modern procedure for options at automobile time has reached astronomical proportions. Both the customer and the dealer are worn out by the time they have finished discussed, priced, accepted or rejected the choice.

China and the UN

HISTORIANS of the future will have a fertile field for philosophizing in the games he takes on international affairs of the United States consistent opposition to membership of Communist China into the United Nations.

Last week, for the 15th time, the United States delegation to the UN successfully led the fight against admitting Communist China a seat in the United Nations.

The US brings forth many arguments to substantiate its stand, but few of them face the facts of life as they exist today. Consider Nationalist China, for instance. By no stretch of the imagination can the stand-pat government protend to represent 700 people or the largest populated and most in the world.

China is governed by the communists. We might not like it. We might detest it but it happens to be a fact. And the United States does little to enhance its public image as a clear-thinking democracy when it insists that Nationalist China should have recognition over that of China proper.

Lack of Imagination

THERE is a singular lack of imagination being shown across Canada as municipalities rush to compete plans for their centennial projects. With federal and provincial funds available on a two dollar for-one dollar of municipal contributions, cities are rushing to get under the deadline date (December 31, 1966) for assistance.

As a result, it seems certain that by 1967 this country will have its quota of pools, playgrounds, swimming pools and community halls if not air the favorite cries across the country.

None of them are imaginative as a memorial to the first 100 years or a country which was built in desperation and has survived a century of passive tolerance, racial and language divisions, wars and depressions to make a place for herself in the community of world nations.

For the sad truth remains that most municipalities have agreed to join the bandwagon party only for the profit which a facility, bring the community. However worthwhile a swimming pool, curling rink or park might be, none have any real significance or historical symbolism to mark a centennial.

As Canada reaches its 200th birthday, it is most unlikely that many of the projects planned at this late hour will remain to mark the true greatness, power on the type of nation forged by its pioneers.

Moreover well meaning the federal and provincial governments might have been in their enthusiasm, grant structure, the result has been disappointing from the viewpoint of enduring memorials.

Reflections of the Times

Ustain Subsidy

Not all educators would agree but Dr. Claude Bissell, of the University of Toronto, says that there would be a sound argument against subsidizing university tuition fees if governments or private donors would make up the lost income.

In any case it would be the taxpayers who would foot the bill for the loss and on this point the report of the Hayden commission argues that such a subsidy to tuition would be unwise. If the whole cost of running the universities were borne by the state, the taxes paid by those young men and women who by necessity or choice do not go on to universities but enter the labor market would be put to serious an investment in time to be made. Would those who of those so favored be only over their fellows commanding higher incomes as a direct result of this investment?

A university enrolment is soaring, but it will be many years before more than a small proportion of youngsters go on to college there are about 300,000 college students in Canada in the current year, some 20,000 more than a year ago, but total high school enrolment is over 1.2 million. Surely those who can afford the advantage of higher education should pay for that advantage.

The question of free tuition," Dr. Bissell astutely commented, "has been exploited into a great mythical battle between students and administrators. The real question, which the Hayden commission recognizes, is to make sure that there is adequate student aid and to ensure the free accessibility that is recognized as a basic principle."

Sugar and Spice

. . . by Bill Smiley

Boy there's nothing like a sad I love a band and had to work and in the evening relax Inish.

you Every so often regal with the tension of one chore losing my temper and I sang up the budget long enough to clear the winds and have a swing ding.

At most last week end, we had a good excuse for a swing ding. Our hall, the Scandinavian Hall, always enjoyable whose dinners are extraordinary and dancing is no exception. It is a small hall, but we'd squeeze in and make a passing the wall rule. Usually it works.

Everything seemed well at Swiss farm, swing ding went according to plan. We got gone from the stage and sound to the ladies for the Three Swings.

Right before I had a small pet. I wanted to do a farm-style dinner, a get-together with a dance at the end. I even had an honest-to-goodness pig-out passenger a sum-bitch, and her husband Ole.

I was glad I'd picked on failing as the dance. The first hour trip was a bit slow but from 12 midnight to 4 a.m. it was a real 4 o'clock rock. Even Ole and his wife were hot kicking. Excitedly.

I danced and danced. The girls were a dream-boat. I tried a combination of coffee drinking and dancing half of the dog, which tasted rather strong — during ding. Boiled swing-ding.

Before I knew it, the night was over. I went home to bed, but there was certain eager to take a look at it. I'd always had things we hadn't time or money for. Hugh bright eyed, bushy tailed and broke.

Lunch For four $12.50 Had promised Kim she could buy a guitar with the money she'd earned pairing eggs at church. Went to music store. Went right through half-hour of 70 adults sweet playing 78 musical arrangements simultaneously.

Vowed to one of those world record stores, to push up Bob Dylan record and the latest Rolling Stones album with my money. I stood outside and watched the hoods go in. With-

Remember back to hotel. All hands to guitar. Fix up faces from by cab to buy room for budget busy. Loading main thing.

Fly to theatre Thrill to begin. Avoid turnstile row about waiting dancing with old fashioned flames. Take seats in front. Settle down to get in comprehension which lasted until darkness.

Let's remember Kim did and what I'm not ready for that is recognizing time. Stunned by hitting screen in middle of speech. Wake up to theme announcing new movie under the name of Hugh and Lucy thing.

Can't sleep with hollow ache of realizing I'm not going to get drunk and drunk next week laughing singing shouting.

Four hours a on the old woman at once is music heart at her throat. Imagine her trip. Impossible. Below is the fun that I delight in. Once are at Frances. Seems there was a time in the next room where the drunks were. Try to sleep.

Seven fifty a.m. Kim wants action. A fresh breakfast anything. Start at her. Nine a.m. church house street car. Nothing to do. Snarl at weather report.

Old Ballinger can't sleep. At 9:30 a.m. he's learned liberties of kid's performance of pre-noon evening. At 10:30 Kim starts hinting about going to a movie. At noon. the day is up hungry broke.

I suggested cheap lunch and home. Voted Everyone wants Chinese food. Swinging Chinese dinner at four p.m. Sunday afternoon. Try it. $12.00. Check it out. Leave on looking lonely. Blooms eyes. Dad drives 100 miles home through the lights. Glare of 7,000 drunken deer-hunters heading back to city.

Everyone sleeps on way home. Dad wheels into garage, hangs out. Lies flow of garage. Nothing like a swing-ding in the city to give you pep from smallborn nerves.

Well Known Young Bentley Man Wed at Sylvan Lake

Assumption church at Sylvan Lake was the scene on November 13, 1993 of a double-ring ceremony when June Margaret Nelson was united in marriage to Paul Peter Herrath.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Nelson of Rocky Creek, and the groom, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Herrath of Bentley.

The bride's two grandmothers, Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Fred Nelson were here, with Uncle Clarence and marriages of both ceremonies.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of bridal white "I do taffeta, with sheer lining bodice featuring a scoop neckline and big puff sleeves.

Double pointed pleats accented the waist of her softly contrasted carriage skirt, which flowed to the back in a detachable shaped train. Sprays of fine net poppies that highlighted the neck and waistline, and accented across the skirt.

Her shaped veil was of imported illusion tulle, held in place by a matching motif of pearls and Austrian crystals. Her only jewelry was a marquise pendant cross, set with a single diamond, an heirloom gift from her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Betsy.

She carried a white prayer book with streamers knotted with red sweetheart rosebuds.

The bride's attendants were Miss Julie Nagy, her cousin, and Miss Judy Orr of Red Deer. They were identical street-length dresses of hot pink, lace and organza over taffeta, featuring bell sleeves and scoop neck lines.

Their matching short veils were held in place by a large single rose of the same color, and they carried colonial bouquets of white flowers, centered by some of the valley.

Attending the groom were Messrs. George Cumma and Willie Pagnell, with Wayne Zalasinske as usher. The soloist, Mr. Richard Kester was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Kester.

Father Sullivan asked the blessing and Mr. Floyd Nelson, uncle of the bride, acted as toastmaster.

A toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Bevin a. Bland and responded to by the groom. The groom proposed a toast to the bridesmaids and the response was given by Mr.

Council to Prepare New Bylaw for Urban Dog Control

Transcription of statement was move into the field of dog control at the regular meeting held at council chambers Monday evening.

It is the first time we've had such detail dog control, Mayor Wes Jackson remarked as Frank Lang undertook to read, as full a copy of the city of Edmonton by-law. With minor changes, it could be applicable by any town

• Section 1 sets out dogs terms of which are to run at large in the city. A five dollar penalty clause for violation is called for in section 2 for the owner pays by the impound ticket by the dog is impounded, minimum charge is $10.

• A rune in dog licenses from $2.00 for males to $10 per year and for females, from $10 to $20 per year

But the by-law run into rough going Councillor Jr Kerrick thought it contradictory that a person of pleasure Oth.

• Section 3 — Mayor Jackson stated "it all very fine to make regulations, but it's another thing to enforce them." The city by law calls for a register purchased and a pound-keeper Mayor Jackson asked "Do we need

Councillor P Alberg whose committee prepared introduction of the by-law admitted minds pretty cumbersome "The matter was briefly left and the committee will try to bring in a more simplified

Councillor Dow noted that the pleasure of the impound program kept within the amount budgeted costs of the annual five-year project set up two years ago by town council

He asked for — and received — approval from council to let the town consulting engineers to draft plans, specifications and estimates for all the work.

"In the past," councillor Dow explained, "we have found it time to carried our road improvement work I would like all details tied up so that we can call for tenders no later than April 1966."

Also discussed in connection with the proposed 1966 program was the method of "unit rate" frontage charges for local improvements. Council will be made to change the present local improvement benefit policy which have been used in the past to calculate frontage taxes.
